

'Separatism, Nationalism Not The Answer' - Mays

Educator Heard At Auditorium

Dr. Benjamin Elijah Mays, president emeritus of Morehouse College in Atlanta, Georgia, told a record 142 graduating seniors of Shaw University last Sunday afternoon that "Whatever the ills besetting the black man, I do not believe that black separatism will eliminate poverty. I do not believe that black nationalism is the answer to slums and ghettos. I do not believe that a black university, with a black faculty, a black trustee board, a black student body, and black money is the solution to the black man's educational plight.

DR. BENJAMIN E. MAYS

I do not believe that the salvation of black colleges lies in driving out white trustees, white teachers, and white students. May our racism never go that far," he said. Dr. Mays, who delivered the address at the auditorium (See DR. MAYS, P. 2)

Mississippi Scene Of Vote Frauds

WASHINGTON, D.C. - Irregularities in the conduct of last month's municipal elections in Mississippi and criticism of the role of Federal observers in those elections were reported Thursday in a staff report of the U. S. Commission on Civil Rights.

Nothing that the election of some black persons to local offices in Mississippi is evidence that some changes have occurred in the State since the passage of the Voting Rights Act of 1965, the report said that even with these victories, virtually all Mississippi towns and cities will still be governed by all-white local governments.

The Commission, in a recent statement before the House Judiciary Committee by Howard A. Glickstein, Acting Staff Director, is on record as favoring an extension of the Voting Rights Act, scheduled to expire in 1970, to insure continuation of the protection of Negro voting rights.

Among the most frequent irregularities cited by the Commission staff report in the May 13 elections were those restrictions placed upon the activities of poll watchers for black candidates that included forcing these poll watchers to remain in the voting booth (See VOTE FRAUDS, P. 2)

NPI Report Finds

New Violence Patterns

Children, 4 Others Are Hurt

LAURENBURG - Two North Carolina women—a mother and her daughter—were killed here Sunday morning, while three children were injured and hospitalized, following a two-car collision on U. S. 401, three miles south of Laurinburg.

Mrs. Lillie Mae Monroe, 45, and her daughter, Mrs. Danny Legrand, 22, were the victims. The children, all of whom were listed in fair condition on Sunday night at Scotland Memorial Hospital here were: John W. Legrand, 12; James Lewis, 9; Sheila, 4; and the car's driver, Miss Mazie Monroe, believed to be a sister of Mrs. Legrand.

The driver of the other car, in addition to the Monroe children, Mrs. Katie McKay Blackman, 28; her husband, Eugene McKay, 30, and her brother, John Junior McKay, 43; all of Wagram, were also hospitalized and reported to be in fair condition at the Scotland Memorial Hospital.

The fatal collision occurred (See WOMEN DIE, P. 2)

Mitchell To Receive The '69 Spingarn

NEW YORK (NPD)—Clarence M. Mitchell, director, NAACP Washington bureau since 1970, has been chosen as the 54th Spingarn medalist.

He was named recipient of the coveted medal by the nine-member Spingarn Medal award committee in recognition of his vital role as lobbyist for civil rights legislation and particularly his crucial contribution to the enactment of the Fair Housing title of the 1968 Civil Rights Act.

Selection of Mitchell for this honor was announced by NAACP Executive Director Roy Wilkins, who cited Mitchell's 23 years of dedicated service to the NAACP, the last 19 as Washington bureau director.

The medal is awarded annually to an American of African descent for distinguished achievement during the preceding year or years.

Entertainer Sammy Davis, Jr., was awarded the medal last year.

ON PRINCETON'S TRUSTEE BOARD - Princeton, N. J. Brent L. Henry, 21-year-old Negro senior at Princeton University who helped take over an administration building in March, has been elected the first Negro member of Princeton University's board of trustees, it was announced here June 7, Henry told a news conference that he hopes to serve as a liaison between the alumni and students. Riots Of Last Year Examined

WASHINGTON (NPI) - Is a new pattern of planned, "person-oriented" racial violence developing?

Apparently so, says a report issued by the National Commission on the Causes and Prevention of Violence, which indicates that the riots which took 11 lives in Cleveland last July may have "marked the beginning of a new pattern" in civil disorders.

According to the report, the Cleveland incident, unlike previous racial clashes, "began as a person-oriented violence, (with) Blacks and whites shooting at each other, snipers against cops."

"And apparently alone among major outbreaks of racial violence in America history, it ended in more white casualties than Black," the report said, adding.

"Though the white victims were policemen, attacks as symbols of the white society rather than as men, the mode of vengeance had taken a significant step beyond damage to white-owned businesses."

According to the report, "A small well-equipped army of Black extremists was re-created (See VIOLENCE, P. 2)

Jew-Arab Integration Will Be Faster Than Black-White: Mayor

NEW YORK - Teddy Kollek, the outspoken mayor of Jerusalem, said Monday that integration in Israel between Jews and Arabs is slow and difficult, but faster than what's happening in New York.

Kollek, quoted in an article appearing in the current issue of Look magazine, referred to the long and painful effort to achieve racial harmony between blacks and whites in New York City.

Known in Israel as one of the most effective workers for peaceful integration with the Arabs, of whom 65,000 reside in Jerusalem, Kollek said, "You can't expect this to be solved in a generation. It may take two or three."

"It will take a long time, but it will take a year less than in New York," he added.

In view of Mayor Kollek's statement, it is to be remembered that the Jews and Arabs have been bitter enemies since the War of 1948, when the Arabs were deprived of their own homes and prevented from returning to them. There is still bitter resentment, and recognizable so, between these two close neighbors.

Bishop Shaw Challenges White Methodists In NC

CHAPEL HILL - Bishop H. B. Shaw, Wilmington, who has charge of the Second Episcopal District, AME Zion Church, in a sermon delivered to the predominantly-white delegation, in attendance at the Thursday morning session of the annual North Carolina Conference of the United Methodist Church, meeting at University Methodist Church, said that both the world and the church are calling for a leadership that is forthright, consecrated and dedicated, intelligent and not afraid.

The prelate lost no time in telling the audience that the ills that are besetting America are not peculiar to America or the world. "The people are on the march and the church must assert its leadership or all the progress that has been made for over one thousand years will be lost," he said.

He cited many like situations down thru the ages and then told how God raised up men with bold and dynamic leadership that was not heartlessly selfish, not motivated by self-aggrandizement and whose motivating purpose was to keep the anchor chain of hope from snapping. "It was God purpose to have them call people to repentance and rededication for the emancipation of themselves from bonds of iniquity, from galling chains of slavery and sloughs of despondency," he stated.

Bishop Shaw also pointed out that neither their ethnic background or their racial identity was considered or even used. He pointed to them as immortals of history and bedrocks on which stand the deathless structure of unselfish service.

He defined "militant discipleship". He admonished the church leaders that they should not shy away from the word militant, in view of the fact that it was militancy that built Christ's Church. He hastened to say to the audience that mili-
