

DEAR SALLY

BY SALLY SHAW

DEAR SALLY: I'm a married woman of 48 and would like very much to go back to school teaching as a financial help to my husband, since we have recently incurred some large bills for our extensive remodeling of our home. Our two children are 19 and 21, well able to take care of themselves—there's no problem there. However, my mother is raising a big fuss about this, insisting that my place is at home, and that it's the exclusive duty of my husband to keep us afloat. Now I'm really in a dilemma! Please advise me, MRS. M.

DEAR MRS. M.: This matter is entirely between you and your husband. . . for you two to decide. . . NOT your mother. If your working would really help your husband, and he agrees, then do it!

DEAR SALLY: I'm a young man of 31, now living in a new town to which I was recently transferred by my company. Since I am "prematurely" bald, I've been wearing a false hairpiece which is very becoming. . . so becoming in fact that people often compliment me on my well-groomed and beautiful hair. This never fails to embarrass me, making me feel as though I were sailing under false colors. What have you to say about this THATCHED ROOF?

DEAR THATCHED: Why be embarrassed? I should think you'd be happy that the "undetectable" fit and attractiveness of your hair is generating these compliments.

DEAR SALLY: I went steady for over a year with a young man, during which time he gave every indication of being as much in love with me as I with him. Then, without warning last night, he yielded the axe! He told me he thought we were getting "too serious," and that since he isn't yet prepared for any "permanent relationships," he thinks it's best that we split. This naturally has thrown me for a big loss! What can I do? CAST-OF.

DEAR CASTOFF: Accept it, and be thankful that you are well rid of the kind of fellow who can take up the exclusive time of a girl for more than a year and then say goodbye. There can of course be many other reasons why he broke your relationship, but probably the reason he gave is the truth. . . and you shouldn't be taking it as any reflection on you. Find new friends. . . ones with integrity.

DEAR SALLY: Don't you think it's unfair for a boy of 18 to be forced by his parents to take turns with his 15-year-old sister washing the dishes every night after dinner? I think this is sissy stuff for a guy of my age. What do you say? PAT.

DEAR PAT: I say there is nothing in the least bit sissy about boys' washing dishes, and if this were true, then thousands of grown-up men are sissies. Dishwashing is a household chore, just like carrying out the trash, mowing the lawn and washing the car. . . and household chores should be performed by both boys and girls. . . willingly and cheerfully.

Banana Split Eclairs

Halve the eclairs and double the fun!
 The smart hostess uses her head and serves glamorous, easy-to-make food. Banana Split Eclairs are just such a choice! Designed to be a party's highlight, they let the homemaker relax and enjoy her guests. Set out the "fixings" and let ice cream lovers assemble desserts to suit themselves.
 The crisp, elegant, elongated cream puffs are ready and waiting to be cut in half. Scoops of multi-colored ice creams are frozen hard and arranged in your prettiest glass bowl. Bananas are sliced and sprinkled with orange juice to keep them from darkening and to enhance their flavor. And ice cream toppings are nearby to top off the eclair-based banana splits.
 When made with enriched flour, the delicious eclairs carry nutritional gifts from the milling industry to you. Enriched flour is an important source of the essential B-vitamins, thiamine, niacin and riboflavin and the mineral, iron - all necessary in maintaining good health.

BANANA SPLIT ECLAIRS

- 1 cup water
- 2 to 3 bananas, sliced
- 1/2 cup butter
- 3 pints ice cream, different flavors
- 1 cup enriched flour*
- 1/2 cup ice cream topping
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 15 maraschino cherries, halved
- 4 eggs

Bring water and butter to boil, stirring until butter melts. Add flour and salt all at once. Reduce heat. Cook, stirring constantly until mixture is smooth and forms a soft ball, 1 to 2 minutes. Remove from heat and cool slightly. Add eggs, one at a time, beating well after each. Drop batter onto greased baking sheet, spreading to form 1 x 5-inch rectangles. Bake in preheated 400° oven 25 to 35 minutes or until firm. Cool. Cut off tops and invert. Fill tops and bottoms with banana slices. Top with a scoop of each ice cream flavor. Drizzle with topping and garnish with cherry halves.
 *Spoon flour into dry measuring cup level. Do not scoop.
