Aims At Brain, He Hits It

HALIFAX - Mrs. Louise Pittman, 41, mother of eight children, and her husband, James A. Pittman, 42, had been separated for several weeks, according to relatives. However, they argued last Saturday morning, he allegedly shot her and is being held without bond on a murder charge in the Halifax County Jail.

Police reports stated that Mrs. Pittman was visiting her brother on U. S. Highway 301 when her husband, driving a pickup truck, pulled into the brother's front yard and aimed a .22 calibre rifle at his wife.

Man Slain Over $1 In Franklin

LOUISBURG - According to Police Chief E. H. Tharrington, an argument over a dollar bill caused one man to lose his life here Saturday night and another to be charged with his murder.

Thomas Earl Dean, 25, and Richard Alston, also 25, both of this Franklin County town, had both "had some words earlier in the evening," the chief said. The incident grew out of one of the men attempting to borrow a dollar from someone.

Link McCarthy Bid To Rights Fight

WASHINGTON - Several black leaders across the country have identified Sen. Eugene McCarthy's Presidential campaign with the black man's own fight for freedom and justice.

These leaders have not only endorsed the Minnesota Senator, but they have also set out to campaign for him.

Among them are the Rev. Albert Cleage, spokesman for Detroit's black militants; Mrs.

Relief Clients In Effort To Wreck Welfare System

NEW YORK - Relief clients are striking back against the "system" by throwing a monkey wrench into its operation.

Their goal is to destroy the present welfare system and have it replaced with a guaranteed annual income.

The clients' tactic is to descend on welfare centers demanding "special grants" for items provided under the law but in practice rarely given out.

These include the "minimum standard" of furniture, household equipment, clothing, and allowances for children's graduation expenses.

Their action has jammed the welfare centers and bogged them down with paper work. Welfare administrative procedures have been broken down, and an ever-increasing amount of welfare funds is being used up in fulfilling the requests and trying to keep up with them.

By camping out at the welfare centers, the demonstrators are putting additional pressure on city officials to do away with the welfare system.

June Franklin, a black state representative in Iowa; and Albert A. Raby, Chicago civil rights leader.

During his address on black power in Detroit, Sen. McCarthy won a strong endorsement from Rev. Cleage, who moved from a stand of noninvolvement in Presidential politics to public support of McCarthy as the candidate of the black voter.

"I would be prepared to campaign for him in the black community on behalf of his support for self-determination," Rev. Cleage said.

"Black power is the only issue I'm concerned about," said the minister. "I don't think Vice President Humphrey in the White House is going to do the black people any good."

At the same time, Mrs. Franklin, in endorsing the Senator, accepted the co-chairmanship of the Polk County (Des Moines) McCarthy for Presidential organization.

Carolinian Newsman On Scene

BY ALEXANDER BARNES
MIAMI BEACH, Fla. - The 1968 Republican National Convention, meeting here this week, is a far cry from previous meets of the GOP, as it relates to Negro representation. In the old days, most Negro delegates, and there were large numbers, were in the bag before they left home, due to the

N. Y.'s Black Panthers Vow 'We'll Defeat Adam Powell'

Adopts 4 Black Kids

WASHINGTON - A white couple in suburban Arlington, Va., have become the foster parents of four black youngsters.

Mr. and Mrs. Barney Bohanan are providing a home for Sharon, 12, and three brothers, David, 9, Charles, 7, and Thomas, 4. The Bohanans also have two children of their own, Bradley, 4, and Maribeth, 8 months.

For Love of Children (FLOC), a private organization, acted as intermediary between the District of Columbia department of public welfare and the Bohanans.

Mrs. Bohanan, who has been teaching in an Arlington Head Start program, said her loss of contact with the Head Start children at night and on weekends prompted her to favor the foster parenthood.

"It would be better to have six full-time children, rather than eight part-time," she said, in explaining why she and her husband took in the foster children.

Raleigh Group Upset Over Prison Stand

A local group of citizens, calling themselves the Committee of Seventeen, have written recently to Governor Dan K. Moore protesting the probability of relocating Camp Polk Prison Camp on the Rock Quarry Road.

The group, who has as one of its spokesmen, Willie Bryant, assistant registrar at St. Augustine's College here, in the letter to the Governor said, "We wish to call your attention to and respectfully request your intervention in the present plans of the State Prison Commission to relocate Camp Polk."

"Several items from local daily newspapers have indicated that Mr. Bounds (V. Lee, head of the N. C. Prison Commission) recommended relocating Camp Polk on Rock Quarry Rd., near two other prison installations, both of which should be relocated. While Camp Polk is undesirable in a white neighborhood (Blue Ridge Rd.), it seems that Mr. Bounds and the Commission think that it is quite desirable, or it does not matter, in a black neighborhood. We wonder if this is the kind of JUSTICE or goodwill toward humanity that should be perpetuated in Raleigh and the State of North Carolina."

According to Mr. Bryant, the Governor did not reply, but a representative of his office did. This is not the first time that the State of North Carolina has invaded predominantly Negro neighborhoods with undesirable building construction.

Conspicuously Absent

(AN EDITORIAL)
This newspaper had an opportunity to look over the Republican Convention on the eve of its opening, in Miami Beach, Fla. It found that North Carolina was not alone in the miserable representation of people of color, as delegates and representatives. There was only one Negro in the North Carolina delegation, R. W. Dalton, Durham, who is an alternate.

The hue and cry has come up from Florida and Louisiana that Negro delegates were mistreated in the election of delegates. A suit was begun Friday to have another slate of delegates seated, from both states, in which there are Negroes. The Republican party of North Carolina has failed to explore this potential and the Negro has failed to push for consideration on the top echelon. This means that the party has left the Negro off. This is a sad commentary for those of us who want a true democracy in the State. It should be remembered that we should not permit ourselves to be caught in the doldrums of ineptness, through the out-moded premise that the white man is going to give us what he wants us to have. That, perhaps, is our most glaring mistake.

We all know that to the victor goes the spoils and unless we be a part of the winning team, in either party, we must be content with the crumbs from a much-filled table. This accounts for the fact that we have no Negroes feeding from the laden political table in North Carolina.

We have a token consideration in the few members of city government, but like former Governor Terry Sanford told a group of Negroes, when they asked that Negroes be given some of the political plums that he had available. He is alleged to have told them that the only jobs left were those that began at $12,000 per year and that was a "white man's" salary.

The time has come when Negroes must demand recognition in both parties. This newspaper dares not tell the Negroes of the State what party they should embrace, but it does say that the Negro must realize that he can no longer put all of his eggs in one basket, especially when it appears that none of them have hatched out in the perennial basket.

Poor Drive To Chicago

ATLANTA - The Poor People's campaign will resume at the Democratic National convention, the Rev. Ralph David Abernathy, SCLC president, has disclosed.

"There will be activities at the end of August. We will be at the Democratic National convention," to begin Aug. 26, he added.

He would not elaborate on SCLC's convention plans.

But there was no denying that the organization founded by the late Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr., would be involved in the convention somehow.

SCLC says it is not endorsing Presidential candidate. At

Local DJ Charged In Shooting

A popular Raleigh radio disc jockey has been arrested and charged with assault with a deadly weapon in the shooting of a Shaw University student last Friday night in the 700 block of S. Mount St., near the New Women's Residence Hall.

Bernard English, 219 Smithfield Street, the Shaw student, told Officer Norman Artis that he was at the girls' dormitory, when Bobby Rogers, 1201 S. East Street, got a gun from his car and shot him in the foot as he walked away from him.

Mr. Rogers told the officer that Mr. English hit him on the head with a chain and an argument began when one of Shaw's male students allegedly unrated inside his automobile.

English was carried to Wake Memorial Hospital where he is being treated for shotgun wounds in the foot. He was unable to talk to officers further when the police report was made and express how his wounds were at that time.

Mr. Rogers informed a CAROLINIAN representative on Monday that he was provoked into taking some kind of action when at least four males, all believed to be Shaw University students, at first blocked his way and prevented him from reaching his car. He said all were advancing on him in a threatening manner.

The person suspected of urinating in the disc jockey's late model car is alleged to be Paul Allen of 508 Branch St. Witnesses were listed as being Leroy Bryant, 1107 Smithfield St., and Claude Cooper, 217 Smithfield St.

The disc jockey was arrested on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon. Trial has been set for Tuesday, September 17, at 1:30 p.m. in City Court.

WINE DRINKER 'LOSES' $150
Walter Lockletter, 31, of Angier, Route 2, reported to two cops at 5:31 p.m. Sunday, that he had been drinking wine with a young man, they left and the man walked with him as far as E. Hargett and S. East Streets.

At this juncture, according to Mr. Lockletter, the man pulled a knife and "relieved" him of the $150 which he claimed to have been carrying on his person. The complainant said he didn't know the name of the man or where he lived, but said he appeared to be about 20 years old.
