

Apex Consolidated Beat

BY FLORA HATLEY

APEX-In September, the doors of Apex Consolidated opened to fifty-two perspective June, 1970 graduates. Along with the duties and responsibilities of being a senior will come studying and homework as well as social activities. Therefore the senior class has put its first foot forward and elected these students to serve as class officers: President, Judy Wilson; vice president, Mary Council; secretary, Grace Powell; asst. secretary, Peggy Smith; treasurer, Donnie Cobb; asst. treasurer, Brenda Smith; financial secretary, Chester McCoy; parliamentarian, Joseph Byrd; sgt.-at-arms, Jerry Council; historians, Grace Powell, Danderlyn Johnson; and reporters, Loretta Burt, Glenda McMasters.

The first job confronting the newly-elected officers was the election of the annual staff. Compiling the Tiger this year is the job of editor, Jeanie Jefferys; co-editor, Glenda McMasters; business manager, Wilma Farrington; typist, Peggy Horton, Burma Hawkins, Flora Hatley, Loretta Burt, and advertisement manager, Danderlyn Johnson.

Although most of the business transactions have been taken in stride, there is also the matter of class rings, graduation portraits and announcements. The senior class has gladly announced that these details have been completed.

The junior class has gotten off to a good start this year also. The first item on the agenda for the junior class was the election of class officers. Filling the officer of president this year is Venson Thomas; vice president, Cynthia Jones; recording secretary, Brenda Smith; corresponding secretary, David Jones; treasurer, Violet Farrar; parliamentarian, Bernard Richardson; sgt.-at-arms, Phyllis Minter.

Preceding the election of class officers were the plans for the Junior-Senior Prom in the spring. With early planning the prom committee hopes to produce the best prom ever.

With the newly-elected class officers working diligently with their advisors, Mrs. M. L. Horton and Mrs. H. Hudson, the juniors chose and ordered their class rings during the first part of October.

With the first six weeks reporting period, Mr. C. D. Keck, principal of the Apex Consolidated School, has released the names of the students who have ASBURY - Sunday School opened at 10 a.m. with the supt., Mr. Charles Rogers, presiding. The opening hymn was "Trust and Obey." Prayer was led by Mr. Marshall Brown. The second hymn was "I Must Tell Jesus." The subject of the lesson was "Reforms Among God's People." The scripture was taken from II Kings 18:1-6 and 23:21-25. The banner attendance and banner class was the same. Their instructor was Mr. James White. A review of the lesson was given by Mr. Melvin Hooker.

Morning worship services began at 11 with the pastor, Rev. E. M. Jenerette presiding. The junior choir rendered the music. Mr. Marshall Brown gave the prayer. The scripture was taken from 34th Psalm; text of St. James' 6th chapter: "Which will we serve God or Baal?"

ANNOUNCEMENT

On November 7 the monthly board meeting will be held at 7:30.

A THOUGHT

"I have laid up thy word in my heart; that I might not sin against Thee." Psalms 119:11.

attained positions on the Honor Roll for this first reporting period. Peggy Ann Horton, a senior, made the A Honor Roll, and the following students maintained an over all average of B or better: Dwight Wright, Vanessa Roland, Cynthia Seagraves, Gloria Blackman, Wayne Cannady, Daryl Council, Gregory Council, Robert Stewart, Joan Cross, Samuel Garris, Carolyn Crump, Claude Farrar, Angela Scott, Janet Thomas, Reginald Stratford Hinton, Sharon Elaine Thomas, Sylvia Boone, Cheryl Yvonne Council, Mary Magaline Harris, Cynthia Jones, David Lee Jones, Bernard Douglass Richardson, Sherard Lovelace Richardson, Donnie Ben Cobb, Mary Ann Council, Dorothy Marie Franks, Flora Jane Hatley, Marilyn Sue Jones, Patricia Ann Judd, Jeanette Marie Lee, Linda Yvonne Mills, and Grace Marie Powell.

If no one else is happy that last week is a thing of the past, the freshman girls are.

All freshman girls were involved in the FHA (Future Homemakers of America) initiation. Coming to school in a very abrupt appearance, the girls "kept on keeping on." Through all the ridicule, the girls still held fast to their project. One of the most hilarious days was the first. On Monday, the girls had to walk around with a sauce pan which was a symbol of cooking.

Finally, all of the activities came to an end. On Friday, the officers were elected. They are: president, Jeannie Jefferys; vice president, Sylvia Boone; secretary, Brenda Fuller; treasurer, Phyllis Minter; reporter, Danderlyn Johnson; co-reporter, Grace Powell; historian, Violet Farrar; and song leader, Gail Burt. The newly installed FAHers are: Teresa Cross, Mary L. Hall, Patricia Hooker, Marilyn Lee, Wanda Mason, Sheila McDonald, Brenda Morrison, Glenda Rogers, Patricia Spinks, Sharon Thomas, Carolyn Yates, Kathy Farrington, Vickie Gaaney, Grace Smith, Virginia Burt, Rosa Mae Byrd, Vanessa Clay, Jennifer Gunter, Diane Harrington, Doretha Harris, Teresa Jones, Sharon Judd, Sylvia Judd, Marguerite Lunsford, Brenda McClain, Linda R. Mangum.

With the president presiding, everything was carried out very well. An extra attraction to the program was a skit done by several girls called, "Charlie Brown Learns About P. O. W." The skit was also performed at the FHA Convention last month and it was well performed by our own FHA girls.

The Apex Consolidated Alumni enjoyed a very interesting and rewarding meeting last Sunday afternoon in the school's lunchroom. Representatives from each graduating class attended this initial meeting (1957-1969) at which time the following officers were elected: president, Louis Powell; vice president, W. T. Wilson, Jr.; secretary, Mrs. Frances T. Bullock; and treasurer, Willis C. Cotton.

Plans were executed by the Association to sponsor an Alumni Ball on December 26, as its first major project. A membership drive is underway, whereby the goal is 100 percent participation by all graduates and/or former students. The president, Mr. Powell, has announced a period of two weeks for securing charter membership.

Pivoting the membership drive are the following: Wayne McMasters, Lovelance Jones, Johnny Judd, Willie Earl Grimsley, Mrs. Betty H.

PRINCIPALS IN A&T SERVICE ALUMNI WORSHIP-Participants in the annual Alumni Worship Service at A&T State University last Sunday included Mrs. Shirley E. Frye, Greensboro, the Rev. Sampson Buie, assistant scout executive of the General Greene Council, Greensboro, Mrs. Julia Brooks, national president of the A&T State University General Alumni Association, Philadelphia; and Willie J. Walls, Chadbourn. The Rev. Mr. Buie was guest speaker at the service.

Spence, Mrs. Barbara U. Jones, Mrs. Dorothy G. Thomas and Miss Julia Horton.

The next meeting will be held on November 16, at 5 p.m. in the Apex Consolidated School Lunchroom, where plans will be finalized for the Alumni Ball. Also on the agenda is the special tribute that will be paid to the class with the largest attendance.

Bernice Marrow of Raleigh. We welcome visitors always.

Sunday afternoon at 2:30 the Church observed its 15th annual Homecoming Day. Rev. E. T. Thompson, pastor of the Community Baptist Church of Durham, his choir and congregation, rendered the services. Rev. Thompson's text was taken from the Book of Genesis 4:8. He used as a subject "The Secret Storm." It was a great sermon. Mrs. Frances Marrow gave the welcoming address; Mrs. Bernice Bullock read the history; Mrs. Doris Richardson and Mrs. Joyce McDonald lifted the offering. The captains report was given by Mrs. Louise Colvin. Our goal was $3,500 which was realized. The pastor and members are thankful for the success of this Homecoming.

PERSONALS

Mr. Willie H. Morton of Durham was the Sunday evening guest at the Colvin home. Mr. Morton has just recently moved to North Carolina from Chicago.
