Students Work Teachers Overtime For Training

BY RICHARD E. MOORE

GREENSBORO — There are some crazy things going on in an experimental computer science class at A&T State University this summer.

Teachers of the class don't laugh anymore when students keep them overtime or show up an hour before the regularly scheduled class period. They know these kids are for real. Five and six hours daily of training in computer science and advanced algebra seems to be more fun to the 30 students, all who graduated from high school last month.

"This program is going better than we ever expected," said director Mrs. Nan Manuel.

"These students will be very well adjusted and ready to begin serious study in mathematics in the fall."

The A&T program, funded by a grant from the Kellogg Foundation, was conceived to combat the high dropout of math majors at the University. The students get free tuition and a stipend of $10 per week.

"We were concerned about the number of students who begin their college careers as math majors, then decide on something else," said Mrs. Manuel. "We feel some of this may be an adjustment problem."

Caviness, vice president; Catherine Ashburg, secretary; Elsie Hinton, assistant secretary; Walter Egerton, treasurer; Vedesa Henry, librarian; Michael Rogers, parliamentarian; Michael Caviness, assistant director, and drum major, Cicero Upchurch.

1. Cicero Upchurch... Clarinet Section Leader and soloist, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Cicero Upchurch. He also plays the saxophone. He is a member of the music honor society, The "Modern Music Masters", and is the parliamentarian of the sophomore class. His future ambition is to be prominent in the field of engineering.

2. Clarence Williams... A graduate of the band plays the alto saxophone. He is a member of the Baptist Church and is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Williams. He was a member of the "Knights of Soul." He plans to be a specialist in computers.

3. Carolyn Archible... is a member of the clarinet section. She is the daughter of Mrs. Betty Jean Williams. She works at the Smith Temple Free-will Baptist Church. In addition to the band, she is a member of the "Vogues" and participated in the Jabberwock and the Debutantes last year. She plans to become a fashion designer.

4. Barbara Elaine Jeffries... is a member of the First Baptist Church and plays the flute in the Marching and Concert Bands. Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. Lee Jeffries. She is active in the FHA. She plans to attend North Carolina Central University and major in history. Her second choice is to major in business.

5. Donald Wayne Mial... is the leader of the trombone section. He is the son of Mrs. Maurice Mildred Mial. He attends the Lincoln Park Holiness Church. He is on the flower committee and the usher board. In school, he is a "Viking" member. He hopes to major in history at North Carolina Central University.

6. Dwight Anthony Barney... is a member of the percussion section. He has a leading role and rank leader this year. Many of the future formations will be led by the cymbal player. He attends the Maple Temple Church. In school, he is a member of the VICA Club and the MBA club. He plans to be an Airline Technician.

7. Catherine Ashburg... is the daughter of Mrs. Eloise Ashburg and plays first clarinet in the band. She belongs to the Providence Holiness Church. She is assistant secretary of the junior class and her homeroom class. She is a member of the FHA, Mariettes and the Debs. She also participated in the Jabberwock last year. She will major in Elementary Education.

Band rehearsals will begin July 15th...

1964 Honor Grad At Ligon Earns Master's

On June 10, Mrs. Diann White Worrell received her Master's degree from the University of Tennessee's School of Social Work at Knoxville, Tennessee. Mrs. Worrell happily ended twenty-consecutive years of education, which began at the age of four when she attended Tuttle Community Center on Tarboro Street here.

From there, she attended Lucille Hunter School and John W. Ligon High School in Raleigh and had favorable academic records at both places. Before leaving Raleigh, she was very active in the First Baptist Church.

She received scholarships to both Vanderbilt University and the University of Tennessee, where she earned her Bachelor of Arts and master of Science degrees in Social Work, respectively.

Employers Face Race And Sex Discrimination

WASHINGTON — William H. Brown III, chairman of the U. S. Equal Employment Opportunity Commission has announced that he has issued formal Federal charges against six Missouri companies alleging discrimination in the hiring and recruitment of blacks and Spanish Surnamed Americans, and against seven companies and two labor unions alleging discrimination because of sex.

The companies charged of racial discrimination have 23 installations in Missouri and one in Kansas. EEOC will investigate the charges to determine whether the employers and unions are engaging in illegal discriminatory employment practices and will attempt to eliminate any discrimination the investigation reveals.

Performs At Saint Augustine's

Saint Augustine's College students witnessed the performance of the WALLA WA BASICS, an Afro-American Dance Troupe, which appeared July 2. In the Student Union, Life in the Ghetto was depicted, with the philosophy of the dope addict being "you gotta be high to survive."

The seven member group danced with Haitian Rhythm, a dance of the trawmen in Nigeria, Shango Ritual adapted to the West African high life, and dances with Nigerian influences, accompanied by the drums.

The troupe, from Chicago, Illinois, was organized in 1967 and studied under Katherine Dunham at her cultural center. They have performed in many colleges in the Chicago area.

MRS. DIANN W. WORRELL

Mrs. Sylvester White, Sr., and her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Rogerline Pipkins White were in Knoxville to witness the graduation. She hopes to continue her education after a few years of practice in social work.

Mrs. Worrell and her husband, Clarence John, live at 1100 33rd Ave., North in Nashville, Tennessee. She is the oldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Administrator of Veterans Affairs, Donald E. Johnson, announced recently that construction projects at 17 VA hospitals will cost an estimated $16 million in the next 19 months.

NC Cherokees Get EDA Grant

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Approval of a $28,080 grant to help continue a program of planning for economic growth on the Cherokee Reservation in North Carolina was announced by Robert A. Podesta, Assistant Secretary of Commerce for Economic Development.

The Eastern Band of Cherokee Indians, with headquarters at Cherokee, is the applicant for the grant from the Economic Development Administration, U. S. Department of Commerce.

The funds will be used to help pay the administrative costs of a professional staff to assist the tribe in planning and carrying out programs for economic and social development.

Cherokee leaders are working to attract industry to the reservation and to expand tourism in order to create job opportunities and increase incomes.

Slightly over half (5.5 million) of the workers who voluntarily accepted part-time jobs in 1969 were adult women. Adult men accounted for about 2 million of those who usually worked part time and teenagers were credited with holding an additional 2.8 million part-time jobs.

In 1940, Bogey played Chips Maguire in "It All Came True." You paid 20 cents to watch. And if you were really in the money, you had a nickel left over for a bag of popcorn. Since then, the cost of living has gone up about 160 percent. But the average price of electricity for your home has gone down 44 percent, nearly half what it was when the chips were down for bad guy Maguire.
