men who may choose to avail themselves of these services. While it is true that this entertainment is offered to the public which is free to exercise its choice, it is also true that owners of business owe their patrons certain responsibilities. Among them is the obligation of maintaining clean, healthy and safe premises upon which these services are offered.

We are hereby serving notice on this establishment and the general public that these conditions will no longer, under any circumstances, be allowed to prevail. The support of the black community is unmistakably committed.

cial desegregation and integration serve to minimize - and such. The story of those who helped to clear the forest, drove the herds of the west, composed the spiritual, preserved Negro folklore and gave their lives for the protection and promotion of their country must not be forgotten.

Speaking further, concerning purposes and the task of the colleges, he stated that, "there exists a great demand for the extension of higher education to hundreds of thousands with neglect potential as well as others with acceptable achievement records measured by limited educational measurements who are often in roles of leadership."

In conclusion, President Duncan stated that "Support rather than survival should be the of the major objectives of the predominately Negro institutions of higher learning today, because of its continuing contributions to American democracy and higher education. In this matter the extent of the separation of church and state nor the imbalance of public and non - public institutions should be ignored.

"For beyond this, the predominately Negro church related institutions and other non-public institutions can become increasingly the strongholds for the protection of academic freedom and democracy for all educational institutions and the further extension of social advantages to the disadvantaged."

involved are strangers to the police.

Mrs. Winters, whose former address was on E. Jones St., was charged September 5, 1966 with assault with a deadly weapon; Nov. 6, 1960 with engaging in an affray and disorderly conduct; April 12, 1962 with disturbing the peace; Nov. 15, 1963 with being drunk, disorderly, assaulting an officer and resisting arrest; Sept. 7, 1964 with disorderly conduct; and finally on May 2, 1968 with murder.

Garrett, whose home address is listed as 209 W. Academy St., Garner, was jailed on March 4, 1964, on a charge of shoplifting; March 13, 1967, a warrant was issued charging larceny; and finally on Feb. 9, 1968 with abandonment of his wife.

POOR MARCH

King said, "It may be that these people will be Louisville permanent guests, if the city does not chip in to pay for the food lodging and transportation.

In Marks, Miss., where the other phase of the Campaign is organizing about 700 persons were slated to depart by chartered buses Wednesday for a four day trip to the nation's capitol. This group is the main body of a crew that will construct a tent Shantytown in Washington to house the marchers, due to converge there this month from various places around the United States.

A mule and wagon train is set to leave Marks Thursday, carrying over 2,500 black people. According to reports, a large number of the marchers plan to stay in Washington, leaving their Mississippi homes for good.

responsibility may be unquestionable. This condition contributes to increasing bitterness and distrust between the races and is detrimental to the long term development of our community.

"HOME is a nonprofit, non-partisan organization of Raleigh citizens dedicated to equal opportunity in housing. HOME believes that enforced segregation in housing by race is both morally indefensible and detrimental to the development of our society. It further believes that most citizens acknowledge enforced segregation as an injustice, and given a chance to express themselves, would welcome all responsible citizens into their neighborhoods. Full and complete participation in the productive life of the community cannot be expected from any citizen without full and complete access to its benefits. Therefore, HOME seeks to develop public support for equal opportunity in housing and to assist Negroes in securing housing in all areas of the city."

With the passage of the Fair Housing Provision of the 1968 Civil Rights Act, HOME believes that there are many concerned citizens who would like to see Raleigh become a model city in righting the injustice of racial discrimination in housing. HOME would like to be one of the agencies for bringing this about. It is now searching for sellers and buyers who would like to buy or sell on a non-discriminatory basis. Persons who are interested in buying or selling on this basis, or who are interested in supporting and becoming a part of the work of HOME, or are interested in more information about HOME, are invited to call its chairman, Theodore J. Weeden, 834-3984, or Romallus Murphy, 828-9524, or write HOME, P. O. Box 12134, Raleigh, North Carolina 27605.

gates had planned to stage a sit-down strike in the middle of the nite in protest to these alleged improprieties.

A letter, is said to be on the way to Mayor Minges, who welcomed them to the city and told them that should they encounter any unpleasantness, that they should notify him. A letter of protest is being sent to the Headquarters of the Worldwide Inn, setting forth, the discomfort these delegates are said to have undergone while guest in the famed motel rooms.

The North Carolina Beauticians were shaken by the treatment they received in view of the fact that Holiday Inns throughout the Nation have long since gained the reputation of satisfying its customers, regardless of race, creed, or color.

both sons of former Governors of the Tar Heel State - J. Melville Broughton, Jr., and Robert W. (Bob) Scott.

Hawkins polled 91 percent of the votes in one Raleigh precinct, while he only received 42 percent of those registered to vote.

One Raleigh attorney, George R. Greene, was among some eight persons who will seek a run-off election for District judge.

The combination of the relatively small Negro turnout and Broughton's failure to pick up support from those ultra-conservative backers of Dr. I. Beverly Lake four years ago, seemed made to order for a Scott victory.

Mrs. Eva Clayton, civil rights leader, was defeated by L. H. Fountain, seeking his ninth term in a Tarboro race for Democratic Congressman. Her defeat is attributed to an active,

"Something Out Of Nothing"

If you make "something out of nothing" as easy as it seems Then you will distinctly determine, What this simple phrase will mean.

Just as much as telling, the time of day, Telling time by watch or clock Is the most convenient way. But if you think it's harder Then do it as you may.

Take a ladder to climb the highest mountain, A sail by boat across the cool-born sea. It takes time and patience, and a willing try, To make "something out of nothing," you see.

It takes shoes to protect and secure our feet Just as challenge and energetic champions to defeat. It takes a match to start a fire Just as a pole to hold the wire.

It takes a man to build a home, Let not the woman be left alone. It takes books to gain the knowledge Even along with going to college.

It takes a seed to make a sprout As a gate or a door, to let one out. The man who will labor-tough, Will constantly find, some good results.

It's not the great big things that count, It's only just the small amounts Which come together to make big things, That show how much that something means.

But if you make "nothing out of nothing," Then don't expect to see That "Something Out Of Nothing," That you thought that it would be!

TAKE THE LEAD

CHICAGO (UPI) - Whitney M. Young, executive director, National Urban League, would like to see "the business men lead the way in finding solutions to the controversial issues of the times." Speaking to the annual meeting of the Economic Club of Chicago at the Palmer House, he said, "I know of no other institution that has a greater stake in society than the business community. Involvement in racial issues will not only further your own interests, but also help to cleanse the international image of this country as a white racist nation."

Women Who Have More Fun!
...Have Electric Dishwashers!
Springtime is fun time—no time to waste doing dishes while the family is out whooping it up. If you spend more than ten minutes at the chore, you need an automatic electric dishwasher.
An electric dishwasher will do the whole job, and do it without pre-scrubbing. It'll wash grimy pots and pans just as clean as it washes dishes, and it'll finish glassware spotless. Just load it, start it and forget it.
Buy the "fun for you" electric dishwasher, today! Choose from portable or built-in models at an electric appliance store.
