CP&L's Oley Baugh Retires After 41 Years On The Job

BY CHARLES HOOKS
When Oley Baugh retired from Carolina Power & Light Company recently, it wasn't to a rocking chair, but rather to the production of hogs and the full-time management of his 330-acre farm near Apex. Baugh, who was with CP&L for 41 years as a chauffeur, has been in the hog business since 1935 when the late J. S. McInnes, a CP&L executive, gave him two pigs. He now has more than 225 hogs, sows and pigs and has hogs ready for market year around.

He employs two men—Willie Johnson and George Williams—full time to assist him. His wife, Fannie, keeps the books on the operation.

To feed the hogs, his men collect food waste from a number of Raleigh restaurants and school cafeterias on a contract basis. He also buys damaged foodstuffs from railroad salvage and grows corn, oats and wheat to supplement the hog's diet.

Baugh joined CP&L in 1928. He drove the late Paul A. Tillery, who was president of CP&L until his death, in 1933. When Louis V. Sutton became president in that same year, Baugh became his chauffeur. Over the years, Baugh has met many prominent men in business and government. His most famous passenger while serving as Sutton's chauffeur was General Dwight Eisenhower. "Mr. Sutton and the General were good friends," said Baugh. "I used to drive Mr. Sutton to Washington after World War II to visit with the General. We would drive up and the General would always greet me by my name and ask me how I was."

He estimates that he has driven over a million miles since he joined CP&L. While not driving for Sutton, he worked at the com-

ECSU's Gregory Receives Ph. D.

Chester W. Gregory, associate professor of history at Elizabeth City State University, recently received the Ph. D. degree in history from Ohio State University.

Gregory's research into "The Problem of Labor During World War II; The Employment of Women in Defense Production" became a part of the huge volumes of dissertations written by doctoral candidates at Ohio State.

Currently director of ECSU's School Desegregation Institute, a summer project for area in-service teachers, Dr. Gregory has been a member of the faculty since 1954. Prior to joining the ECSU faculty, he received both the AB and MA degrees from North Carolina Central University at Durham in 1953 and 1954. Further study was also done at Pennsylvania State, University of North Carolina, Carnegie Mellon University, and Duke University.

A native of Kinston, and a minister of the United Holy Church of America, Dr. Gregory is a member of The American Historical Society, Southern Historical Association, Social Science Honor Society, NAACP, Phi Gamma Mu, Beta Delta Mu, Phi Alpha Theta History Honor Society, and numerous other professional, fraternal, and civic organizations. He is married to the former Miss Dalthenia Crews of Rocky Point and is the father of two children, Roselyn Kimberly and Chester, Jr.

St. Augustine's Gets $900,000 Loan For New Women's Dormitory

Dr. Prezell R. Robinson, president of Saint Augustine's College, Raleigh, has announced the receipt of a $900,000 loan from the Department of Housing and Urban Development, the Department of Health Education and Welfare. The funds will be used for the construction of an eleven story dormitory to house 450 young women. The construction of this building is expected to get underway some time during the 1969-70 school year.

A $12,424.80 grant, from the Southern Education Foundation, for a community organization program has been received. Already in progress, this program is under the supervision of Dr. W. E. Allen, assistant professor of sociology at the college. Saint Augustine's College students are in Sanford, Rocky Mount and Wilson, working with black people in their communities. With additional supervisors in each area, the students are assisting the black people in elevating their standards of living by showing them how to get their needs fulfilled as they see them. They will inform these people as to who their leaders are, the power and political structure, and how to go about voting.

ber of the board of deacons. "I've seen the day when Blewett with its 25,000 kilowatts was our largest plant," said Oley. "And I've seen us grow and become what we are today because of the leadership of men like Mr. Sutton. I'm proud to think that in some way I was a part of that progress."

The project is designed to involve the students more in construction community affairs.
