

GABBING About Town

BY MRS. A. H. THORPE
TELEPHONE 832-3029

"If all our misfortunes were laid in one common heap, whence everyone must take an equal portion, most people would be constructed to take their own and depart."

RECENT HOUSE GUEST

Miss Doris Greene of 523 E. Cabarrus St., had as her recent house guests over the weekend, Mr. and Mrs. Jet Brown of Springfield, Mass. They report a delightful, brief stay.

GUEST OF MOTHER AND SISTER

Mr. Harold Moore, formerly of Raleigh, but now residing in Philadelphia, Pa., was the weekend guest of his mother, Mrs. Olivia Moore, and sister, Mrs. Mabel Moses of 801 S. East Street. Accompanying him was a friend, Miss Ellen Thompson. While here, they were also the house guests of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Moore, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Moore, Mr. and Mrs. William Moore. They toured the city and were very much impressed with the improvements. They reported having an enjoyable trip. Hurry back! We were delighted to have you as guests in our city.

VISIT PARENTS

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Johnson of New York City, were recent visitors in the city and house guests of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gregg Johnson of 540 E. Cabarrus St. It was indeed a pleasure to see the Johnsons once again. Hurry back to see us again real soon.

SORRELLS ARE HOSTS

Mr. Howard Baldwin of Brooklyn, N. Y., was in the city recently as guest of Mr. and Mrs. Weldon Sorrell of 604

McMackin Street. They report that their trip and stay was indeed gratifying.

HOUSE GUESTS

Mr. and Mrs. William McCoo of Trenton, N. J., were recent guests of their cousin, Mrs. Leila Holloway of 631 Oberlin Rd., and Mrs. Grace Sorrell of 604 McMackin Street. They reported a most enjoyable stay and visit.

VACATIONING

Mrs. Marie Moore of 551 E. Lenoir St. left the city Saturday to spend her vacation in the west, east, north and south, touching quite a few points in each of the sections. We are sure that this vacation will be one of lasting memories.

MOVES TO CAMDEN, N. J.
Mrs. Exie Raines of 538 E. Lenoir St. has moved to Camden, N. J., where she will make her home with her daughter, the former Hettie Raines. We will certainly miss you, Mrs. Raines, but a change will be good.

CONVALESCING NICELY

Friends of Mr. James Hammonds of 531 E. Cabarrus St., who is a patient at Wake Memorial Hospital, will be pleased to know that he is convalescing nicely and is still full of smile.

MRS. JOHNSON VISITS

Mrs. Dezola Johnson of Washington, D. C. was in the city recently on business. She brought her father, Mr. Perry Hinton, of South Wilmington St. back with her.

We missed you this time, cousin, but will be looking forward to your next visit.

Note: Our thanks to you for your calls and letters. We shall again be looking to hear from you this week.

Eastside Reminders

Rain, storms, sunshine, smiles, frowns, health and death. These among other life factors, should make each and every individual think more, pray more, love each other more - remember that "time and tide wait for no man."

Mrs. Callie Jones and other beauticians left Sunday for their convention which is being held in Philadelphia this week. Mrs. Coretta King, widow of Dr. Martin L. King, will be the key speaker.

Sunday afternoon, July 13, was the date of funeralizing of the late Mr. John Moore, Sr., from St. Matthew AME Church at 3 p.m. with the pastor, Rev. D. L. Morrison, in charge. Mr. Moore was a long-time citizen of Raleigh and a barber.

Mr. Clarence Lightner has improved enough to be recuperating at his home, 717 Delany Drive.

Wake Memorial Hospital officials report that Mr. A. E. Brown and Dr. W. F. Clark are both in satisfactory condition which is quite pleasing to their many friends.

Mrs. Mary B. Sapp, 825 Smithfield St., had as her house-guests recently, her brother and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Byrd. This is Mrs. Byrd's first visit to North Carolina and to Raleigh. They live in New York City.

July and August are convention months. On July 20, the Moles, a national social organization, will convene for several days here in Raleigh. Many persons from throughout the State will gather at the Statler-Hilton Inn for several days of enjoyment. Mrs. Christine Toole is president of the local Moles.

Mrs. Phillis Yearwood and sons, Carl and Charles of New York City, are vacationing in the city with their relatives, Mrs. Emma O. Jones and Mrs. Frances Massenburg.

Mrs. Yearwood is the niece of Mrs. Jones and Mrs. Massenburg. The boys are their grand nephews.

The National Association of College Women will hold its annual convention in Richmond, Va., August 12-16. Mrs. Mary Hooker is president of the Raleigh branch.

To those on vacation: begin your vacation trips in the safety zone and let them remain in this zone and all will end well and everyone concerned will be happy.

YMCA News

The Bloodworth Street YMCA Boys Day Camp will sponsor a trip to Wilmington to visit the Battleship North Carolina on Friday, July 25. Plans call for chartered bus travel to leave the YMCA at 7:00 a. m. and return in late afternoon.

The Battleship North Carolina is one of the biggest battleships ever constructed and after being retired was purchased by the state and docked at Wilmington and is now a major scenic attraction.

A few seat vacancies remain and those interested in making the trip are invited to contact the YMCA: TE3-1255.

Your professional beautician knows the answer...

Is peroxide needed to color unwanted gray hair?

Hair care and beauty experts know that the first traces of gray hair—and even slight fading of natural color after chemical relaxing—can dull a woman's appearance and make her look older than she feels. While most women hate these premature aging effects, many are hesitant about using permanent peroxide haircoloring which may change the natural hair color while coloring gray.

Professionally-trained hairdressers know the importance of their customers' preferences when unwanted gray becomes a problem. These experts also know that Clairol created semi-permanent Loving Care® hair color lotion without peroxide... to color only the gray without changing the natural shade. They also find Loving Care blends back color faded by chemical processing. Because of its mildness, Loving Care maintains healthy looking hair and lasts through a month of shampoos. Whatever a woman's reason for wanting Loving Care for her hair, she is always wise to consult a professional beautician. Hairdressers are equipped with a family of fine Clairol products and the training to promise each patron the loveliest and most personalized haircoloring effects every time she visits her salon. If you dislike gray, and want no peroxide, why not ask your beautician to glamorize it with Loving Care?

Come to Church

BY MRS. MAY L. BROADIE

Precious Lord, take our hands and lead us through the night. Though the way seems dark and dreary - at the river hold our hands, hold us on to the promise land, hold our hand precious Lord, lead us on.

O God, the everlasting Lord and Father, who art with us in all our ways, we beseech Thee, as we bow our hearts in prayer, to fill us with the strengthening peace of Thy conscious presence and with the knowledge that love is at the root of everything. It alone can bring us back from the solitude which is haunted with perplexity into our true relationship with our fellowman, the Christ who knows the joys and sorrows of our ever-changing life will be our inspiration. May we always place the value of the soul above the body, character above circumstance, and with simple, loving worship, by continual obedience to the call of duty, and by purifying ourselves, even as Thou art pure. May we creep ever closer into Thee who art the last great certainty of life. We ask it in the name and for the sake of Jesus, Amen.

Messages of congratulations

CELEBRATED SIXTH BIRTHDAY - Little Miss Wanda Louise Moore, daughter of Mrs. Hattie A. Moore and the late Mr. Lee Moore, Jr. of J-15 Washington Terrace, celebrated her 6th birthday Sunday, July 6, with a birthday party at the Peebles Hotel, East Hargett Street from 5 to 7 p.m. The party was given by her Godparents, Rev. and Mrs. A. A. Crum of Tarboro Road. All guests received souvenir hats and horns, played games and enjoyed ice cream, cookies, punch, popcorn and other party goodies. The following children were on hand to help Wanda celebrate her big event: Reginald Keith, Belva Liles, Sonya Spencer, Karen Chapman, Montine McCoy, Thomas McCoy, Christopher Johnson, Paula Robertson, Tracie Browning, Jacklyn Copeland and her sister, Vickie Moore.

Pete's Pickin's

BY W. A. "PETE" WILDER PROMOTERS

The local All-Stars played the New York All-Stars here on July 4, 5 and 6. I've seen the time when if it had only been the Twilight League, there would have been more fans. All of this points up the know-how for sports promotion. In the same breath, one only needs to mention the fact that Shaw played A&T here, "free" and to an almost empty house so far as the local fans were concerned. Promoters (baseball) please wake up!

I heard that the Elks are planning to sponsor the annual Splash Party at Atlantic Beach in South Carolina this weekend. We have no doubt that they will have a great time. Going? Call Sparrow or Julie Haywood for complete information.

I heard "Sport" Haywood talking about going to Atlanta the latter part of this month. It doesn't seem hard to get the gang ready for such a trip. Baseball is getting more and more competitive with the passing of each day. Nobody has said it, but I have a hunch that Woodrow Dunston, Lawrence Collins, and perhaps Charles Whitley, might be on the next bus. To them, Atlanta is the city with unmatched sports appeal.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Hinton, Baltimore, Md., were visitors in our fair city last week. They were the house guests of Mrs. Bessie Chavis, 429 Alston St. On returning to Baltimore, they carried an aunt, Mrs. Ada McNeill, of E. Martin St., for a short stay.

Mrs. Martha Wilder, formerly of Raleigh, but more recently of Stamford, Conn., came to town last week bringing Roger Anthony, Jr., and Angie. They are at home at 510 Montague Place.

Rev. J. D. Davis, formerly of this city, but now Presiding Elder of the Morganton District of the Western North Carolina Conference of the AME Church, was in town last week to deliver the eulogy for Rev. George R. Perry.

It was real nice to talk to Rev. "Chris" Gray last week at the home of Mrs. Lillian A. Haywood, E. Martin St. We started off talking about the ministry and matrimony, then we went----- As I recalled the days of old Black Maria (the patrol wagon of the early teens), it seemed to do his soul good. Then we talked of the improvement seen in the behaviour patterns in East Raleigh. It has improved some, believe it or not! At that time, the law dared not come past Haywood and Davie Streets after sundown. Jack Beasley was a most familiar figure. On Monday mornings, the women of the area could be seen winding their way to the Baptist School (Meredith College) which was then located on E. Edenton, North Bloom and North Person Sts.

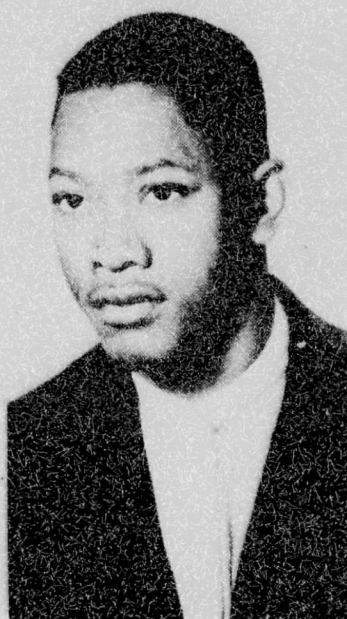

By 2 p.m., the whole area was in an uproar, somebody had talked too much! Some of the big figures of the period were Attorney Dave Lane, George Lane, "Toot" Rogers, Rev. N. B. Stelly, Madame Louise Price, and Rev. Edmund Hill, to name a few.

I had a chance to teach the Men's Bible class at St. Paul AME Church recently. It was nice to note the type of mixed response the class held. It stimulated study, thought and a preciseness of expression as the "Plan for Man" took shape. Mr. Silas Webb, president, the teacher, Mr. Willie Stewart, the secretary, Mr. C. C. Hawes and the pastor, Rev. B. S. Foust, as well as the members should feel a new sense of participation. Certainly, I look forward to an early return.

I had a chance to notice a few things at "vlic" Peebles Charcoal Flame Restaurant, S. Wilmington St., here. Of all people, he had one deacon, "Doctor" Arthur Williams in a booth. Well, there just doesn't exist another deacon in Raleigh of the stature and range of Deacon Williams. He is the last word. His church - Lincoln Park Holiness, his minister, the Rev. El Ratcliff.

Mr. Edward Hill, Freeman Street, the popular maintenance foreman at Chavis Heights, came from several friends including Mrs. Ethel Satterwhite and Mrs. Shirley Smith, nursing supervisors at Mayview Convalescent Home in Raleigh and Mrs. and Mrs. J. M. Hooker of Durham.

JOINS FIRE DEPARTMENT - Ray Sherwin Debnam, 25, began work in the Raleigh Fire Department on June 18. He resides with his parents, Deacon and Mrs. Chester Debnam, Sr., 219 Walker Street. Young Debnam is a veteran of the U. S. Army.

CLUBS

BARBERS' WIVES MEET
The Capital City Barbers' Wives met recently at the home of Mrs. Eddie High on Coleman Street. The group worked on the constitution and blaws for the state organization. Plans were made to attend the state meeting which convenes July 27, in Greensboro. A picnic is being planned for the Barbers and their families.

Those present at the meeting in addition to Mrs. High were Mesdames L. W. Hall, Frank Terrell, Fred Mitchell, Carlton Nicholson, and J. Linwood Hooker.

Delicious refreshments were served by the hostess and her daughter.

Journeyed to New Jersey last weekend to visit relatives and friends.

Mr. A. E. Brown, S. Person St., retired district manager of the N. C. Mutual Life Insurance Co., is being hospitalized at Wake Memorial. His many friends wish for him a rapid recovery.

The Rev. D. L. Morrison, accompanied by his choir and members of the St. Matthew AME Church rendered the opening services at Piney Grove AME Church during last week's Sunday School convention.

Mrs. Betty Jones Hooker, formerly of E. Davie St. here, but now of Newark, N. J., is at home due to the illness of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Jones.

My good friend, "Gal" Guess, the "fancy Dan" first baseman of the old Idlewild Panthers, was in the city last week. "Gal" really looked good, had put on some weight and, as usual, wore a most pleasant smile. Lorenzo Montague, Mort Robinson, Lawrence Scales and Lewis Miller were the other members of the club that I can remember. P. S. Please add Will Bridgers.

Go To Church Sun.
