Managing Editor Surprised At Pre-Birthday Dinner Here

BY CHARLES R. JONES

This newsmen was given one of the rare treats of his life when he was truly surprised by several of his closest friends at the Village Dinner Theatre...

birthday (October 13) and a beautiful birthday cake, complete with a sizzler for a candle, was brought to our table. I was completely shocked. At this point, Mr. Hall handed me a large box containing a most suitable birthday present from my five hostesses and host. I was too stunned to do anything except express my profound thanks to all.

When he was asked to accompany Mr. and Mrs. Edward William (Mary "Angel") Hall, 22 Lincoln Terrace, Mr. and Mrs. Edward (Mattie Mae) Holloway, 3119 Wilder Street, and Miss Linda Ann Turner, Leesville Road, to the Theatre, he was unsuspecting as could be.

A play entitled, "Don't Drink The Water" was next on the agenda. This is a comedy act by Woody Allen and the actors and actresses were superb in their roles. The two-act, nine-scene comedy kept the entire audience in stitches of laughter.

First came a delicious dinner, consisting of prime roast of beef, country captain chicken, whipped potatoes au gratin, Brussel sprouts, Village shrimp and macaroni salad, beets a la orange, assorted breads, peppered okra and many other delicacies, including an assortment of desserts and soft drinks.

Helping to make the occasion more enjoyable was the presence of six members of Mrs. Ed Hall's family, all of whom are employed at the Village Dinner Theatre. They include her mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Turner; father, Mr. James Henry Turner, sister, Miss Shirley Mae Turner; and three brothers, Leon Dempsey, Henry Webster, and Ralph Earl Turner, all of Leesville Road, near Jeffreys Grove School.

Following this treat, the theatre's announcer called for the attention of the audience, at which time he said he was going to make some birthday announcements. Your writer was "still in the dark" until his name was called as observing a

Throughout the nation as election day nears, political candidates are making a great deal of noise about "law and order." Though most city budgets cannot afford to pay additional patrolmen, the candidates claim that they will add more officers of the law to the present police forces.

someone of my own race. I think that I would give a Negro more cooperation than a white.

WILLIE RUFFIN: Well, I would rather have a Negro officer patrolling my neighborhood. I do think, however, that all of the policemen are doing a good job.

GEORGE HEW GROVE: I would want a Negro all the time. Simply because I think the colored officer will be nicer to colored people than a white officer. This I know.

MRS. JANETTE JONES: I feel better when a colored officer is around. I feel that we should have more colored people on the police force. Sometimes, white cops are not liked by colored people and cannot do the job as well.

R. L. REVIS: I never thought that much about it. I don't guess it makes that much difference as long as the job is done. J. W. JOYNER: Negro. Well, I think that he can relate more to Negroes than anyone else can. And, naturally, you feel better with a person of your own race around.

MRS. ROSIE LOCKLEAR: I want a Negro policeman. I feel more comfortable around

LEONARD WILSON: Negro. It would be good though to have both. You know, one each race in the car. But, if it is a case of one or the other, I would want a Negro.

MRS. ROSIE LOCKLEAR: I want a Negro policeman. I feel more comfortable around

WALTER AVERY: Well, I live in Garner and we do not have a Negro policeman. But this is being discussed. The white officer there, however, is very unlawful. He is not a good policeman.

MRS. ROSIE LOCKLEAR: I want a Negro policeman. I feel more comfortable around

MRS. LOIS BURRELL: Colored. I have a colored police officer in my family. In my work, I notice that white officers are not well liked by Negroes. I think that they (white

HUD Offers 100 Fellowships

WASHINGTON, D. C.—The U. S. Department of Housing and Urban Development will offer approximately 100 fellowships in urban studies to graduate students for the 1970-71 academic year.

for each dependent up to two, will be available to full-time graduate students in accredited university graduate schools. In addition, HUD will pay tuition and fees directly to the schools.

Grants of $3,000, plus $500 (policemen) do not like us. MISS GAYNELLE GOODSON: I feel much better with the colored officer. The white officer harasses you more. The colored officer understands your problem.

Candidates eligible for grants are students accepted (or with reasonable expectation of acceptance), or already enrolled for full-time study and working toward graduate degrees in an eligible program. Fields of study include city and regional planning, urban affairs, urban public administration, urban sociology, urban law, and others oriented to public service careers in urban affairs. "The program has an importance much larger than the number of fellowships available," said Samuel C. Jackson, Assistant Secretary for Metropolitan Development. "Through it HUD is involving a relatively large number of black, Mexican-American, and other minority-group young men and women in professions where their services are greatly needed. Such young specialists as these can do much to win the confidence of their own people, who all too often forlornly see themselves as outside the mainstream of American urban life."

Application forms for fellowships will be obtainable until the end of October from: Urban Studies Fellowship Program, Community Development Training Division, U. S. Department of Housing and Urban Development, Washington, D. C. 20410.
