HENDERSON NEWS

BY L. B. RUSSELL

HENDERSON - Thanksgiving Day passed very quietly here in Henderson. The skies were clear for the most part of the day and late in the afternoon the clouds covered the skies. All public businesses were closed with the exception of a few stores operated by individuals. The U. S. Post Office was closed and there were no rural deliveries.

WEEKEND VISITORS

Miss Elizabeth Smith was the weekend guest of her mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. Julie Smith of 1435 Nicholas Street. Miss Smith expressed herself as being very happy at being with her parents, brothers and sisters. She will be leaving for Washington, D. C. where she is furthering her education. She is a graduate of Henderson Institute, in the class of 1969.

Mrs. Jacqueline Velton Johnson of Flint, Mich., spent the weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Grant Hawkins, of 1507

Nicholas Street. Mrs. Johnson, formerly a citizen of Henderson, where she completed her high school work and then matriculated at N. C. State University. After completing the prescribed course at the university, she was married to Mr. Johnson and they both are engaged in professional work in Flint, Mich.

The writer was happy to have as his guests on Thanksgiving Day, his daughters, Harriett Russell Dixon, Elnora Russell Grice, his son-in-law, William Dixon, grandson, Roderick Grice, and his granddaughter, Samandra Dixon. Roderick is attending school at Palmer Memorial Institute, Sedalia. Samandra is not in school, but under the guidance of her mother.

Mrs. Dixon, who holds the master's degree in guidance from Hampton Institute and a bachelor's degree from Livingstone College, Salisbury.

Their visit with us was brief to our regret. They left Sunday for their work, as stenographer and secretary in a business corporation in the city of New York and the public schools of Greenville.

An honorary program was rendered last Sunday evening at the New Bethel Baptist Church in behalf of Mr. James T. Marrow. Mr. Marrow, a young man who grew up in this community is honored, loved and respected by his comrades. Not only does he confine himself to his work of teaching in the public schools in the city of Henderson, but he is instrumental in working with the various churches in the community and conducting choruses. The Community Chorus and other choirs furnished the music. The program was conducted by Mr. Joseph Nichols.

Grid coaches Huble Doub, Page Saunders and Stanko Gulescu have joined the Ivory hunters beating the prep bushes in an effort to bolster the Broncos football fortunes. Coach Doub has instructed his personnel to seek out players with a determination and desire for winning football. It is no secret that the North Carolina produced some outstanding prepsters during the 1969 year.
