Elks To Hear Dr. Boone

Cafe Is Scene Of Fighting

CHARLOTTE - Four persons were wounded early Monday in a pre-dawn fight at a drive-in restaurant on Charlotte's north side, police said.

Officers said the incident occurred at the Chick-N-Ribs Drive-In just after 4 a.m. It was first believed the fight involved a dispute between some self-styled Black Panthers, but police declined to link the two.

A police spokesman said an investigation showed that two of the Negroes involved had come up to the drive-in's delivery truck early Monday. The owner came out and asked what they were doing.

Police said the men, James Black, 31, and James E. Prather, 17, became angry at the owner and the shooting and fight started. The involvement (See FOUR HURT, P. 2)

Nation's Deltas Hear Challenge By President, Attorney Freeman

BALTIMORE, Md. - The 50,000 members of Delta Sigma Theta Sorority were urged to work with public officials to help overhaul the welfare program last week.

Speaking at the opening session of Delta's 30th biennial convention in Baltimore, Mrs. Frankie M. Freeman, the sorority's national president, discussed President Richard Nixon's recent Welfare Reform Program.

"We applaud a meaningful commitment of resources to overhaul the welfare program," Mrs. Freeman said. "We have always recognized that the welfare recipient prefers a job to a handout. But we are sobered by the pervasive job discrimination that has prevailed in many localities."

"Any requirement to work should include the guarantee of meaningful training for jobs that will pay an adequate salary, preserve human dignity, and improve the conditions of life. Any supplement for family assistance should recognize the actual costs of living," Mrs. Freeman said.

She added, "The welfare recipient themselves can make (See DELTAS URGED, P. 2)

An Act Of House Could Wreck School 'Mixing'

WASHINGTON, D. C. - Just as it did in 1968, the House last week took a step that could destroy the school desegregation program. Once again it passed an appropriations bill (H. R. 1311) for the Department of Labor and Health, Education and Welfare (HEW) with amendments in it whose clear intent is to help Southern districts keep segregated schools.

The amendments are exactly the same ones that their sponsor, Rep. Jamie Whitten of Mississippi added to last year's Labor-HEW Appropriations bill. They got through the House then, too, but the Senate was able to water down the language and render them virtually harmless. Our hope in this Congress lies with the Senate again.

Rap Brown Allowed To Attend Meet

NEW YORK - (UPI) - A persistent H. Rap Brown finally won court permission to travel from New York to Washington, to address a session of the National Association of Television and Radio Artists convention.

He was granted a temporary reprieve from local travel restrictions by U. S. Circuit Judge John Minor Wisdom, in New Orleans, after having twice been turned back by U. S. District court jurists.

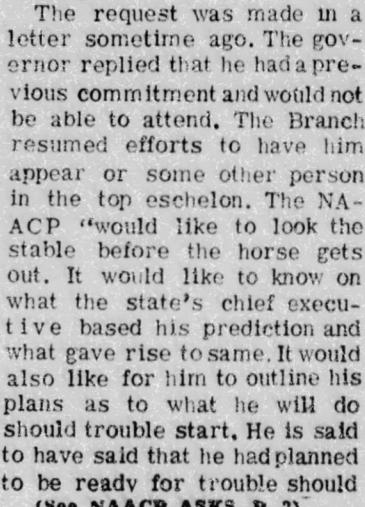

The restriction was slipped on Brown, after his conviction on a gun charge in New Orleans, since vacated by the Court of Appeals pending a wire-tapping appeal.

He was ordered to remain (See RAP BROWN, P. 2)

Statements On Schools Attacked

DURHAM - The Durham Branch NAACP, in an effort to calm the hysteria created by Governor Bob Scott's statement that the campuses of the colleges and high schools of the state were in for a tough time this year, asked the governor to speak at the monthly meeting, which will be held at the West Durham Baptist Church at 4 p.m. Sunday.

The request was made in a letter sometime ago. The governor replied that he had a previous commitment and would not be able to attend. The Branch resumed efforts to have him appear or some other person in the top echelon. The NAACP "would like to look the stable before the horse gets out. It would like to know on what the state's chief executive based his prediction and what gave rise to same. It would also like for him to outline his plans as to what he will do should trouble start. He is said to have said that he had planned to be ready for trouble should (See NAACP ASKS, P. 2)
