Cites New Economic Approach

NEW YORK, N. Y. - "We're going to call the shots," vows the head of a Black economic development group in Detroit.

Larry Doss, president of the Inner City Business Improvement Forum (ICBIF) describes to NET's Black Journal a new approach to Black self-determination. He says: "We're going to plan our own projects, we're going to implement them and we're going to evaluate them, and we might call upon somebody to assist us in doing any of these things, but we're going to be the leadership, and we're going to call the shots."

Black Journal, NET's monthly program produced for, by and about Blacks, will be seen Monday, Jan. 25, at 9 p.m. (In New York City, it will be seen on WNET/Channel 13 at 9 p.m.) Black Journal's executive producer, Tony Brown, says of ICBIF: "Born out of the ashes of rebellion, a $100,000 misunderstanding is considered by many to have created the most relevant economic development project for Blacks in the country."

ICBIF, a non-profit, Black-controlled economic development group, aids and develops medium and large-size manufacturing businesses. Since its inception following the Detroit civil disorders of July, 1967, the organization has aided 100 Black-owned companies with total assets of $5 million. Its goal is $1 billion in assets for the businesses they create, plus 100,000 new jobs in the next 10 years.

ICBIF is committed to dividing profits within the community. Its policy is to aid only those Black businesses which "broadly assist and strengthen" (See ECONOMICS, P. 2)

Fayette, Miss. Given Grant Of $100,000

NEW YORK CITY - The Town of Fayette, Miss., received a grant of $100,000 from the Medgar Evers Fund to help build a multi-purpose community center. It was announced Monday by Mrs. Myrtle Evers, widow of the slain civil rights leader and Vice-president of the Fund.

The $100,000 grant will cover most of the Town's local share in the construction costs of the new center. On Dec. 16, the U. S. Department of Housing and Urban Development announced a three-for-one matching grant of $317,000 to finance the center.

The new center will include facilities for a community health center, which the Medgar Evers Fund earlier this year assured the town that it would build from public donations. The Fund was founded in Sept., 1969, as a living memorial to the late Medgar Evers, former NAACP Field Secretary (See GETS 100GS, P. 2)

Editor's Note: This column or feature is produced in the public interest with an aim towards eliminating its contents. Numerous individuals have requested that they be given the consideration of overlooking their listing on the police blotter. This we would like to do. However, it is not our position to be judge or jury. We merely publish the facts as we find them reported by the arresting officers. To keep out of the Crime Beat Columns, merely means not being registered by a police officer in reporting his findings while on duty. Do simply keep off the "Blotter" and you won't be in the Crime Beat.

WOMAN "PICKED UP" Miss Sadie Page Brown, 29, 1742 Fountain Drive (Southgate Apartments), told Officer B. W. Hamilton at 7 p.m. last Sunday, that she was picked up by three colored males in about the 200 block of Peyton Street. She said one of the men started getting fresh with her and she said she would not cooperate with him, so he became angry and struck her several times in the face. Miss Brown said she then jumped out of the car, in about the 400 block of Peyton and received additional injuries in so doing. The woman was treated at Wake Memorial Hospital for a bruised left eye and a laceration of the left heel. She stated that she would recognize her assailants if she saw them again. ### Dr. Cobb Is Cited As Principal In Medicine

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. - Dr. W. Montague Cobb, cited as the "principal historian of the Negro in medicine," is the cover story subject in the Dec. 28 issue of Modern Medicine, a leading national medical journal.

Dr. Cobb, selected by the journal editors as their "Contemporary" for the current issue, is distinguished professor of anatomy and former head of the Department of Anatomy at Howard University College of Medicine. According to the Modern Medicine article, "he has developed his capacities to an impressive extent as anatomist, physician anthropologist, educator, medical writer-editor-historian, and civil activist."

Born in Washington, D. C., in 1904, Dr. Cobb received an A. B. degree at Amherst College in 1925, his M. D. degree at Howard University in 1929, and a Ph. D. degree at Case Western Reserve University in 1932. During his career he has been "showered with honors," says Modern Medicine - an Sc. D. degree from Amherst, LL.D. degree from Morgan State College, certificates of merit and appreciation from two U. S. Presidents, and many awards from Howard University, its alumni, the National Medical Association (NMA), its women's auxiliary, and the government and medical societies of the District of Columbia.

Also indicating the esteem in which he is held, Dr. Cobb is past president (1964-'65) of the NMA, and has been president of the American Association of Physical Anthropologists and the Anthropological Society of Washington, vice president and section chairman of the American Association for the Advancement of Science (AAAS), and editor of the JOURNAL OF THE NMA since 1949.

Dr. Cobb, who began his long teaching career at Howard in 1928 as an instructor, has served seven years on the board of directors and four years on the professional education committee of the American Heart Association. ### 'Need More And Larger Banks In US'

DETROIT, Mich. - Although the assets of Black banks have increased 334 percent in the last ten years, to a total of $303 million, or four times as fast as the preceding decade, this is not enough, according to Dr. Edward D. Irons, Executive Director of the National Bankers Association.

Dr. Irons' remarks are contained in a comprehensive study of "Black Banking - Problems and Prospects", scheduled for delivery before the American Economic Association in Detroit on Monday, Dec. 28.

Dr. Irons said that of the 26 Black-controlled banks, 16 have been organized since 1963, when the first of the newly organized banks opened for business.

"If this number of Black banks does not sound impressive in relation to the more than 13,000 banks that were in operation on June 30, 1970, it isn't," Dr. Irons said. "When viewed with the perspective of history of Black banks, however, the advent of this increased number of Black banks suggests a microscopic revolution."
