"I am more powerful than the combined armies of the world. I have destroyed more men than all the wars of the nations. I am more deadly than bullets and I have wrecked more homes than the mightiest of sieges. I spare no one, and I find my victims among rich and poor alike, the young and the old, the strong and the weak. I lurk in uncertain places and do most of my work silently. You are warned against me but you heed me not. I bring sickness, degradation, and death, and yet few seek to avoid me. I give nothing but take all. I am your worst enemy. I am carelessness."
