

DEAR SALLY

BY SALLY SHAW

DEAR SALLY: My parents seem to think that young people should hide their love, just as though they were ashamed of it. My fiancé and I are very much in love, but every time we happen to get together either at home or out somewhere, or if we happen to hold hands while we're walking, my parents have fits. And if we should kiss each other, either in greeting or good-by, you'd think we had done something downright immoral! How about this? MONITORED.

DEAR MONITORED: There are parents who just don't like to see their children do these things—even though they themselves probably did much the same once upon a time. About all you can do is to try to make your love a little more private, a little less demonstrative in the presence of your parents. And after all, true love doesn't have to be proved by public display.

DEAR SALLY: I am in receipt of the "most unusual" invitation in my life -- a "money shower." This has thrown me for a loss. In the first place, if I were to accept I would not know just how much money I would be expected to "donate" to the bride. In the second place, if I were to decline, I don't know whether I'd still be expected to mail a gift of money. And in the third place, I can't help feeling this sort of invitation is presumptuous and in poor taste. How do you feel about it? H. M.

DEAR H. M.: The same as you. And in your place I shouldn't hesitate to decline. I nor should I mail any "donation."

DEAR SALLY: My fiancée wants to give me a wedding ring when we are married, and I don't like the idea. To me, a wedding ring on a man's finger always marks him as a "hen-pecked husband." I realize of course that you are a woman, but regardless of this I'd still appreciate your comments on this. MIKE.

DEAR MIKE: Woman though I may be, the first thing I think that there are many, many men today who wear wedding rings and are still anything but "hen-pecked." Or course, whether you do or do not wear a ring is entirely up to you, but if your fiancée really wants very much for you to wear one, rather than create any fuss, why not go along with her?

DEAR SALLY: The members of my women's bridge club customarily put up a $1.00 fee each for prizes when we play.

THE VETERANS CORNER

EDITOR'S NOTE: Veterans and their families are asking thousands of questions concerning the benefits their Government provides for them through the Veterans Administration. Below are some representative queries. Additional information may be obtained at any VA office.

Q -- My only income is $200 a month military retirement benefit based on longevity. I am without dependents and, due to a non-service incurred disability, I am totally disabled and permanently bedridden. Am I eligible for VA pension benefits?

A -- If you waive your entire retirement benefit, you may be eligible for a tax-free VA disability pension of $210 a month, which includes an aid and attendance benefit. Contact your nearest VA office.

Q -- I am a veteran rated 100 per cent for service-connected disabilities incurred during peacetime. Am I eligible for out-patient treatment of ailments not related to military service?

A -- No, you are not eligible unless you had some wartime service.

Q -- I am attending school under the GI Bill. What must I do to qualify for the increased educational allowances under the recent amendment to the GI Bill?

A -- No action is required on your part. The VA will automatically see that you receive the increased payments.

Q -- I am 65 years old and plan to retire soon. Can I convert my National Service Life Insurance to the new Modified Life Plan?

A -- No, The Modified Life Plan insurance is not available after six months have passed since your 60th birthday.

Q -- I am a Vietnam veteran who plans to start a small business. May I use the GI loan for this purpose?

A -- No, GI business loans are not available to Vietnam veterans. However, you might try the Small Business Administration.

Veterans' reemployment rights to not differ for persons who are drafted and those who choose to enlist in the armed forces.

Holden Brings Hartford Into Saint Aug.'s Alumni "Fold"

Every now and then we are compelled to call upon a substitute when one of our members is unable to attend and I'm wondering if, in a case like this, it is proper to ask the woman who is filling in to put up $1.00 along with the regular members. SLAM.

DEAR SLAM: Since the guest is already doing your club a big favor by filling in, she should not be asked to contribute any money. The hostess in whose home that meeting is taking place should, in appreciation of the guest's courtesy, take care of the extra fee.

HARTFORD, Connecticut--The Hartford St. Augustine's College Alumni became the eleventh chapter in thirteen months to be organized and/or reactivated since Peter G. Holden, Sr., president of St. Augustine's National (Reform) Alumni, was elected to that office.

The Hartford chapter was organized last Saturday evening, by Mr. Holden, at 8 p.m. during a meeting which was staged in The St. Monica's Episcopal Church Rectory on 138 Palm Street. Father Cyril C. Burke, Rector at St. Monica's, was appointed Acting President of the new alumni chapter while Dr. George B. J. Sadler, a prominent Hartford, dentist was named Acting first vice president.

Mr. Holden stressed the need for greater alumni participation and activation in the affairs of the alma mater with special emphasis on recruitment of students from urban ghetto areas and St. Augustine's five year, 30 million dollar expansion and development fund raising project. He also looked forward to meeting with "each of us again on September 12th, 12th and 13th, when the national alumni association holds its annual 'confab by the sea' on Virginia Beach. The convention will be held in the Gay Vacationer Motor Inn at 34th St. and Ocean Front.

Chapter officers appointed were: Fr. Burke, president; Dr. Sadler, Vice-President; Dr. McAlpine, Special Consultant on Group Behavior Patterns (to the National President); Mrs. A. Gloria Burke; Mrs. Margaret McAlpine Smith; Miss Anne Warren; Mrs. Maria Brocco and J. Albert Brocco. Mr. Holden motored to Hartford with Charles E. Crowe (formerly of Dunn and Mt. Olive N. C.) and his twin daughters Alice and Alicia and the visiting New Yorkers were the house guests of former Shaw University football and basketball star Donald (Moon) and Mrs. Altee Crowe Garner of Dunham St. Upon arriving at the Garners' former North Carolina A&T State University man Crowe jokingly said "guess what Garner, Peter is here to organize 'all three' St. Aug. alumni." Garner, in true Shaw University

St. Augustine's, said - "It won't work, it won't work," after which all three let go a burst of laughter. Holden and Garner who had confronted each other several times on the gridiron, Garner wearing the maroon and white of Shaw and Holden the blue and white of St. Augustine's talked about three hours as they relived those days when each played guard for his school.

The two men's conversation centered around that Coach Jimmy Lytle, Shaw University team with the dream backfield composed of Claude (Ram) Govan; J. (Hog) Fleming; Hollis Creevy, Thomas Kae and Marable, Creevy and Fleming were halfback, Govan fullback and Kae and Marable quarterbacks.

Garner revealed a 30 year Shaw University secret when he said "we were always worried about St. Aug." St. Aug. during those years had a losing team while Shaw University was winning seven out of a nine game card.

Indians on reservations, who now represent about two-thirds of the more than 650,000 American Indians, are the country's most disadvantaged minority group. These people have an extremely high unemployment rate and an average annual income of less than $2,000. Some Indians on reservations earn as little as $500 a year.
