WHY DO I CLIMB THE HILL?
Why do I climb the hill, it only means I must come down again.

Why do I toil past the point where the shadows spill, like smoke above the glen?

Why do I set my feet among the stones? What do I seek? Leaning against the tireless granite bones bare at the peak.

Nothing except the crest. Nothing except a moment free of doubt. As day turns into night, in the purple west and stars come out. - Galbraith.

Come to Church

O spread the tidings round, wherever man is found, wherever human hearts and human woes abound. Let every Christian tongue proclaim the joyful sound. The comforter has come. The long, long night is past. The morning breaks at last and hushed the dreadful wall and furry of the beast. As over the golden hills the day advances fast. The comforter has come. Sing 'til the echoes fly above the vaulted sky, and all the saints above to all below reply, in strains of endless love, the song that never will die. The Comforter has come.

Almighty and ever-present God, we come today thanking you for the Comforter as we study and learn of His obedience to Thee in all things. Help us to incorporate into our lives the necessity for obeying Thee in everything. Only in Thy Holy word, can we find these precepts to guide us. Instill, O Lord, a desire to heed these precepts. We thank Thee, Our Father, for the young people of our land this day and time. Help them to believe sincerely in Thy Son, whose feet trod the Galilean hills as a youth and who went about in all parts of the country doing good works healing all that were oppressed and led many to see comfort and led many to see the Father of all mankind almost 2,000 years since Hosiee took Him to the discouraged, the sick, the grief-stricken and the unbelievers. He comes to all who believe in Him and obey His word for this wonderful Jesus, the Christ, we thank Thee, Amen.

The past Sabbath brought a gain sadness as well as interesting messages. Sadness came as loved ones were laid to rest until that Great Getting Up Morning. Our hearts go out in sympathy to those left behind to mourn.

The Morning MRS. BETHEA Star Baptist Church will begin celebrating its Homecoming and 27th anniversary on Sunday, October 26, extending through November 2. Rev. S. R. Spencer pastor. He and his membership extend a cordial invitation to the various churches and friends to worship with them. The anniversary sermon will be delivered by Rev. B. S. Foust, pastor, St. Paul AME Church.

On Sunday afternoon, the Rev. John A. Bagby was installed as the pastor of the Davie Street United Presbyterian Church by the Presbytery of Cape Fear, the Rev. O. J. Hawks, moderator. An interesting program was presented by ministers belonging to the Presbytery.

Beautiful music was rendered by the Davie Street Choir. Many visitors were present. Among the out-of-town guests were Mrs. Maude McFadden, Mrs.

Carrie Young, Mrs. Diana S. Daut, Mrs. M. L. White, and Mrs. G. Y. Sargent. Ministers were from Snow Hill, Louisburg, Franklinton, Wilmington and Oxford. Also present was the Ruling Elder, B. T. Washington, member of Chestnut United Presbyterian Church, Wilmington.

The many friends of Mrs. Fannie Williams are pleased that she is back home from the hospital and able to enjoy visits.

Another week will see children and grown-ups, teen going through the various amusement places at the State Fair grounds, enjoying the hot dogs, apples and other good things to eat. Remember to be careful, have fun, do right, enjoy a good time, but still do right and everything will pass off o. k. You will remember these good times when you are older.

BY MRS. E. M. M. KELLY

We witnessed a spectacle! The concert by The Royal Scots Greys, The Gordon Highlanders, The Parachute Regiment Tatum - all sponsored by the Friends of the College, at Reynolds Coliseum on the campus of N. C. State University, last week. It was simply superb. The beauty of uniforms, the expertness and the precision of performance in marching, figures for me, MRS. KELLY band playing, gymnastics, conducting, etc., all thrilled and moved the audience to ecstasy. The artists received a standing ovation from the audience. If you weren't present, truly, you cheated your soul out of a large amount of cultural growth, for it is beauty that helps to nurture the soul. What is more beautiful than real music? Hope to see you there next time. The National Ballet of Canada is scheduled next on October 27, 28, and 29. Please don't miss this dance group!

The Raleigh Concert series starts October 28 at Raleigh Memorial Auditorium, with Nell Rankin, mezzo-soprano of the Metropolitan Opera Company. If you have not paid your membership in the Raleigh Concert Music Association, you may buy at the door on the night of the concert. You will certainly wish to hear and see the Eva Jesye choir in "Hallelujah Train" on December 8, so purchase your membership now, as no tickets will be sold for individual performances. Act now! The world is watching us.

I am disappointed that some of us failed to respond and take part in our Ecumenical or Interfaith, Thanksgiving Festival which will be held at Raleigh Memorial Auditorium on Sunday, November 23 at 3 p.m. Those who did respond and are really training your children will please remember the rehearsal dates and hours. See Music Notes and Half Notes, October 11. This stupendous production is sponsored by the American Guild of Organists, Central chapter.

It is not too early to start rehearsing your Christmas Music. Keep singing, teaching and/or listening to good music. "You'll be glad you did."

Three Plays Planned At Va. State College

PETERSBURG-The Theatre Guild at Virginia State College will present three plays in the Little Theatre of Vawter Hall on October 20-23 at 8 p.m.

The three one-act plays, a comedy, "I'm Herbert", an Avant-Garde play, "The Beggar or the Dead Dog", and a farce, "The Hairly Falsetto", will have nine VSC students in starring roles.

"I'm Herbert" is one of four plays from the production of Robert Anderson's "You Know I Can't Hear You When The Water's Running." The overall theme of this production is sex in its peripheral variations.

In "The Beggar or the Dead Dog" are seen different values, aspirations, and ethics when people with different backgrounds and experience converse. See this play and the next time you hear young and old or black and white converse.

"The Hairly Falsetto" is a play of social comment. It tells that much of the confusion in the world today is due to man's selfish design on life, his sincerity only in regard to his own desires, and his ignorance of and unwillingness to accept another's point of view.

Students in key roles in the three plays are Joslyn Baylor, David L. Booker, Cary Clark, Robert Everett, Marva Jackson, Harvey Miller, Vera Nel-Sagor.

Students directors for the productions are David Baugh, Booker and Ron Walker. The VSC Theatre Guild, plays and productions are under the able supervision of Mrs. Margaret L. Walker, Assistant Professor of English and Speech.

Your professional beautician knows the answer...

Is peroxide needed to color unwanted gray hair?

Hair care and beauty experts know that the first traces of gray hair—even slight fading of natural color after chemical relaxing—can dull a woman's appearance and make her look older than she feels. While most women hate these premature aging effects, many are hesitant about using permanent peroxide haircoloring which may change the natural hair color while coloring gray.

Professionally-trained hairdressers know the importance of their customers' preferences when unwanted gray becomes a problem. These experts also know that Clairol created semi-permanent Loving Care® hair color lotion without peroxide... to color only the gray without changing the natural shade. They also find Loving Care blends back color faded by chemical processing. Because of its mildness, Loving Care maintains healthy looking hair and lasts through a month of shampoos.

Whatever a woman's reason for wanting Loving Care for her hair, she is always wise to consult a professional beautician. Hairdressers are equipped with a family of fine Clairol products and the training to promise each patron the loveliest and most personalized haircoloring effects every time she visits her salon. If you dislike gray, and want no peroxide, why not ask your beautician to glamorize it with Loving Care?
