 WAKE COUNTY
 IN THE SUPERIOR COURT BEFORE THE CLERK
THE MATTER OF MARY T. LOCKLEAR, an incompetent, By Mechanics and Farmers Bank, Guardian.
 TO: The Honorable J. Russell Nipper, Clerk of the Superior Court.
 Under and by virtue of an order of the Honorable J. Russell Nipper, Clerk of the Superior Court of Wake County, dated January 22, 1968, which order was entered in Special Proceedings 9985, entitled "In the Matter of Mary T. Locklear, an incompetent, By Mechanics and Farmers Bank, Guardian," the undersigned Guardian will on Thursday, February 22, 1968 at 12 o'clock noon, bring to courthouse door, the Davis Street entrance to the Branch Banking and Trust Company Building, Fayetteville Street, Raleigh, North Carolina, offer for sale a public auction to the highest bidder or bidders for cash the following described tract or parcel of land located in Raleigh, North Carolina and more particularly described as follows: to-wit:

Lot situated in the City of Raleigh, on East Lenoir Street, being Nos. 583 and 585 on said Street beginning on Lenoir Street at the corner of the lot formerly owned by Mrs. Rufus Daniel, running north with the line of the streets lot about one hundred and sixty (160) feet, thence east about seventy (70) feet, thence south about one hundred and sixty (160) feet to Lenoir Street about seventy (70) feet to the beginning of the same being the lot conveyed by Jane Locklear to John Henry Locklear and William H. Locklear by deed dated August 29th, 1893, and recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds for Wake County, North Carolina, in Book 149, Page 187; the said John Henry Locklear having conveyed his one-half undivided interest in the said lot to William H. Locklear, admitted to probate in the office of the Clerk of Superior Court of Wake County, North Carolina, and found of record in Will Book "J", page 231, said office.

This sale will be made subject to a Deed of Trust executed by Mary T. Locklear, widow, to A. J. Harrington and Charles H. Young, trustees, dated one P. 1962, and recorded in Book 1538, Page 593, Wake County Registry. This Deed of Trust secured an original note in the amount of $4,650.00. This sale will also be made subject to all outstanding and unpaid ad valorem taxes and assessments. A five per cent deposit will be required of the highest bidder or bidders. This sale is subject to confirmation by the Superior Court of Wake County.

Chatham Native Appointed In Rockville, Md.

ROCKVILLE, Md. - The Rev. Kermit DeGraffenreid, a native of Chatham County, in North Carolina, was recently appointed to the position of Project Supervisor, for the Montgomery County Community Action Committee.

The youthful minister has been quite active in community affairs since coming to this community and was given the post after having served as a Senior Neighborhood Worker. He began as a Neighborhood Worker in November 1966, in the pilot project with the United Planning Organization.

He will have overall charge of all neighborhood workers and will direct the program, as it relates to investigation of services needed and applied to individuals and groups. He will also be responsible for the preparing of reports, recruiting and selecting program staff and will act as a liaison between the neighborhood worker and the community action policy body.

The Rev. DeGraffenreid was born in Pittsboro, the son of Mr. & Mrs. Jessie DeGraffenreid, who now live in Raleigh. When his family moved to Raleigh he remained with his maternal grandparents, Rev. & Mrs. L. W. Ellis. He completed his elementary and high school work in his native country and is a 1960 graduate of North Carolina College at Durham, holding a B. A. degree in sociology, with a minor in music. He received a B. D. degree from Hood Theological Seminary, Salisbury, in 1963. He has studied at Wesley Theological Seminary of American University, Washington, D. C. and has also continued his study in music.

He is married to the former Guytana Horton, also of Pittsboro. They have one daughter, Keisha Clintnett. Mrs. DeGraffenreid will be remembered as a writer for the CAROLINIAN, a Raleigh newspaper, during his high school days.

Shaw Prexy Said Among Outstanding

Shaw University's President, Dr. James E. Cheek, has been selected for inclusion in the 1968 edition of Outstanding Young Men of America, according to information received this week from M. W. Davis, editor. Selection for this singular honor is made by a 14-man National Board of Editors.

According to DR. CHEEK she was her high school days. She was also editor of the college paper, at North Carolina College, while a student there. She is the daughter of Rev. and Mrs. R. V. Horton, Sr., also of Pittsboro.

The DeGraffenreids came to Rockville in 1963 when he was appointed to the pastorate of Clinton AME Zion Church, where they have done an outstanding job.

He is president of the Washington District Ministers Alliance of the AME Zion Church. He is a member of the Rockville Civic Center Commission, The Advisory Board of the YMCA, Suburban Maryland Fair Housing, the Montgomery County TB and Respiratory Society, Rockville Citizens Social Action Group, the Rockville Ministerial Alliance, NAACP, Omega Psi Phi Fraternity, and numerous other Civic Organizations. He is one of the founders of the Community Youth Improvement Association of Rockville.

Recently Rev. DeGraffenreid was appointed to the Personnel Board of Rockville. This appointment was made by Mayor Frank Ecker with the unanimous approval of the Rockville City Council.

The Personnel Board, functioning for the first time in Rockville, will study and attempt to correct all cases of employer - employee grievances existing in the city.

YOU ARE THE DETECTIVE
 You are talking with Bob Harkness, manager of the supermarket, who has reported the robbery of more than $7,000 of the grocery's receipts.

"He was a big, tall fellow... looked like he weighed well over 200 pounds. I couldn't see much of his face... he had a broadbrimmed black felt hat pulled way down over his eyes, and he was wearing a dark brown topcoat, buttoned right up to the neck, with the collar up and covering the lower part of his face. He was also wearing crepe-soled sport shoes, and I guess that's why I didn't hear him come into the office behind me."

"Just how did it happen?" you ask Harkness.

"Well, I was sitting here at my desk in the office totaling up the receipts when suddenly I heard this voice behind me tell me to put my hands up. I glanced back and saw him standing there just inside the door with a gun in his hand. I got my hands up fast, then he told me to get up from the desk and move over against the wall." Then, calm as you please, he lit a cigarette, placed his gun down carefully on the desk, and proceeded to scoop all the bundled-up currency on the desk into a black attache case he was carrying. Then he ordered me back to the chair, stuffed a big handkerchief into my mouth, waved a hand at me in a mocking sort of goodbye gesture, and slipped out the door. It took me at least ten minutes or so to work myself loose from the rope -- then I phoned you."

"Is there anything else at all you can tell me about this robber that might help us to identify him?" you ask.

"Well, he had sort of an air of culture or refinement about him, spoke in almost a pleasant manner and in a very nice-sounding voice. He was well dressed, too... clean, white shirt, blue paisley tie... and, oh yes, this might help you, too -- he was wearing a tie-clip with the initial 'F' on it."

"You gaze reflectively about the little office for a minute or so, then ask, 'Are you insured against this loss?'"

"Oh sure... the boss won't really be losing anything at all."

"On the contrary," you then say, "I think your boss WILL be losing something -- one store manager! I suspect this robbery was framed by you?"

What has led you to this conclusion?

SOLUTION
 Bob Harkness told you originally that the robber was wearing a topcoat buttoned up to his neck, with its collar up and covering the lower part of his face. Then later, obviously due to his over-eagerness to divert any suspicion from himself, he described the robber's white shirt, tie, and the initial on his tie-clip. He surely could not have seen these items underneath the buttoned-up topcoat.

BURL ALLEN'S INK TONGUE

Many individuals are very UNSUCCESSFUL valentines. Perhaps they GIVE too much or not enough; Perhaps they take too much or not enough.

These and other errors happen too easily when the two-some are not intimately mutual; when they are not generally compatible. THE ONLY way to love well is to love WISELY-- to be a WHOLESOME lover by first becoming a wholesome PERSON. How can a love affair be RIGHT for two who are WRONG for each other?

Make knowledge and wisdom a part of LIVING and LOVING. Yes, be a SWEET valentine; also be a DISCREET valentine. Search widely and choose wisely:---

Give your CREATOR the SOUL of you,--
 The WHOLE of YOU;
 Give your vocation the BRAIN of you,--
 The MAIN of you;
 Give EVERY creature a SHARE of you,--
 The CARE of you;
 Give me the PASSIONATE part of you,--
 The HEART of you.

Queen Named For Valentine

Winners in a contest to select a Valentine Queen for 1968 have been announced by the St. Augustine A.M.E. Church in Clayton. The Valentine Queen is Beverly Creech, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Griffith. Violet Clark, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lattie Clark, was first runner up and Vickie Lee, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roosevelt Lee, was second runner up. All of the contestants live in Clayton.

The contest was held Sunday night in the Cooper Elementary School building. Proceeds will go to the building fund of the church.

CARD OF THANKS
 Mrs. Janet Morzan Marchena, the daughter of the late Mrs. Carrie Morzan Dawson, wishes to thank and express her gratitude many kind expressions of sympathy and appreciation to all neighbors, friends and organizations for their many kind expressions of sympathy during her recent bereavement.

WANTED - Washington: William Garrin Allen II (L) and Charles Lee Herron (both shown in recent FBI photos), two of five men allegedly involved in the slaying of one police officer and the critical wounding of another on Jan. 26 in Nashville, Tenn., have been added to the FBI's list of "Ten Most Wanted Fugitives." When the two officers attempted to stop a car allegedly occupied by Allen, Herron and three accomplices, they were cut down by shots from a high-powered rifle. Both men are considered armed and extremely dangerous. Anyone with information concerning either Allen or Herron should immediately contact the nearest office of the FBI. (UPI PHOTO).

EDUCATION ROUNDUP

FULL, EMPTY
 OMAHA, Neb. - Transfer of students from an overcrowded school, rapidly becoming predominantly Negro, to a nearby under-utilized almost all white school has been demanded by the Omaha NAACP branch, with the support of the national office. The schools are only 15 blocks apart. The white school has empty classrooms, whereas classes at the other school are being held in seven small private homes because of insufficient classrooms in the school building.

THE CAUSE
 CHICAGO - Hard-core unemployment of undereducated young men and women is resulting in slum violence that support of the United Negro College fund, can offset, according to John T. Comer, president, Allied Chemical corporation. Addressing a UNCF luncheon Comer -- former U. S. Commerce secretary -- said the fund can help an "unsteady nation land on its integrated feet."

SCHOOL VIOLENCE
 MILWAUKEE - Racially-inspired violence has broken out at schools in this city and New Haven. The local disturbance, at North Division High School, grew out of charges that notebook on Negro history was used. In New Haven, five students were arrested at racially-tense Lee High School, after fist fights between Negro and white youths broke out in the cafeteria. Earlier inter-racial fighting had erupted at Hillhouse High School.
