

HONORED ON BIRTHDAY—On birthday party for Lawrence E. Allen, Jr., 4 years old son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Allen, was held Sunday afternoon at the Shepard Day Care Center in West Raleigh. The children shown above from left to right are Peliva Lee, Peter Rochelle, Kathy Hayes, Lawrence Allen, Jr., Chris Haywood, Chynithia Hall, Paulette Fleming, Denise Lee, Patricia Rochelle, Tommie Rochelle. Not shown are Pat Patterson, Jamise Alston, Mornita Goode, Peyton Jones, Cheryl Graham, Diane Todd and Debra Rochelle.

"YOUR AUTOGRAPH PLEASE" — Reading left to right: Mesdames Joan Spencer, Ophelia Irving and Carolyn Ennis are getting autographs in their books, "Love My Children," from the author, Dr. Rose Butler Browne, following her review September 27 at the Ligon High School Library. The event was sponsored by the Alpha Theta Omega Chapter of the AKA Sorority, with its Negro Heritage Committee in charge of the program. (See story).

MASONS
(CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1)

contest become heated and there is a stalemate, a dark horse will come forth.

Dr. Marion Dennis Thorpe, president of Elizabeth City State University, Elizabeth City, will be the featured speaker at the Fellowship Banquet of North Carolina Prince Hall Masons, to be held in Spaulding Gymnasium, Shaw University, Tuesday evening, Oct. 6, in observance of their 100th annual Communication of organized masonry in this state. More than 1,500 hundred masons are expected to attend and approximately 100 members of the Eastern Star.

Other speakers listed on the three day program, are the Rt. Rev. Herbert Bell Shaw, of Wilmington, John Hervey Wheeler of Durham and the Rev. Claude R. Trotter of Raleigh.

The Centennial will open Monday evening with a Lodge of Sorrow, in the University Church, at Shaw University and a Social Hour will follow at the Sir Walter Hotel, where for the first time, ladies will be in attendance. Tuesday morning a Pilgrimage will be made to Mt. Hope cemetery, where appropriate Memorial services will be held, honoring the late J. J. Worlds, Colonel James H. Young and Dr. L. B. Capehart, former Grand Masters.

The Grand Lodge proper will open Tuesday morning in the Student Union Building of Shaw University, when Grand Master Clarks S. Brown, will deliver his State of the Craft Message. The remainder of Tuesday's session will be devoted to a review of the work during the year and the appointment of the various working committees.

Wednesday all committees will make their reports and election of officers will take place. A delegation of Eastern Stars will report to the Grand Lodge also.

BLACK CHURCH
(CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1)

Spotswood, A.M.E. Zion, Bishop G. W. Baber, A.M.E. was not able to attend, due to illness. He sent his regrets and a representative.

Many of the black delegates lost no time in telling the conference that the blacks would have to be assured that the union meant union and not usurpation of the one agency the Negro has in making his thinking felt. One of the most devastating ideologies that has emanated from the black church leadership is that this is a sinister effort to take over the black church. Dedicated supporters like Dr. Satterwhite, Dr. Paul Crow and others have worked zealously to dispel this theory.

The meeting was divided into small groups Tuesday. These groups attempted to come to grips with the issues that appeared to be the most controversial. The group dealing with race was told that if the union is become palatable to the blacks, the plan had to spell out the fact that whites could be trusted to accept the union as a real means of accepting the credo of the Fatherhood of man and the brotherhood of man. It was pointed out that blacks, like whites, were created with certain human frailties and were therefore as subjective to making mistakes as the white man. This was countered by the statement that in many instances the blacks could out white the whites.

The meeting was considered a forward step in setting up a better line of communication between the sponsors of COCU (Consultation on Church Union) and the grass root persons, who will ultimately vote to accept or reject the plan.

The delegation was welcomed to Washington by Bishops S. G. Spottswood and John Wesley Lord, Dr. Paul Crow, Jr., general secretary, was the resource person and aided Dr. Satterwhite in steering the meeting. Mrs. Cecelia Newhold, secretary, Plam of Union, told how the commission came up with the Plan of Union. Dr. John L. Knight, president, Wesley Theological Seminary, gave the closing words, in the Oxnam Chapel at 4 p.m. Tuesday.

TEACHER IS
(CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1)

reer of one of the community's most living personalities, whose contributions were widely acclaimed. The report of her death cast a pall over the area. It was reported that she had returned from a PTA meeting, held at Creche School, where she taught. She is said to have driven her car to her home, got out and locked the door. Suddenly the car is said to have begun moving, knowing the door was locked, she is believed to have tried to stop it with her strength. The car gained momentum and proceeded to crush her to death.

She was born in Granville County and received her education in the elementary schools of Oxford and at Shaw University. She followed her chosen profession of teaching and served it in Winston-Salem and Oxford. She married Bowman Kenneth Burton, who also chose the educational field and is one of the principals of an area school. There were two children born to the union. She was a member of Delton Sigma Theta Sorority.

Last rites were performed by Rev. Raymond Lassiter, Jr., from the church that she joined at an early age and had been a consistent member since that time.

She is survived by her husband, one daughter, one son, her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Nathaniel Parker of Oxford; two brothers, Nalols, Philadelphia, Pa., and David, Oxford; two nieces, one nephew and many other relatives and friends.

CATHOLIC
(CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1)

ference of Catholic Bishops voted unanimously in April of this year to establish a nationwide collection in all Catholic Churches during the Thanksgiving Season.

The Campaign National Chairman is John Cardinal Dearden of Detroit, President of the National Conference of Catholic Bishops and the United States Catholic Conference. The Campaign Director is Auxiliary Bishop Michael R. Dempsey of Chicago. Bishop Francis J. Mugavero of Brooklyn, who first proposed the campaign, is chairman of the committee of the National Conference of Catholic Bishops which is overseeing the entire program. Other members of the committee include Archbishop Timothy Manning of Los Angeles, Archbishop Francis J. Furey of San Antonio, Bishop Raymond Gallagher of Lafayette, Ind., and Bishop Joseph H. Hodges of Wheeling, W. Va.

John Cardinal Dearden has set November 22 for the first collection. The funds received will be disbursed by the United States Catholic Conference as "seed money" to develop such projects as non-profit housing corporations, community-run schools, minority-owned cooperatives and credit unions, capital for industrial development and job training programs and rural cooperatives.

The funding is only one part of the Campaign. The other important element is a national education and information program through film, radio and television and the print media, by which the Catholic Church will address an urgent message to all of the people of the United States and, in a particular way, to all Catholics, calling for a regeneration of concern for the poor in America.

Heading the fund raising program for the Bishop's Campaign is Development Director, Joseph B. McSweeney, on leave from his post as Diocesan Development Director for the Archdiocese of New Orleans. Heading national promotion and publicity for the Campaign for Human Development is Robert E. Beusse, director of the Communications Department of the United States Catholic Conference.

EMPLOYMENT
(CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1)

Tomorrow's program, pointed out that there is a far larger enrollment of blacks in journalism schools today than a few years ago, and that many more employment opportunities exist for them in the media today. He added that his school found it easier to place black graduates in jobs than whites.

Turning to Vice President's Agnew's criticism of radio and television for offering too much news analysis, Dean Abel insisted that the Vice-President was in error, and that more, rather than less, analysis of current problems of American society was necessary. These problems, he continued, lie primarily in the urban area, "which is the most urgent and dangerous sector in American life."

It is because of this fact, he declared, that most journalism students have as their goals an involvement with urban problems, as contrasted with the ambitions of journalism students a generation ago, which were centered on the foreign scene.

Abel, a former national and foreign correspondent for the New York Times and commentator for the National Broadcasting Company, suggested that "journalism has come into a kind of new and exciting phase." This may be coming athe closing words, in the Oxnam Chapel at 4 p.m. Tuesday.

TEACHER IS

(CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1)

reer of one of the community's most living personalities, whose contributions were widely acclaimed. The report of her death cast a pall over the area. It was reported that she had returned from a PTA meeting, held at Creche School, where she taught. She is said to have driven her car to her home, got out and locked the door. Suddenly the car is said to have begun moving, knowing the door was locked, she is believed to have tried to stop it with her strength. The car gained momentum and proceeded to crush her to death.

She was born in Granville County and received her education in the elementary schools of Oxford and at Shaw University. She followed her chosen profession of teaching and served it in Winston-Salem and Oxford. She married Bowman Kenneth Burton, who also chose the educational field and is one of the principals of an area school. There were two children born to the union. She was a member of Delton Sigma Theta Sorority.

Last rites were performed by Rev. Raymond Lassiter, Jr., from the church that she joined at an early age and had been a consistent member since that time.

She is survived by her husband, one daughter, one son, her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Nathaniel Parker of Oxford; two brothers, Nalols, Philadelphia, Pa., and David, Oxford; two nieces, one nephew and many other relatives and friends.

CATHOLIC

(CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1)

ference of Catholic Bishops voted unanimously in April of this year to establish a nationwide collection in all Catholic Churches during the Thanksgiving Season.

The Campaign National Chairman is John Cardinal Dearden of Detroit, President of the National Conference of Catholic Bishops and the United States Catholic Conference. The Campaign Director is Auxiliary Bishop Michael R. Dempsey of Chicago. Bishop Francis J. Mugavero of Brooklyn, who first proposed the campaign, is chairman of the committee of the National Conference of Catholic Bishops which is overseeing the entire program. Other members of the committee include Archbishop Timothy Manning of Los Angeles, Archbishop Francis J. Furey of San Antonio, Bishop Raymond Gallagher of Lafayette, Ind., and Bishop Joseph H. Hodges of Wheeling, W. Va.

John Cardinal Dearden has set November 22 for the first collection. The funds received will be disbursed by the United States Catholic Conference as "seed money" to develop such projects as non-profit housing corporations, community-run schools, minority-owned cooperatives and credit unions, capital for industrial development and job training programs and rural cooperatives.

The funding is only one part of the Campaign. The other important element is a national education and information program through film, radio and television and the print media, by which the Catholic Church will address an urgent message to all of the people of the United States and, in a particular way, to all Catholics, calling for a regeneration of concern for the poor in America.

Heading the fund raising program for the Bishop's Campaign is Development Director, Joseph B. McSweeney, on leave from his post as Diocesan Development Director for the Archdiocese of New Orleans. Heading national promotion and publicity for the Campaign for Human Development is Robert E. Beusse, director of the Communications Department of the United States Catholic Conference.

EMPLOYMENT

(CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1)

Tomorrow's program, pointed out that there is a far larger enrollment of blacks in journalism schools today than a few years ago, and that many more employment opportunities exist for them in the media today. He added that his school found it easier to place black graduates in jobs than whites.

Turning to Vice President's Agnew's criticism of radio and television for offering too much news analysis, Dean Abel insisted that the Vice-President was in error, and that more, rather than less, analysis of current problems of American society was necessary. These problems, he continued, lie primarily in the urban area, "which is the most urgent and dangerous sector in American life."

It is because of this fact, he declared, that most journalism students have as their goals an involvement with urban problems, as contrasted with the ambitions of journalism students a generation ago, which were centered on the foreign scene.

Abel, a former national and foreign correspondent for the New York Times and commentator for the National Broadcasting Company, suggested that "journalism has come into a kind of new and exciting phase." This may be coming about, he added, because of a deeper desire for personal expression by students and young people today, which may not be attainable in other professions, such as medicine and dentistry.

ST. AUG'S FALCONS' "BIG COACH" SAY BRAVO TO HIS BOOTERS—President Prezell R. Robinson, the Saint Augustine's College "Big Coach," is seen complimenting the members of the soccer team on their success last Wednesday, when they met with N. C. State University in a practice game. Left to right: Robert Laryea, Edward Asare, Boadu Johnson, Patrick Biell, Mohamed Shyllon, Edward Sarkodee, Frank Colebrook, Henry Shyllon, Wayne Johnson, A. Owusu, Emmanuel Frimpong, and Samuel Asare. Soccer coach Earle Curry has high hopes for the team's success this season.

Mr. Abel was interviewed on the program by Irving M. Levine, Director of Urban Projects of the American Jewish Committee.

The program, which is part of a regular weekly series on WNYC, heard Mondays at 2:30 p.m. on WNYC-AM and 10:30 p.m. on WNYC-FM, is produced by the American Jewish Committee, this country's pioneer human relations organization. Founded in 1906, it combats bigotry, protects the civil and religious rights of Jews at home and abroad, and seeks improved human relations for all people everywhere.

POLICEMAN

(CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1)

The shooting occurred at about 1:30 a.m. Sept. 6, the day before Labor Day. Chambers was held for a short while in an undisclosed jail, but was soon released on bond.

The Carriage Town Council relieved him of his duties as a policeman pending the settlement of the case and passed a resolution praising his prior record as a policeman.

Superior Court Judge Robert H. Martin ordered the grand jury hearing Monday after dismissing a defense motion calling for a preliminary hearing.

Deputy Sheriff J. A. Lawrence, court bailiff, frisked persons entering the courtroom Tuesday. The security measure, Lawrence said, was taken because of an incident Monday between Chambers and members of Rosser's family.

Attorney William Staton, personal counsel to the Rosser family, said the family and Chambers met by chance outside the sheriff's office on the first floor of the courthouse. A member of the family lunged at Chambers.

Police separated Chambers and the family member. Chambers had been waiting for the grand jury decision in the Sheriff's office.

According to Staton, it was the first time any of the Rosser's had seen Chambers since Rosser was killed. Chambers had been staying with relatives in an undisclosed place since being freed on bond.

SWEEPSTAKES

(CONTINUED FROM PAGE ONE)

Company, 2420 Old Wake Forest Road.

It is important that the persons who have these lucky tickets understand that he or she SHOULD NOT go to the businesses involved but first present them to The CAROLINIAN for verification. Deadline for submitting any winning house number to this office is Monday, October 5 at 5 p.m. If no one claims the merchandise then when that particular merchant's number is drawn again in the revised Sweepstakes feature, amounts indicated will be added to it.

STATEMENT OF OWNERSHIP, MANAGEMENT AND CIRCULATION OF THE CAROLINIAN

Published weekly at Raleigh, N. C. required by the Act of October 23, 1936, Section 4999, Title 29, United States Code.

Statement of twelve months ending October 3, 1970.

Location of known office of Publication is 518 E. Martin St., Raleigh, N. C. County of Wake, Zip Code 27602.

The name and address of Publisher, Editor, is P. R. Jervay, 1115 E. Davie St., Raleigh, N. C.; Managing Editor, Charles R. Jones, 216 Camden St., Raleigh, N. C.

Owner of the Carolinian Publishing Company is P. R. Jervay.

The known bondholders, mortgagees and other security holders owning or holding 1 percent or more of total amount of bonds, mortgages or other securities: None.

Av. No. Copies Each Issue During Preceding 12 Months Single Issue Nearest To Filing Date 8,500

A. Total No. of copies printed (net press run) 9,600

B. Paid circulation: 1. Sales through dealers and carriers, street vendors and counter sales 7,072 7,029

C. Total paid circulation 8,165 8,303

D. Free distribution (including samples) 1,435 1,297

E. Total distribution (Sum of C and D) 9,600 9,600

F. Office use, left-over, unaccounted, spoiled after printing 150 122

G. Total (Sum of E & F—should equal net press run shown in A) 9,450 9,478

I certify that the statements made by me above are correct and complete. Signed: P. R. Jervay, Publisher

Robinson brought in his super-star Lewis who promptly put the Tigers back in the game. Calvin Lewis added the extra point making the score 7-7.

Oddly enough, both passes for touchdown were the 21st pass of the game for each quarterback.

Not to be denied a victory the defending Black National Champion Braves marched from their own 28 following the kick-off with the aid of pass interference called when Tolliver threw a 32 yd. aerial with Magee's name listed for the receiver.

When the big "G" men held on the grambling 15 yd. line, Coach Marino H. Casem sent in his place kicker who is 3 for 3 in the extra points but had never tried a field goal. Casem's hunch was correct because Jerry Lackings kicked a 25 yd. field goal which proved to be the winning margin, 10-7.

HARD-HITTING LINEBACKER AT A&T - Ben Blackhall, a junior from Louisiana, has become a standout as linebacker for North Carolina A&T. He averages 20 tackles per game for the Aggies.

For Sale

By Owner
Apollo Hgts. Area

House with 3 bedrooms, 1½ baths, living room with fire place and carpet, screened porch, carport, large back porch, storage room and basement, large fenced in vegetable garden. Appraisal $21,850. Now $19,900.

828-1728
472 Dacian Rd.

Everything For . . .

BUILDING
REMODELING
REPAIRING

- LUMBER
- MILLWORK
- ATHEY'S PAINTS
- BUILDING MATERIALS
- RUSSWIN HARDWARE

At Our New Location On RALEIGH BELTLINE

CAROLINA BUILDERS CORP.
Between U. S. 1 and 64
Ph. 828-7471—Raleigh, N. C.

ACME REALTY CO.

REAL ESTATE RENTALS—BUILDING AND REPAIRS—PROPERTY MANAGEMENT

INSURANCE FIRE—HOME—AUTOMOBILE AND WINDSTORM

Call Us For Information
ACME REALTY CO.
Phone 832-0956

129 E. HARGETT STREET RALEIGH, N. C.

We serve those of all faiths

Every denomination is welcome here and given utmost respect by all the members of our staff . . . We seek to serve you by honoring your departed one in a way that has meaning and inspiration for you.

HAYWOOD FUNERAL HOME, INC.

Over a half century of service to Raleigh and community

Raleigh Mutual Burial Association
Low cost funeral insurance available
322 E. CABARRUS ST.—PHONE 832-2835

Esso
DIAL 828-9317 For
Watch dog oil heat service,
Esso Heating Oil and Oil
Burner Service.

CAPITAL FUEL OIL
ICE & COAL CO.
600 W. Hargett St.

A WELCOME TO YOU
From RALEIGH'S NEWEST

HOLDEN'S GLAM-ORAMA

CLEANING CENTER
1824 OLD GARNER ROAD
DRY CLEANERS

OPEN: 7 A. M. to 9 P. M.
MON.-SAT.
CLOSED SUNDAY

COIN LAUNDRY
OPEN 7 A. M. to 10 P. M.
MON.-SAT.
1 to 9 SUN.

1824 OLD GARNER ROAD
700 E. MARTIN ST.
401 E. DAVIE ST.

ALEXANDER BLDG., Suite 502—P. O. Box 292

T&T Associates, Inc.

Distributors of Educational Material

133 Fayetteville St. Raleigh, N. C., 27601

—ALSO—
T & T TRAVEL SERVICE

Make arrangements now to attend the NCCU vs. Alcorn State College game in Philadelphia, Penna. on September 26. Let T&T work for you. Call 828-7429 or 828-7420.

Robert "Tony" Hill, Assistant Director of Travel
CALL US NOW FOR RESERVATIONS. WE ARE HERE TO SERVE YOU.

A. J. TURNER Office Phones: 828-7429 and President-Manager 828-7420