U. S. Social Workers Blasts Attacks On Welfare And Poor

NEW YORK - The National Association of Social Workers, the largest organization of professional social workers in the world, last week warned all Americans that current national and state attacks on welfare programs and recipients -- which label victims as perpetrators of societal malfunctions -- are really attempts to hide severe economic problems and are based on ignorance and outright deception.

ous divisions within American communities," cautioned Chauncey A. Alexander, NASW executive director. In presenting the statement, Alexander charged that these attacks by public officials hid their inability to deal with rising unemployment, price inflation, excessive governmental costs, institutional racism, and the increasing demands for health and welfare services. "As noted in our warning," Alexander added, "only increased hardships for most American families can come from these opportunistic attempts to deal with social problems."

In connection with its statements, NASW listed several of what it called "major truths" about public welfare that "counter the myths being perpetrated (See U. S. SOCIAL, P. 2)

From Raleigh's Official Police Files

EDITOR'S NOTE: This column or feature is produced in the public interest with an aim towards eliminating its contents. Numerous individuals have requested that they be given the consideration of overlooking their listing on the police blotter. This we would like to do. However, it is not our position to be judge or jury. We merely publish the facts as we find them reported by the arresting officers. To keep out of the Crime Beat column, merely means not being registered by a police officer in reporting his findings while on duty. So simply keep off the "Blotter" and you won't be in The Crime Beat.

WINE BOTTLE IS WEAPON
Tommy Wyche, 207 Seawall Avenue, told Officers R. F. Johnson and R. D. Lockamy at 5:15 p.m. Friday, that he was at 717 S. West Street, attempting to get into a taxicab "when a man by the name of Grant" Wright, 716 S. West Street, struck him behind the head with a wine bottle. Mr. Wyche was treated and released for a laceration behind his head at Wake Memorial Hospital. (See CRIME BEAT, P. 3)

SEA Head Nominates 2 Blacks

DURHAM - Miss Ruby Denning, a rising senior at Winston-Salem State University and Larry Alston, a rising junior at Elizabeth City State University, have received the endorsement of Percy A. Peele, II, for top offices of the Student National Education Association.

Peele, who is presently serving as state president of the newly-merged student group, had announced his endorsement of Miss Denning for president and Alston as vice president. Both are currently serving as vice-presidents of the SNEA. Peele stated, "I am supporting Ruby and Larry not simply because they are black, but because they are black and experienced. It is my hope that the 11 black colleges wholeheartedly support them also."

Nominated For National PTA Post

COLUMBIA, S. C. - Mrs. J. M. Herndon, Columbia, secretary of the National PTA and former South Carolina state PTA president, has been nominated for the office of first vice-president of the multi-million member organization beginning in mid-1971. Mrs. Herndon would succeed Mrs. John M. Mallory, Endicott, New York, who has been first vice-president since May 1969.

Mrs. Herndon was elected secretary of the National PTA in May 1969. She was previously on the National PTA Board of Managers as national chairman of the Committee on Safety, as vice-president from Region III, and as president of the South Carolina Congress of Parents and Teachers. Having served on various special committees of the National PTA and as a director of the PTA Magazine, Mrs. Herndon is now chairman of the committee on National Bylaws, and a member of the committees on administration of the committees on administration. IRS To Make All Equal

NEW YORK - The United States Internal Revenue Service "will undertake to withdraw recognition of tax-exempt status where we find that a school is not in good faith pursuing a nondiscriminatory admissions policy," Commissioner Randolph W. Throver has informed the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People. This commitment, received here this week, was in response to a complaint submitted to the Commissioner by NAACP Executive Director Roy Wilkins. In a letter dated Feb. 9, the NAACP leader listed 17 recently established all-white private academies in eight southern states. The list had been compiled by the Association's education department based on reports from local NAACP units. Five of the schools listed - two in Virginia and one each in North Carolina, South Carolina and Tennessee - had been recognized as tax-exempt prior to the IRS announcement of July 10, 1970, "regarding the effect of discriminatory admissions practices on private school exemption," Commissioner Throver said. "It may be," he added, "that the other schools have been held exempt under names different from those on your list. In any (See IRS TO, P. 2)
