Charles D. Marsh, Harnett Principal, Seeks Alderman's Seat In Sanford

SANFORD — Charles D. Marsh, principal of the North Gamett Elementary School, located off Highway 210, between Angier and Lillington, has announced his candidacy for a seat on the local Board of Aldermen.

C. D. MARSH

A native of and lifelong resident of Lee County, Mr. Marsh has served as principal at North Harnett for the past eight years. He will represent the Fourth Ward, a post now being represented by Wilbur (Shorty) Godwin.

If elected, Marsh would become the first Negro ever to serve on the City Board. He holds the B. S. degree in business administration from A&T State University, Greensboro, and an M. A. degree in public school administration from North Carolina College at Durham. He has also pursued courses toward a Ph. D. degree in school administration at NCC.

When queried as to why he decided to file for the Board of Aldermen, the educator said, "I am interested in all phases of the community, and I think that when twenty-five percent of our population has no representation on the city board, we need it."

He formerly served as a principal in Iredell County for ten years. Married to the former Miss Nina Lee of Moncure, they are the parents of one son, Charles Richard Marsh, a senior at the W. B. Wicker High School here. Mrs. Marsh is a teacher of the third grade at the Bonlee Elementary School in Bonlee.

FAPPO Holds Annual Meeting

FAYETTEVILLE - There was an annual meeting of FAPPO at 8:00 p.m. Monday night, April 14, at the Neighborhood Center on Scarbrough St. Officers for the FAPPO Board were elected and a progress report was given.

The progress of the poor in our area cannot begin until all our signed-up members get involved in what's happening.

We have waited all winter long for it to get warm enough for us to start getting ourselves together. Those of us who used "the flu" as a way of not getting involved no longer have that excuse. We should not let what people say FAPPO is doing keep us from coming out to find things out for ourselves.

It is time to stop sitting home watching that white man's T. V. seeing our brothers all over the world doing their "thing" to help better our conditions. We should be tired of waiting for others to get things for us and be wanting it bad enough for us to get it ourselves.

To long the Black Man has not been together. Be Black and come join us in our fight for complete Freedom, Dignity, and Better communities.

Holding Tech Hosts Industrial And Vocation Tutors

Vocational and industrial teachers of the Wake County Schools met last week at Holding Technical Institute for a workshop, designed to better acquaint them with the vocational and technical training available through the Institute.

The program began with a coffee hour, followed by a welcome from Robert L. Brown, Dean of Student Personnel. Robert W. LeMay, president of Holding Tech, then spoke to the group on "The Role of Holding Tech in the Community", after which the visitors were taken on a tour of the school.

Following the tour there was a discussion of the school's programs, admission procedures, etc., and then the visiting teachers were given the opportunity to attend workshops for more in-depth discussion of specific program areas and to observe how vocationally and technically trained individuals can fill the needs of industry and government.
