

National 4-H Week Oct. 5-11 NC

North Carolina's 60,000 4-H members and 15,000 adult leaders will share the spotlight Oct. 5-11 with more than three million youth in 50 states and Puerto Rico. The occasion will be National 4-H Week.

The theme of the special observance is "4-H: Opportunity for All," according to Dr. T. C. Blalock, state 4-H leader at N. C. State University. "Our emphasis will be pointing out how 4-H benefits all boys and girls age 9 to 19, of all cultural, racial and economic backgrounds and also to youth who live in town as well as in the country."

The state 4-H leader said each Tar Heel county would plan activities during National 4-H Week to:

- Encourage more youth to take advantage of 4-H opportunities.
- Urge more men and women to volunteer as 4-H leaders, and to enrich their own lives in addition to serving youth.
- Recognize the important contribution of parents to 4-H, and influence their continued cooperation.
- Acknowledge the support of 4-H friends and express appreciation to them.
- Report the year's accomplishments and consider future needs and plans.

The 4-H program is part of the national educational system of the Cooperative Extension Service. Tar Heel 4-H'ers receive training through programs conducted by N. C. State University and N. C. Agriculture Extension Service through county agricultural and home economics agents.

Fayetteville State University includes 132 acres of land and 21 splendidly equipped brick buildings of modern design. The buildings are functional and designed to accommodate the educational, social, recreational, and spiritual needs of students, faculty and friends of the institution.

At R. J. Reynolds we don't train people for jobs, we start them on careers

Most anybody will give you a job. But at R. J. Reynolds we've long recognized our commitment to equal opportunity, and we've been doing something about it. Something that's real—that's producing results.

R. J. Reynolds' people have more than a job; they have a career opportunity with a bright and rewarding future. And we back up what we say with the best training we can provide.

Regardless of color, promotion and additional training for promotion goes to the worker with the most seniority.

Here is how it is: It is 700 summer jobs right now. It is 1 of every 4 jobs for Blacks. It is everybody starting at the same level.

We're proud our program gives so many young career-minded people the chance to reach for a better life. And that's why we say: "Start a career at R. J. Reynolds."
