

"Unite Through Soul And Pride," Blacks Told

Library Building D. P. C. Box 1736 Louisville 1, Ky. 40201

Use Of Humanism Is Advised

BOSTON, Mass.—Dr. C. Eric Lincoln urged Black Americans last week to use the pride we have preserved and the humanism we call "soul" to build the unity and power we must have if we are to survive.

Appealing for Black community through a speech to the Black Unitarian Universalist Caucus (BUUC) during its historic national meeting in Washington, D. C., the Black scholar said that "so long as color is a constant factor" in the forces Shaping Black people's lives, and so long as the power in the ghetto is not ghetto power but white power, Black Americans must pool their resources and move together to get what they want.

What we have to do it with, he said, is the ego we have managed to keep through all oppression, and "the consensus of feeling" that The New Black calls "soul."

Soul, he said, is a good principle of survival; and the expressions "soul brother" and "soul sister" recognize a common, unified experience "which moves from thralldom to freedom, from freedom to power, from the power to responsibility and from responsibility to creativity."

"To have soul is to be capable to making a certain emotional response to an historical experience and expressing that response in a way that

NEA Hits Jim Crow - Urges Unity

WASHINGTON, D. C.—School desegregation in East Texas is producing "arbitrary and discriminatory treatment" of black students and teachers, a report released Sunday by the National Education Association charges.

In a 57-page document outlining the failures and frustrations of desegregation in 25 rural counties east of Dallas and Houston, the NEA recommends formation of "black occupational caucuses" by teachers to give blacks the political power they need to fight "white domination."

Based on a special study by NEA's Commission on Professional Rights and Responsibilities, the report tells of the systematic elimination of black educators and the "humiliations" suffered by black students in a setting characterized by "outstanding statistical progress in school desegregation."

The report, titled "Beyond Desegregation: The Problem of Power," sets up East Texas as a model for the rest of the country to examine for pitfalls in the school desegregation process.

A four-member special committee, which spent four months studying East Texas, found numerous examples of black educators losing jobs as a result

St. Aug.'s Grad Given Nat'l Honor

The Rev. Canon Theodore R. Gibson, class of '38, Saint Augustine's College, of Coconut Grove, Florida, received the 1969 Leonard L. Abess Human Relations Award of the Anti-Defamation League of B'nai B'rith last week.

The award consisted of a plaque appropriately inscribed and a grant of $1,000, by Leonard L. Abess in honor of the awardee, which is used for research by an American uni-

POINTS RIFLE AT HEAD—Carl Edward Cotton, 700 Gorman Street, told Officer G. T. Lloyd at 5:24 p.m. on Thursday, that he was riding down Western Boulevard and stopped for a red light. He said two white subjects got out of a 1963 Studebaker truck, one holding a .22 calibre rifle, and told Cotton, "if you don't put that tire tool under the seat I'll blow your brains out." Cotton said the tire tool was lying inside the car but denied threatening the whites with it. A suspect was listed as Lester Ray Brown, Route 1, Knightdale.

WHERE MRS. HASTY'S BODY WAS FOUND

The body of Mrs. Armeata Hasty, 52, program director of the new YWCA, was found in this trash dump at the exact spot marked by the cross. At right is the plastic builders' cover which was among the several items of trash used to conceal the body. This scene is located some fifteen miles from the Raleigh City Limits, near the Quail Corners Shopping Center. The body was found more than 400 yards from the nearest dirt road. The slat-like object near the bottom of photo was also covering the remains. Traces of eye and strands of human hair were also seen. The body was lying in the exact center of photo.

Confiscate 32 Gals. Of Booze Here

Charles Robert Vines, 910 Mark Street, was convicted of illegal possession of non-tax paid whiskey for the purpose of sale in District Court last week. Vines was fined $200 and court costs.

The incident first came to light when 32 gallons of "moonshine", all neatly packaged in clear plastic bottles and cardboard boxes were confiscated in November of 1969.

On Tuesday of this week, Officers Raymond DeVone and K. J. Johnson had the "task" of pouring the liquor down the drain at Police Headquarters. After pouring out some six gallons of the booze, Officer Johnson said he would have to wait a few minutes until the liquor oozed out to unstop the drain and complete the job of disposing of the remaining twenty-six gallons.

According to officials, the supply that was poured out Tuesday had been processed in a still using galvanized piping,

Suggests Boycott Of Media

LOUISVILLE, Ky. — Peace, civil-rights, and anti-poverty organizations throughout the nation have been asked to refuse to cooperate with news media who give confidential information to government agencies.

The request was made by the executive committee of the Southern Conference Educational Fund (SCEF), a South-wide interracial group working to end racial injustice, poverty,

MISS WILLA N. SMITH

Man Said Motive In 'Slicing'

Mrs. Mary Frances Sapp, 39, 715 E. Davie Street, told Officer Bruce E. Tucker at 9:55 Thursday, that Miss Willa Norma Smith, 38, 721 1/2 E. Davie Street, came to this address and found her (Mrs. Sapp), talking with Oscar Green. She said Miss Smith then became angry and stabbed her. The officer reported, "When I arrived at the scene, Mrs. Sapp was standing in front of 715 E. Davie Street. She had been stabbed in the back and the arm."

Tucker also reported that Mrs. Sapp pointed out Miss Smith to him as she stood down the street, saying, "That's the person who stabbed me." Miss Smith was then arrested and charged with assault with a deadly weapon. Mrs.

Mrs. Hasty, YW Official, Is Murdered

Mystery still surrounds the circumstances surrounding the bizarre death by choking last Thursday of Mrs. Armeata Hasty, 52, popular program director of the new YWCA, 554 E. Hargett, whose bound body was found in a trash dump, near the Falls of Neuse, some 15 miles north of the city. Being held in Wake County Jail on a charge of murder is her husband, Herman Hasty, 57.

According to MRS. HASTY information received by a CAROLINIAN newsmen last Saturday morning when he interviewed Assistant Wake County Coroner Trumass S. Rhodes, Mrs. Hasty's body was "in mighty bad shape. It was about as cruel a thing as you can find," Rhodes also said two boxes of Red Devil's lye had been poured over the body. Wake County Sheriff Robert J. Pleasants said in an interview last Friday, that his office has reason to believe she had been murdered and buried in this specific trash dump. A nylon cord was drawn tightly around the woman's neck.

According to the sheriff, the body was wrapped in a blanket which was bound with hemp rope around the arms, shoulders and feet.

Covering the body was a sheet of builders' plastic, and on top of the plastic were sheets of cardboard, an old screen door, an automobile tire and other pieces of old building materials. Pleasants said he believed Mrs. Hasty was murdered sometime Thursday.

Where's Brown?

BEL AIR, Md.—Where is militant H. Rap Brown?

An associate of his and an unidentified man were killed by an explosion Tuesday that completely shattered the car in which they were riding, south of this town.

Brown himself was nowhere to be found—not at home in New York City or here, where he is on trial on charges of arson and inciting to riot.

But a medical examiner and Brown's lawyer, William M. Kunstler, said they did not

BLASTS INTEGRATION SEGREGATION — Washington: Roy Inlis, national director of the Congress of Racial Equality (CORE), charged that neither segregated nor integrated schools have worked for Black children. Inlis, at a press conference March 5, called for racially separate school systems run by the predominant races in those districts. (UPI).

SCENE OF EXPLOSION, VICTIM AND PRINCIPAL—Bel Air, Md.: An explosion rocked this suburban community early March 10, killing two blacks one of whom was identified as Ralph E. Featherstone, (left to right). The remains of the car in which the two were riding is shown as two Maryland State Troopers view the remains. Featherstone, 30, was said to be a close friend of H. Rap Brown (right inset). The identity of the other man in the car is still unknown, but Brown has not been seen nor heard from since the explosion. He was to have been tried this week on a charge of inciting to riot. (UPI).

"RAPPING" FOR RAP—Bel Air, Md.: William Kunstler, attorney for H. Rap Brown who faces charges of riot and arson in connection with racial violence in Cambridge, Md., is surrounded by supporters of Brown during a recess of the first day of Brown's trial March 9. Kunstler, talking with reporters, defended the Chicago Seven against riot conspiracy allegations. (UPI).

NUL Urges Open Policy Of Admission

NEW YORK—Condemning antiquated college admission practices, the National Urban League last week called on institutions of higher learning throughout the country to "adopt or re-establish" policies of open admission. In its strongest statement on the issue, the League's 56-member Board of Trustees urged that both private and public funds be directed into "creating opportunities whereby any person who has completed requirements for graduation from an accredited high school or its equivalent be assured access to higher education."

The statement was released by James A. Linen, League President, and Whitney M. Young, Jr., the organization's Executive Director. Mr. Linen is also Chairman of the Executive Committee of Time, Inc. "Open admission policies have been the heritage of our land-grant colleges," the League asserted, adding that the nation's colleges and universities were long overdue in ending admissions systems that lock minority youth out of productive careers and rob them of a stake in society.

Urging swift action on its recommendation, the board noted that colleges and universities were expanded quickly in the wake of World War II to accommodate returning veterans

Did Black Bishops Boycott COCU Meet?

ST. LOUIS, Mo.—It was noted that many of the black bishops, scheduled to take part in the meeting of Consultation on Church Union, boycotted the opening session of the annual meeting, which opened at the Sheraton-Jefferson Hotel, Monday morning, or whether they were too busy.

The total absence of any prelates of the AME Zion Church was of grave concern to the other members of the delegation. Bishop W. J. Walls, leader of the delegation, was reported as being in Rock Hill, S. C., where he took part in the dedication of two buildings, at Clinton College. Bishop H. R. Shaw,
