Woman, 28, Is Arrested; Mate's Condition 'Fair'

According to the report of Officer James Calvin King of the Raleigh Police Department, Mrs. Lillie Mae Brodie Perry of 216 S. East Street, intended to kill her husband, Willie Lee Perry, same address, when she pointed a .410 gauge shotgun at him and shot him twice. The shooting occurred at their home about 10:30 p.m. Saturday.

One of the bullets entered Mr. Perry's arm, but the other caught him in the face. He has been taken out of the intensive care section at Wake Memorial Hospital and is now listed in a "fair" condition there.

Meanwhile, Mrs. Perry was charged with assault with a deadly weapon with the intent to kill, and taken to the women's section of the Wake County Jail, located at Central Prison.

The officer's report also stated that the shooting took place following an argument between the couple.

A check with Deputy Sheriff

M. L. Bagwell, who was contacted at the jail on Tuesday night revealed that Mrs. Perry did not receive a preliminary hearing on Monday, when brought before District Judge Samuel Pretlow Winborne. However, the judge appointed Attorney Thomas McNamara to defend her and reduced her original bond from $2,000 to $1,000.

Her trial is now scheduled to take place on Thursday, June 12 (See WOMAN SHOTS, P. 2)

SUSPECTED COP-SLAYER SHOT - Memphis, Tenn.: Jesse James Gavin, 23, was transferred from the prison ward at John Gaston Hospital here May 20 to the county jail shortly after the Shelby County grand jury returned a six-count indictment against him. Gavin, wanted in Florida for the slaying of a Miami policeman, was captured and slightly wounded in a gunbattle with local police May 16. (UPI)

Fayetteville's President To Assume Professorship

FAYETTEVILLE - Dr. Rudolph Jones will join the faculty at Elizabeth City State College as professor in the Business Education Department during the coming academic year.

The decision to accept the position at Elizabeth City State College is in keeping with his hopes "of being able to return to teaching in some public institution in North Carolina."

Dr. Jones recently resigned as president of Fayetteville State College after thirteen years as head of that institution. He is scheduled to leave the post on July 31.

Dr. Marion D. Thorpe, president of Elizabeth City State, in releasing this information, remarked, "We are honored, fortunate, delighted, and blessed to have a man of Dr. Jones' ability, accomplishments, intelligence, talents, and qualifications to join us in making this college a fully recognized leader in higher education."

A former high school teacher, high school principal, college dean, and college president, Dr. Jones holds a Ph.D. degree in economics from Catholic University of America.

Senators Want SC Moderator

WASHINGTON - A bipartisan group of 17 Senators last Thursday urged President Nixon to send a federal mediator to Charleston, South Carolina to arbitrate a labor dispute between striking workers and the City, warning that "The Charleston strike is a test of the principle as a strategy for social change."

The Senate sponsors of the appeal, Senator Jacob Javits (R-N.Y.) and Walter F. Mondale (D-Minn.) said that it was signed by Republicans, Case (N.J.), Brooke (Mass.), Goodell (N.Y.), and Scott (Pa.); and by Democrats, Cranston (Calif.), Dodd (Conn.), Harris (Okla.), Hart (Mich.), Kennedy (Mass.), McGovern (S.D.), Muskie (Maine), Nelson (Wisc.), Williams (N.J.), Yarborough (Tex.), and Young (Ohio).

The Crime Beat

FROM RALEIGH'S OFFICIAL POLICE FILE

"SLICED" WITH WINE BOTTLE

Walter Durwood Dawson, 802 S. Blount Street, told Officer J. D. Hedrick at 8:37 p.m. Saturday, that he was at 313 1/2 E. Worth Street, where he was drinking, when a woman named Cindy, "cut me with a wine bottle for no reason at all." Lewis Mitchell, who lived at this address, said "Cindy stays here sometimes." Dawson had a cut in the middle of his forehead. He is believed to have been treated and released at Wake Memorial Hospital for his wound.

CUTS MATE WITH KNIFE

Mrs. Gladys Faye Jones, Route 1, Garner, reported to Officers K. W. Lee and J. W. Wright at 1:55 p.m. Saturday, that she and her husband, Wilbert Lyn Jones, 19, drew a pocket knife and cut Mrs. Jones across the back. She received an eight-inch cut and was treated at Wake Memorial Hospital. No further information was listed on the report.

Fred Evans, Killer, Has 'No Regrets'

CLEVELAND - (UPI) - "I have no regrets," Black nationalist Fred "Ahmed" Evans, 37, declared after being sentenced to death for the slaying of three policemen and a civilian during racial violence last July.

Giving the Black power salute and wearing African-style clothes, Evans asserted that he had "no malice toward anyone, just the reality of the matter." (See FRED EVANS, P. 2)

Ballot$ And Buck$ Make More Sen$e

(An Editorial)

Nobody should have any quibble with petition, dissent or request for change for the betterment for all concerned under the law and with equality and justice for all.

On the other hand, it is the responsibility of every citizen to accept whatever role he can play in maintaining and promoting a peaceful and harmonious climate in which we must all live.

No society or culture can endure with any quality and enrichment for its people if it fails to embody in it a regard for others. The rich must find a spot in their hearts for the poor; officials in any capacity must regard their offices as a trust representing the people and not themselves or a special interest; leaders should go beyond self aggrandisement determining ways and means whereby the people can become aware and knowledgeable about caring for themselves through training and experience. Those of us who may be less fortunate might take another look at how we can better our lot in further training ourselves and our children.

All of us owe Raleigh and its environs the tranquility it deserves. Whether we are buying or selling, petitioning or being petitioned, there is a way to do it. There is no question about inequities among all of us. They should be presented to the proper officials with firmness and fact and solutions sought. However, there is no need for unnecessary belligerency and threats of violence.

Ballots and dollars will go a lot further in deciding the future of the black man's cause. And with this taking firmer root throughout the country, we should become more appreciative of the greater returns awaiting us with continued effort in this direction.

Let's have a cool, progressive and harmonious summer in Raleigh, with progress and growth for all.

BOY, 15, MORTALLY WOUNDED IN N. C. - Burlington; Police watch as ambulance attendants load Cleotis Wade, 15, for the trip from County Hospital here to Memorial Hospital in Chapel Hill, after he was shot in the upper abdominal region during a second night of racial disturbances here May 17. Police, who reported Wade in serious condition, arrested more than 150 persons for curfew violations. The boy died later in the night. (UPI)

For St. Aug.'s Alumni Presidency

TWO CANDIDATES DIFFER

Editor's Note: Robert E. Bridges, an instructor at John W. Ligon High School here, and Peter G. Holden, Sr., New York public relations man, are the only two candidates running for the presidency of the National Alumni Association of Saint Augustine's College. In the following stories, both expressed their views. The election will be held on the Saint Augustine's campus on Saturday, May 24. The expressions follow:

When contacted for comment on the campaign for St. Augustine's national alumni president, Mr. Robert Bridges made the following statement:

"It is the prerogative of any active chapter to place the name of a member in nomination for the office of president of the St. Augustine's College Alumni Association, and to my knowledge I am indebted to the Durham Alumni Chapter for this very generous vote of confidence.

"I have not actively campaigned for the office. Not having previously planned time and direction for this worthy endeavor, I have not seen fit to go out in search of support. However, I feel that there is much need for progressive and active leadership in our national organization and, as I'm sure any other loyal alumnus would, if elected I will do my very best to bring both of these qualities to the national program.

"I am an active member of the local chapter and have been since graduating in 1961. I have served two years as local president. My contributions (physical, mental and financial), to St. Augustine have been sincere and to the full extent of the resources I have possessed. And should my opponent be elected, I'll devote this same effort, in whatever manner possible, to promote the building of a stronger association and a stronger St. Aug."

NEW YORK-Peter G. (Pete) Holden, Sr., who for eleven years has headed the New York Chapter of St. Augustine's College Alumni, virtually dropped a "time-bomb," on his opponent for president of St. Augustine's National Alumni Association. The action took (See CANDIDATES FOR, P. 2)

place during a meeting of the New York Alumni, last Saturday evening, in the Bronx home of Louis Belcher, a 1960 graduate, who New Yorkers say, Holden is grooming as his successor.

'Bill' Bowser Named CCAP Executive Head

FAYETTEVILLE - William J. (Bill) Bowser, popular area Negro disc jockey and owner of Bowser Enterprises, Inc., last Thursday night was appointed permanent executive director of the Cumberland County Community Action Program (CCAP) here, during a meeting of the Board of Directors, held at the courthouse.

Appointed acting director by the Board several weeks ago, Mr. Bowser was reinstated following a turbulent confrontation with John Murray, recently resigned director, after Bowser reportedly had been "fired" by Mr. Murray.

"He can't fire me," Bowser was quoted as having told a representative of The FAYETTEVILLE OBSERVER, and the subsequent meeting of the Board confirmed Mr. Bowser's statement. He had continued to fulfill his obligations to the position of deputy director.

Recommending that the Board's personnel committee

WEATHER REPORT

Temperatures during the period, Thursday through Monday, will average below normal, except normal in the southeast portion of North Carolina. ## Two Ladies Win Sweepstakes

For the third time in as many weeks, area women again prevailed over the men last week in selecting the "right" businesses in which to shop and pick up lucky tickets in The CAROLINIAN's Sweepstakes Promotion.

Winning first prize and the appealing sum of $30 in cash was Mrs. Alee McLean of Route 1, Willow Springs, who traded at General Sales and Service Company, 108 S. Wilmington Street, where she obtained ticket number 3, worth $30 when she presented it at the offices of this newspaper. Taking the third prize of $5 last week was Mrs. Louise Bridges, 1306 Oberlin Road, who shopped for furniture at Wilson Furniture Company, 134 E. Hargett Street. When she submitted ticket number 4002 at this newspaper's offices, she received $5 in cash.

To be valid this week, tickets must be yellow in color and dated May 17, 1969.

Number 127, first prize, is ticket number 3, worth $30 (See SWEEPSTAKES, P. 2)

SLEEPS THROUGH IT ALL - Jefferson City, Mo.: Bullet hole in wall, right, doesn't seem to bother unidentified student sleeping in Allen Hall at Lincoln University, early May 20. State Highway Patrolmen and national guardsmen were called out after three fires were set on campus and reportedly shots were fired as firemen fought the fires. (UPI)
