A revised plan for urban renewal in Southside Raleigh was unanimously adopted Tuesday by the City Council which has pledged its all-out support for the plan.

The revised plan calls for the construction of 644 housing units and reserves space for a triple deck intersection to be formed by the extensions of Dawson and McDowell Streets and Western Boulevard.

In the original redevelopment scheme, only a 220 unit housing complex was proposed for moderate-income familes. Yet it was estimated that 645 families and individual lived in the area. (See SOUTHSDE, P. 2)

Harold O'Kelly White, 617 Rosemont Avenue, told Officers R. T. Clark and D. W. Dalmas at 11:25 p.m. Thursday, that he went to a residence at E. Hargett and S. East Streets to inquire about a friend of his. He said he was assaulted by three young colored males, who threatened him with a knife, then beat him and took his billfold, containing $168 and assorted papers. Mr. White suffered bruises and abrasions of the face. No description of his attackers was given to the cops.

WASHINGTON - Impressive gains have been made but wide discrepancies remain in the of Negroes compared with other Americans, according to a study published by the Bureau of Census, U. S. Department of Commerce, and the Labor Department's Bureau of Labor Statistics.

Negroes are more likely to be getting higher incomes, holding better jobs, living in better housing, and getting more education than they were a decade ago, but are still at a disadvantage compared with white Americans in educational and occupational attainment, the study concludes.
