

Pastore Denies His Bill Is Anti-Black

WASHINGTON - Senator John O. Pastore, (D, R. I.), chairman of the Communications sub-committee of the Senate Committee on Commerce, last week denied that his bill to amend the Communications Act of 1934 (S. 2004), is anti-black. The Rhode Island Senator, whose bill is co-sponsored by 19 other Senators, with over 90 similar bills introduced in the House, replied bitterly to critics who assert that his bill was racist, by pointing to his civil rights record as Governor of Rhode Island.

"My record of civil rights stands open," he told Earle K. Moore, general counsel, National Citizens Committee for Broadcasting. "It was the first Governor in the United States to pass an FEPC law, and I have vigorously supported every civil rights measure that has been introduced in the Senate since becoming a member."

The Bill in question would, if enacted, prohibit the Federal Communications Commission from considering new applications for radio or TV stations until it had at first denied the renewal application for an existing station.

Dr. Kenneth R. Williams To Speak At Watts Chapel Sun

Dr. Kenneth R. Williams, president of Winston-Salem State University, Winston-Salem, will be the keynote speaker for Men's Day at Watts Chapel Baptist Church in Rhamkette Sunday, October 26, at the 11 a.m. worship hour.

DR. KENNETH R. WILLIAMS

A native of Norfolk, Va., Dr. Williams attended the public schools of Winston-Salem, received the Bachelor of Arts degree from Morehouse College, Atlanta, Ga., and holds the MA, S.T.B., and Ph.D. degrees from Boston University.

He is active in the civic and religious affairs of Winston-Salem. Prior to becoming president of Winston-Salem State University in 1961, he pastored such churches as Institutional Baptist Church and West End Baptist Church, both in Winston-Salem.

For four years, Dr. Williams served as a chaplain in the U. S. Army.

Chairman of Men's Day at Watts Chapel is Isaac Kearney, III. The Rev. Dr. Frank B. Weaver is pastor of the church. The public is invited to attend the services.

Band Echoes

BY JOSEPH EDWARDS
The Ligon Marching Band is continuing to develop under the guidance of the band seniors and the hard work of the drum major, Christopher Hinton. The other officers are James Hargrove, president; Larry King, vice president; Elsie Mitchell, secretary; Patricia Poole, assistant secretary; Geraldine Smith, treasurer; and Christopher Hinton, parliamentarian. In addition to these elected officers the band has many other fine leaders and workers who are striving to make the band the best. The group, at this time, is very anxious to do well as evidenced by the participation of more than half the number in a spirited rehearsal on their day off last Friday morning. We hope to go to Fayetteville for the Reid Ross game this Friday. Parents are invited to go as chaperones.

The following Friday we will play the Broughton Caps here. This game presents a small problem that some of our parents can solve. There are some members who do not have transportation to the game and back home. A car pool was suggested which would take in several of the players in a particular neighborhood for a ride to the park or to the school. A form will be issued next week for the parents to fill out. The information sought will center around how many band members you can take and which ones. We don't want to leave out anyone. We must have a full band to perform properly at the half-time and during the game. Special band points are given for each rehearsal and game.

Next we have Homecoming on November 7. We will play the Hillside Hornets at that time. Be sure to purchase your advance ticket early. We have two parades in line to round out the marching season. Then begins the second half of two band programs, Concert Season.

The Band Boosters Club's meeting earlier this month fell on world series day and we missed many members. A new date will be set for the near future. Now is the time for all band seniors interested in possible band scholarships to begin corresponding with schools around the state for applications and information. Several of our graduates are being benefited this year by work aids, etc. via the band.

One of the highlights of last year was the development of a jazz band at the William H. Fuller School. It was organized by the students themselves and we hope it gathers momentum as time goes by. The players are: Marvin Rogers, sax; Andrew Bates, trombone; Erwin Harris, baritone horn; Larry Williams, sax; Harvey Heartley, trumpet; James (Chip) Thomas, organ; Gregory Holden, trumpet; Ivan Owens, drums, and Robert Utley, guitar.

Once again, don't forget Homecoming - November 7. The recognition of all former Little Blues football players will take place at the half. All former Little Blues football players are urged to attend and to take part. During these 100 years of football the Little Blues teams have left their mark on the gridirons of the state.

Student Officers Elected At Holding Tech Institute

Following the balloting last week for officers of the Student Senate at Holding Tech, run-off elections were held on Monday, October 13, to determine the student government officers for the current academic year. In the original balloting by the approximately 600 students on Thursday, Oct. 9, only two of the four officers received the necessary majority for election.

Kenneth R. Creech of Benson was elected president on the first ballot, winning over William Schertzinger of Fuquay. For the officer of secretary, Sally Ann Undergraft of Garner was victorious over Christ Davis of Apex.

During the first balloting there were five candidates for the office of vice president, necessitating a run-off between the top two contenders - Winfred Clayton, a graduate of Valden Whitley High School and a resident of Wendell, and Benny Hocutt, a graduate of Corinth-Holders High School and a resident of Route 1, Wendell.

Hocutt was the successful candidate for the office of vice president.

Of the three candidates for the office of treasurer, the run-off election was between Gloria Fay Dean of Garner and Rhett Johnson of Holly Spring Road, Raleigh. Johnson, a graduate of Cary High School emerged as the winner of this contest.

Each of the winning candidates is a second year student at Holding Tech and all are candidates for the Associate in Applied Science degree. They will graduate in exercises to be held in August of 1970.

Social Security News

Robert A. Flynn, manager of the Raleigh Social Security Office, stated that there are some unmarried individuals over 18 years of age, disabled since birth or childhood who may be eligible for disability benefits.

There are several rules that must be met for these persons to be eligible for benefits. The disabled person must be the child of a worker who is receiving a monthly social security payment or of a deceased parent who has enough work under social security. The disability must have occurred before age 18 and must still exist. Also, the handicaps must be severe enough to prevent the person from working.

Mr. Flynn also said that efforts are made to reach these people or to alert those who know of them to get in touch with their nearest social security office. Parents who have a child who became disabled before age 18 and is still disabled should file an application.

This should be done regardless of the child's present age! The staff at your nearest office will provide assistance in every way possible. The office in Raleigh is located at 1122 Hillsborough Street and the telephone number is 828-9031, extension 471. They are open from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Monday through Thursday and from 8:30 a.m. to 6:30 p.m. on Friday.
