J. Atkins Sues Forsyth School Board

U. S. Court Asked To Enjoin Bd.

WINSTON-SALEM - Led by J. Alston (Jack) Atkins the status quo of this tobacco town was shaken at its moorings Monday, when a suit was filed in U. S. Middle District Court, in Greensboro, that a federal court administrator North Carolina public schools until separate schools for whites and Negroes are eliminated.

The action of Atkins, a lawyer, who practiced in Oklahoma for a number of years and former secretary of Winston-Salem State Teachers College, in bringing the suit, is said to strike at the very root of the Supreme Court decision, striking down segregation in the schools of the nation.

At the same time, he requested an injunction to stop the school board here from spending nearly $25 million in school construction bonds approved at the polls March 16.

If granted, the injunction would halt construction on eight new school buildings the school system plans to build during the 1968-69 school year. These buildings include four elementary schools, two junior high schools, a vocational education center, and an administrative office.

Architects were hired for the buildings last month.

In his suit, Atkins asked for a three-judge panel to take jurisdiction of the state's schools until "every vestige of separate education facilities" for Negroes is gone. He also challenged freedom-of-choice attendance plans, zone attendance plans, and school (See U. S. COURT, P. 2)

NOT ELATED
WASHINGTON - Hosea Williams, a leader of the Poor People's March, is not as elated as one might expect over the arrest of James Earl Ray in the assassination of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. Interviewed after Ray was seized in London, Williams noted that it had taken months for a white man to be apprehended in the slaying of a black man, while the killers of the late President and Sen. Kennedy were caught immediately.

RETA LIATION?????
CHICAGO - Aaron Myers, 19-year-old service station attendant, was arrested last weekend as one of two Negroes said to have murdered a 51-year-old Jordanian - possibly in retaliation for the assassination of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy. The pair is said to have entered the grocery store operated by Abner Rayyan, put a pistol to his head and fired twice. Myers' accomplice has not yet been located.

ROBBERY
WASHINGTON - When it rains, it pours for the Kennedys, or those closely associated with them. Early Sunday, Lee E. Morrow, 45-year-old personal driver for the late Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, was beset by seven juveniles a block from his home, beaten and robbed. Their loot consisted of a 50-cent piece, personal papers, and three gas credit cards in the late senator's name.

POWER FORMULA
WASHINGTON - "Power will not come to the ghetto until black people become more involved in political action through registration, voting and mastery of the techniques of getting action to resolve the problems that plague the black community." That view was expressed by Whitney M. Young Jr., executive director, National Urban League, who added: "The time has come for the man on the street to use the ballot to get his rightful share of our nation's prosperity. We have to mobilize the black community to flex its political muscles and play a great role in (See NEWS, P. 2)

Famed Ex-Ball Player Proposed For Senate

NEW YORK CITY - A group of "Concerned Republicans," headed by Attorney Thurman L. Dodson, Washington, D. C., last week asked Governor Nelson A. Rockefeller to name Jackie Robinson to fill out the unexpired term of the late Senator Robert F. Kennedy. The group planned a meeting in New York, May 7-8, but postponed same until June 28-29, after the assassination of Kennedy.

Republican leaders from throughout the nation had planned to meet to discuss plans and technique pertaining to the forthcoming Republican National Convention. Dodson was to have been the convener. The leaders did not plan to endorse any candidate, but planned to set the machinery in motion that would give the Negro a greater voice in Republican affairs.

After the meeting was called off Attorney Dodson canvassed these who planned to attend and sent a telegram to the New York Governor, in which he set out that Jackie Robinson was the man for the job and that such an appointment would greatly enhance the image of the Republican party among Negro voters. He set out that Robinson was not only qualified, but possessed the knowledge and know-how that is needed in the August body, in (See FAMED, P. 2)

RESIGNS - Attorney Samuel S. Mitchell, who resigned his post, as assistant judge of City Court Tuesday, after seven months in office. He is reported as having been the first race judge in the history of Raleigh. His resignation was received by the City Council and John D. McConnell Sr., 27-year-old white attorney, was immediately appointed to serve the remaining part of his term.

Accused Rioters Cleared

Three of the four accused looters, who went on trial in Wake Superior Court Monday morning were freed by the trial judge, at the conclusion of the State's evidence Tuesday. One of the accused was not tried due to the fact he turned state evidence at the beginning.

The State charged that Gordon McCullough, 707 S. Saunders St., Jackie Sanders, 808 Manly St., and William Thurman Washington, 419 W. South St., were on trial for the malicious breaking, entering and stealing from The Price Is Right Grocery, 833 Fayetteville St., while Raleigh was in the throes of unrest due to the death of Martin Luther King.

SANDERS Bobby Fred Womack, 17, 924 Rock Quarry Rd., was arrested on the same charge, but was allowed to plead guilty to lesser charge and when it was found that the merchant he was alleged to have come in possession of, as the result of the raid, he was alleged to have come in possession of, as the result of the raid on the store, he was not here out he was freed.

DANNY WILLIAMS Danny Williams, 1921 Rock Quarry Rd., whom police records showed was arrested for failing to obey the curfew, was allowed to go free.

The state attempted to show that McCullough, Sanders and Washington really led the attack on the store and after entering, proceeded to pass out merchandise to other persons. The owner, Joe Lowe, described the condition of his (See ACCUSED, P. 2)

Make You A Place At Home

Andrew Heiskell, Chairman of the Board of Directors of Time, Inc., and Publisher of Life Magazine, told the graduating class of Shaw University Sunday, "You black students who leave here -- you black students who will follow -- face a society whose institutions go hand-in-hand with a history of debasement, discrimination, deceit, hypocrisy and bigotry -- a white society whose affluence is unshared, whose democracy is untrue, whose laws are bent to their advantage, whose justice is weighted in their favor. "Make this society serve you. Take from it the knowledge you want, the experiences you hope, the means by which you hope to press the struggle for human rights."

Speaking in the Raleigh Memorial Auditorium at 3 p. m., the 103rd Commencement orator declared, "The events of the past few days have placed upon this graduating class an (See MAKE, P. 2)

JAMES EARL RAY

Conspiracy Major Clue To Suspect

LONDON - James Earl Ray, 40-year-old fugitive wanted as a suspect in the slaying of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., may have been trying to get to Africa to join the white mercenary forces operating in and around Southern and Central Africa, when he was apprehended last week by Scotland Yard officials.

While Ray was appearing in Bow St. Magistrate court Monday, officials were trying to pin down specifically whether he was the man who telephoned the London Daily Telegraph - calling himself Raymond Sneyd - asking information on how to become a mercenary soldier in Africa, preferably in Angola. He was charged with possession of forged passports and carrying a pistol without permit.

Ray was taken into custody at the airport, where he arrived on a flight from Lisbon, Portugal, to Brussels, Belgium. His arrest came when, for some unexplained reason, he left the transit lounge, and was picked up by immigration officials. So far as it has been determined (See CONSPIRACY, P. 2)

PARTY DISSIDENT - A group of about 100 Negro and white demonstrators, all delegates to the State Democratic Convention now underway here, demonstrated June 6 after their efforts to gain more representation in the national Democratic Convention delegation failed. (UPI PHOTO).

Democrats Still Smarting

Like a tempest in a teapot the howling for so-called equal representation, by Negroes, at the meeting of the Democrats National Convention in Chicago, come August, did not cause as much furor as the dying hours of weakened hurricane Abbey, with the hierarchy of the party.

However Dr. R. A. Hawkins, stormy petrel of the vocal Negro group, is still hammering away.

He called a meeting of the four elected regular delegates, Dr. Lewis C. Dowdy, president of A & T University; John H. Wheeler, Durham banker and often referred to as the most influential Democrat in the state; Rev. P. R. Cousins, pastor of St. Joseph AME Church, also of Durham, and Clark S. Brown, Grand Master of N. C. Masons, immediately after the close of the convention. It was not determined what came out of the meeting.

Lexington Mayor Criticised For Placing Negro

LEXINGTON - Personal differences and racial overtones caused a flareup here Monday night that involved to arch political foes, Mayor Eric E. Morgan and former city attorney, J. Lee Wilson, over the appointment of Dr. Lacy H. Caple, prominent Negro dentist, to the city school board.

Persons close to the situation calculated that the appointment of Dr. Caple was not the real cause, and proved the old saying that people are not really mad over what they are mad about. The trouble started when Mayor Morgan announced that a Negro had been appointed, at a meeting of the Lexington City Council, Monday night. Up to this time the board has been lily-white. Wilson accused Morgan of making an appointment strictly by race and "selling the people of Lexington down the creek." Wilson's stormy remarks came after Morgan had read a list of proposed appointees to a number of city boards and com- (See LEXINGTON, P. 2)

It was definitely decided, by Dr. Hawkins, that the fight had just begun. Following through on his threat to revamp the Democratic party, in the state, the militant leader sent a letter to Attorney Ramsey Clark Tuesday, that there was need for federal aid in the voter situation in North Carolina. He set out saying that there were many irregularities in the May 4th primary. Persons who studied the returns of the primary and the number of votes garnered by Dr. Hawkins, in his unsuccessful bid for the gubernatorial nomination, were chagrined that after all the clamor and shouting over the candidacy of the Charlotte preacher-dentist, he received less than 130,000 votes. Medics In Session Here

The 81st annual meeting of the Old North State Medical Society opened at the Sir Walter Hotel Tuesday, 8 p. m. According to Dr. R. W. McDowell, general convention manager, it was expected that more than 300 persons would be in attendance, representing doctors, dentists, pharmacists and their auxiliaries.

recruitment of medical and paramedical personnel, with an eye on the admission policies of medical schools, operating in the state as they relate to Negro students.

The matter of a closer working program with the Palmetto Medical Society (South Carolina) and the Old Dominion Society (Virginia) will be discussed.

The agenda for the Wednesday morning session included breakfast forums on medicine, surgery, obstetrics and gynecology. Joint sessions will be held throughout the day. Specialists in every field will conduct clinics. Among those appearing are Dr. Ernest Page, Raleigh; Dr. William Sheering, Raleigh; Dr. W. H. Sprunt, III, Raleigh; Dr. C. D. Watts, Durham; Dr. Lester Henry,

Howard University School of Medicine, Washington, D. C.; Dr. Henry Foster, Tuskegee, Ala.; Drs. Moore and Jones, Lincoln Hospital, Durham; Dr. Douglas Zipes, Duke University School of Medicine, Durham and Dr. Charles Johnson, Lincoln Hospital, Durham.

The social activities began Tuesday afternoon when a golf tournament was held at Meadowbrook Country Club. The women engaged in a card party while the tournament was being held. The dance began at 10:30 p. m., in the Virginia Dare Ballroom of the Sir Walter.

The ladies planned a full day for Wednesday. David Coletrane executive director, North Carolina Good Neighbor Council, is the luncheon speaker. A banquet is on tap for Wednesday night, with Mrs. Anne (See MEDICS, P. 2)

DEFACED HOOD
Paul Jones, 1833 Malone Pl., became a little riled Friday when he returned to his car and found the hood marked up. He reported the incident to Officer L. A. Watson. He told the officer that he left the car parked, in a lot, in front of his home, at 6 p. m. Thursday and when he returned to it at 7 a. m. Friday, he found that someone had marked the right side of the hood with a sharp instrument.

VARIETY OF TASTE
Robert St. Clair Turner, 1200 E. Hargett St., found out Friday that thieves are not choosy. He related to police how he left his home at 9:30 a. m. and returned at 1:30 p. m. He found, upon return, according to the report, that someone visited his house, by breaking the glass in the back door. He alleged that a 32 caliber pistol, valued at $50; a larger pistol, valued at $86; a tape recorder, valued at $70 and an electric razor, valued at $32.50 had been stolen. (See CRIME BEAT, P. 2)
