SCA Elects Its 'Mother Of The Yr.'

Members of the Student Christian Association at Shaw University recently selected Mrs. Lillian Venable Gould as its choice for campus "Mother of the year."

Mrs. Gould is the wife of Lawrence D. Gould, a member of the faculty at Shaw University. They are the parents of two sons, Lawrence, Jr., 5 and Walter William, 3. According to Martin Banks, president of the Student Christian Association, Mrs. Gould was selected because "She exhibits those qualities of motherhood respected and admired by all members of the Shaw Community."

Mrs. Gould, a mathematics Professor at Shaw, will be honored at a special worship service on Sunday, May 11, in the University Church. A banquet will be held immediately following the worship service.

She is a native of Oxford, and received her Bachelor of Arts and her Master of Arts degrees from Flisk University in Nashville, Tennessee.

Prior to joining the staff at Shaw University, she taught at the Agriculture and Technical State University, Greensboro, and at Saint Augustine's College, Raleigh. Mrs. Gould is co-author of a programmed learning Mathematics text currently being used at Shaw University.

Negro History Bafflers

BY NEGRO PRESS INTERNATIONAL

Today's Baffler contains 10 names, followed by 10 expressions with which they are identified. Your challenge is to match the names with the expressions. For example, the name Booker T. Washington would be matched with the expression, "Cast down your bucket."
