BARNES STILL
...had to do day work. She told him that her father could drive a tractor, according to what Miss Lois Fowler told Lt. Liles. She further stated that the man called her father and told him his name was Huey Hicks. Miss Ada Fowler is reported to have called her sister back about 10:20 p.m. on Monday and told her she was being held against her will by five white men in a house with all the lights out, gave the same phone number that Hicks had given her father and asked Miss Lois Fowler to call the police.

A check with Hicks at 952

Beverly Drive revealed that Miss Fowler was not at this house. Mr. Hicks told officers that he had an office at the corner of E. Davie and Dakar Streets, and related that Marshall Barnes, who is employed by him, had brought two colored females to the office Monday afternoon and wanted to drink some whiskey there.

Hicks said he "made them leave since I was fixing to leave."

Around 10 p.m., Hicks said, he received a call from an unknown female, who told him that she was one of the girls that had been in his office that afternoon and wanted him to bring her some money so she could buy a bus ticket and told Hicks he could take it out of Barnes' pay. Hicks stated he thought the woman had been drinking, told her that he could not do that and hung up the telephone, he declared.

More than 28,000,000 trucks, buses and passenger cars are produced each year in the 27 major vehicle producing countries of the world.

More than $31 billion dollars was spent in recreational automobile travel in the United States during 1968.

With the addition of 50 new Troopers by the 1969 General Assembly, the State Highway Patrol now numbers 927 members.

EARL WARREN

try in the town that is bringing economic stability to it. His achievement was recently cited by Business Week Magazine in an article in its August 9th issue called "New Chance for a Black Town."

His award will be presented by Henry Parks, Jr., president of H. G. Parks, Inc., of Baltimore, who received a citation from the League last year. More than 1,800 persons are expected to attend the affair. Leontyne Price, famous Metropolitan Opera soprano, will be the guest artist.

This year the League changed the format of the Equal Opportunity Day Dinner in order to present the special citation to Justice Warren and Mr. Lee. Previously, the EOD dinner gave twin awards to a major figure in industry and to a major figure in the trade union movement.

This will mark one of the rare times that Justice Warren has agreed to accept an award for his work on the nation's highest court.
