Wake Opportunities' SIGHTS & SOUNDS

BY MISS PATRICIA BURKS

In this, the first column of the "Sights and Sounds" series, we should like to acquaint the readers with the purpose, Wake County Opportunities, Incorporated, our local Community - Action Program, in an effort to better serve all the people of the area, plans to publish this column weekly to inform the public of activities sponsored by the organization.

Among the items which should interest particularly the older readers comes this one from the Senior Citizens Center, 416 East Cabarrus Street. Recently a group of ladies began meeting at the center to make stuffed animals to be sold at the Africana Art Gallery at 512 West

Hargett Street. The money made from the sale of these animals will be used to help finance supplies for dancing, music, and art classes for under-privileged children. Any lady wishing to join this group is invited to come to the Senior Citizens Center each Tuesday at 1 p.m. Transportation will be provided if desired by calling 828-3509.

Tired of seeing those old abandoned cars and piles of litter around your neighborhood? Now you can really do something about improving the appearance of your community. The North Blount Street Community Action Center will hold a meeting to organize plans for a clean-up campaign at Murphy School, Wednesday, November 5, at 7:30 p.m. Everyone is urged to attend.

Word comes from Zebulon that the Eastern Wake Council, a part of the Wake Association for Community Action, is building its membership, and that all interested citizens should contact the Little River Community Action Center. All parents of preschool children in the Zebulon area are urged to attend a meeting Thursday, November 6, at 7:30 p.m. at the Little River Center to discuss plans for a Child Development Center now being established. New Careers sends word that the enrollees in the program will sponsor representatives in the Shaw University Homecoming Parade. Those riding in the parade will be the officers of the New Careers 'Enrollees' Organization.

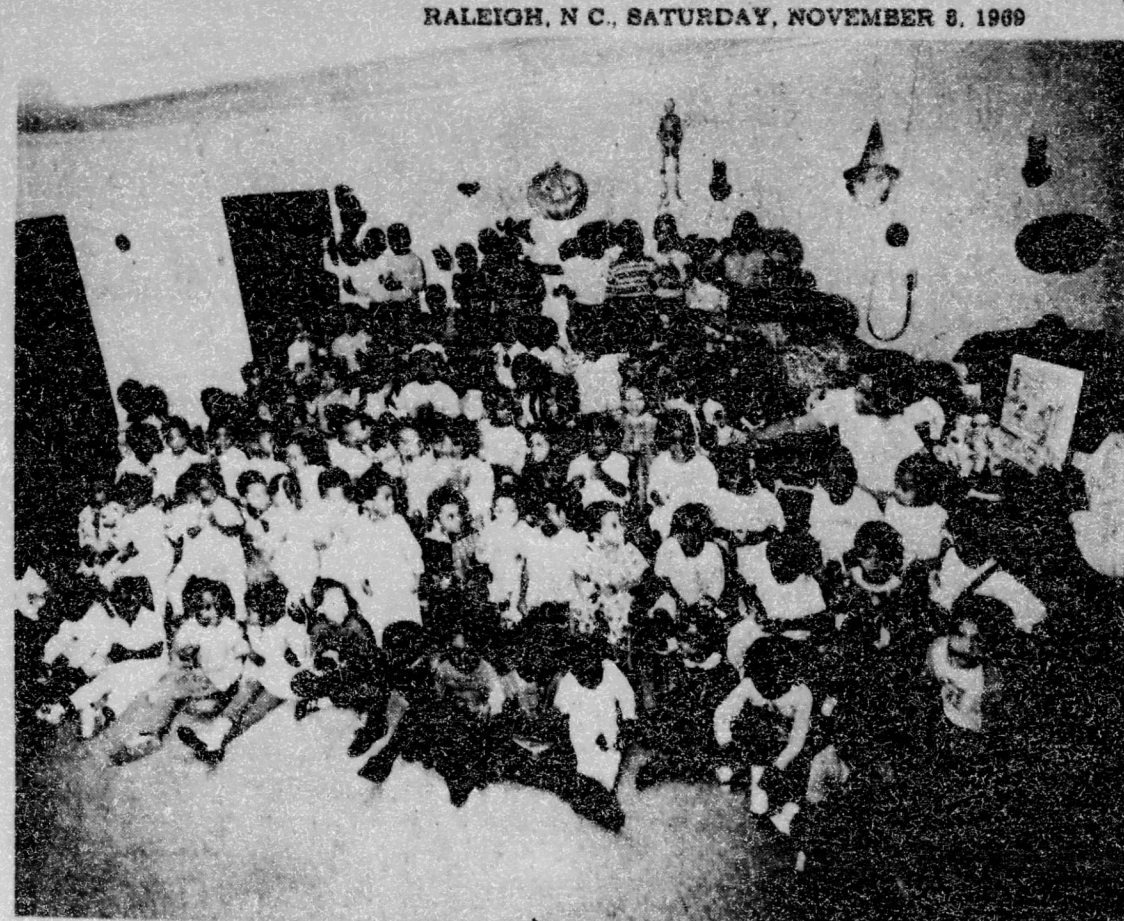

Wake Opportunities is a program for all the citizens of Wake County. If you are not involved, become involved; if you are involved, become more involved. You can really help to change your community for the better.
