

Shaw University Hosting Debating Society Confab

Shaw University is hosting the Annual North Carolina High School Debating Society Conference on April 9 through 18, 1968. Forensic activities slated during the conference will include a creative writing contest, a public speaking contest and other forensic activities such as, play dramatizations, poetry readings, radio announcing and humorous interpretations.

The semi-final and final event (during the conference) were held on April 8. The Annual Awards Banquet, which will highlight the forensic activities, will be held April 18 in the University's Union Ballroom. During the banquet, debaters will receive awards for team debate, creative writing and public speaking. Certificates of honorable mention will be donated by the North Carolina Mutual Life Insurance Company.

All forensic activities will be held in the Shaw University Union Ballroom. The public is invited to attend all activities.

Direct financial assistance to disabled veterans and dependents of deceased veterans totaled $4.5 billion in FY 1968, the Veterans Administration reports.

Howard University Service Honors Dr. King

WASHINGTON, D. C. — "Here comes the dreamer, let us kill him and we shall say that a wild beast devoured him, then we shall see what shall become of his dream."

The Reverend Walter Fauntroy, pastor of the New Bethel Baptist Church, Washington, D. C., quoted from the Scriptures the above passage during a service at Howard University commemorating the anniversary of Dr. Martin Luther King's assassination.

The former vice chairman of the D. C. City Council summarized the story of Joseph the Dreamer (Genesis) to picture what had happened to the "apostle of Non-violence in America", who was felled by an assassin's bullet last April 4 in Memphis, Tenn. The Civil Rights leader was trying to help garbage collectors in that city in their struggle for higher pay.

The tragedy of the assassination exemplifies America's attitude on racism, Fauntroy said. Dr. King was the dreamer, racism killed him and James Earl Ray took the blame", he continued.

The speaker said, "the Nobel Peace Prize winner opposed socialism for the rich and white, and capitalism for the blacks and poor." He pointed out that when "poor peasants" came from Europe, the federal gov-
