Black Christian Nationalist Movement To Serve Harlem, Via Street Ministry

NEW YORK CITY—"Wherever the congregation is, is where the Shrine's services will be held," said the Rev. William Land, pastor of Shrine No. 5. "We are here to serve Black folks, we are not about being property owners! Any property that we do own, is 'service property'."

This is the guiding spirit of a new, relevant ministry that is entering Harlem for the first time.

Initially, the Shrine's activities will center around St. rallies and gatherings as well-known Harlem locations.

The order of worship of the services include the Sacrament of commitment to the Black Nation.

The main thrust of Black Christian Nationalism is to remove the 'slavery' from Christianity. . . a Black religion!

Later in the summer, Shrine No. 5 will initiate a 24 hour baby-sitting service, a feeding program, Brotherhood service, and a community Black Skills Bank. Other areas of involvement will be: welfare, housing and narcotics.

The Movement's activities will center around the Black Community's self-determination, African Communalism and the rejection of white money.

Finally, the Shrine of the Black Madonna No. 5, like all of the Shrines, will forge ahead with the determined commit-

Black History Guide Is Off Press

Readers' interested in places in America where blacks made history can now obtain an expanded edition of the popular $5.95 book, "An American Traveler's Guide To Black History," at the special price of $1 a copy.

The offer, which is less than cost, was made possible through a special arrangement between the American Oil Company and the publisher, Doubleday & Company.

The book was first published in a soft-cover, booklet form in 1963 as a contribution by American Oil to the centennial observance of the Emancipation Proclamation. Then, as now, it listed locations in the United States that are connected with Black who contributed to many historic events.

Hundreds of thousands of copies of the booklet were distributed by American history classes, and it played an important role in focusing attention on the neglect of blacks in conventional history textbooks.

Another greatly expanded edition, written by Phillip T. Dorn-ning, was published in 1968 in a hard-cover version by Doubleday & Co. It sells for $5.95 a copy.

The new 275-page edition contains 16 pages of illustrations associated with many of the places described in the text. The new edition still follows the original format in which the author traces the role of blacks in the progress of America and associates the events with physical locations in each of the 50 states. A preface by U. S. Senator Edward W. Brooke remains in the new edition.

The author, Phillip T. Dorn-ning, was formerly manager of communications for the American Oil Company and is now director of urban affairs for American's parent company, Standard Oil Company (Indiana).

The special, illustrated, hard-cover edition may be obtained by writing to Black History Book Offer, Doubleday & Co., P. O. Box 743 Garden City, New York, 11530, and enclosing $1 for each copy ordered.

An investment in Your Future ATTEND CHURCH

Childhood PLEASURES

"Even a child is known by his doings, whether his work be pure, and whether it be right."

A mother only has to glance at her child to know if his play is pure, or if it is leading to mischief. Our Father in heaven can as easily look on our hearts and judge our ways. "A good man out of the good treasure of the heart bringeth forth good things: and an evil man out of the evil treasure bringeth forth evil things."

Seek the Lord in his house, so that your heart will be right with God.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

TWO MINUTES WITH THE BIBLE

MEDITATION A SERMONETTE BY COLIN DOUGLAS

"Behold, I have set before thee a door opened, which none can shut." --Rev. 3:8.

No matter what our age, no matter what our place in life or what our experiences, we have before us always an open door to new joys, new happiness, new growth, new achievements, new success.

Sometimes, when have a change in our lives, it may seem that we have come to the end of everything, that the "final blow" has fallen, and that there is no possible solution for us. But this is never true in God's world! If one door is closed, there is always another door to be opened. And by sincere prayer, meditation, thinking things out with God, He will reveal to us this new door and give us the strength, the courage, the wisdom, and the power to open this door and go forward to our fulfillment.

No experience in life is final, no experience in life means that we are shut off from God's good. Every minute, every day, every year, can be a new beginning for us. God's door stands open always before us, and no man—not even we ourselves—can bar this door.

Open your heart to His spirit. Let your heart be lifted with new understanding and new incentive. Let your heart experience the strength that God's peace and love will bring. Let your heart accept His promise, "I will not leave you comfortless: I will come to you."

Let us have faith that the door to God's good is always open before us. Let us have the courage to open the door. Let us be receptive to God's guidance. Let us have the faith always that His hand is clasped with ours, ready to lift us over life's burdens and hurdles.

"I sought Jehovah, and He answered me, And delivered me from all my fears." -- Psalms 34:4.

Occupations of working mothers are generally similar to those of all women workers. Among every 100 working mothers with husband present, 32 are clerical workers, 21 service workers, 18 factory operatives, 14 professional workers, 7 sales workers, and 8 in other occupations.

GLORIOUS PROSPECT

To the true Christian, one of the most wonderful passages in the whole Bible is Eph. 2:7, where we read of God's purpose:

"That in the ages to come He might show the exceeding riches of His grace in His kindness toward us through Christ Jesus."

This passage appears the more wonderful when viewed in the light of its context. Verses 2-6 tell how we were all once the "children of disobedience," and therefore "by nature the children of wrath, even as others." But then we read those wonderful words of hope, "But God,"

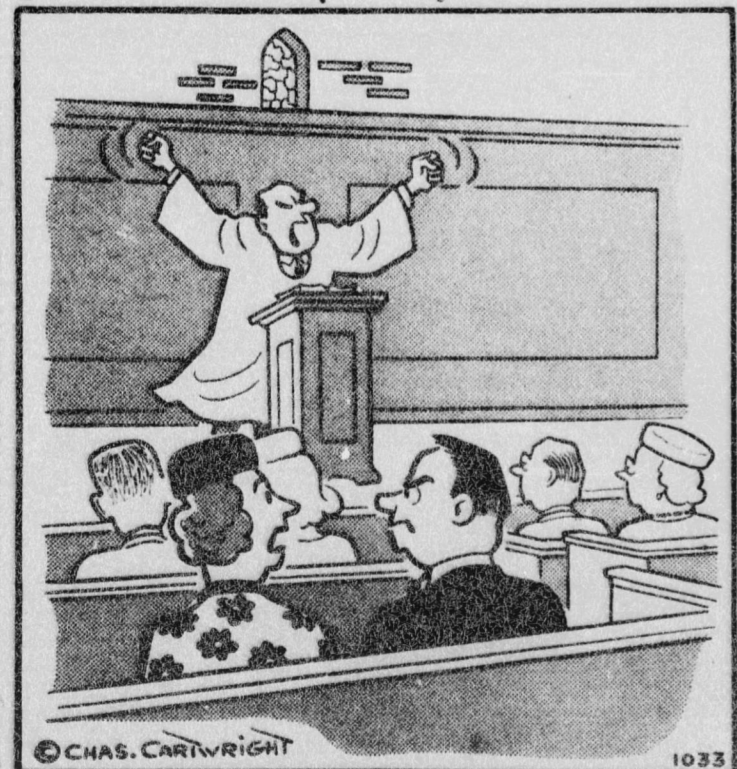

"But God, who is RICH IN MERCY, because of His GREAT LOVE wherewith He loved us."

And the next verses tell how He has taken believers in Christ from the lowest positions of condemnation and wrath and given them the highest place of favor and blessing in Christ at His own right hand in the heavenlies. The simplest, humblest believer in Christ as His Savior has been given this position in the heavenlies, for God no longer sees him in himself, but in Christ, who died for his sins. This is why St. Paul so often writes about "those who are in Christ Jesus."

It is for the believer now, to occupy this exalted position, to appropriate by faith the "all spiritual blessings" which are his in Christ (See Eph. 1:3). Like Paul, he may be lifted by grace, through faith, above the troubles and sorrows of "his present evil age" and enjoy his position and blessings in the heavenlies in Christ. And even this not all, for looking far ahead to the future the Apostle, by divine revelation, goes on to say (in Eph. 2:7) that God has done this all for us, "that in the ages to come He might show the exceeding riches of His grace in His kindness toward us through Christ Jesus."
