

DEAR SALLY

BY SALLY SHAW

DEAR SALLY: We are concerned about our 16-year-old daughter. She is a very pretty girl, very neat in appearance, and very popular. But what drives us almost mad is her constant pitch for compliments. She is always asking us, "How do I look?" "Do you like my hair this way?" "Do you think my figure is all right, or am I too thin?" And so on and on ad infinitum. My husband thinks she is too much dressed with her own good looks, and that we shouldn't add to it by telling her how nice she looks. What do you say?

the other hand it has the opposite effect, at least you'll know for sure where you stand and can then govern yourself accordingly.

DEAR SALLY: I'm a young man who is in a tough and awkward predicament because of my fiancée's father. Over the past several months he has put the bite on me for a number of little cash loans -- $5 here and $10 there -- and the total has now reached $70, with no sign or hint of repayment. I'm sure that if his wife and daughter knew about they would be horrified. He's a nice guy otherwise, but although I realize his finances are somewhat limited, still this drain on my own finances is uncomfortable to me. I would appreciate your advice.

DEAR OVER-TOUCHED: Probably you'll have to chalk up the money you're already handed to him as a loss -- but don't add anymore to it. If he attempts to put the bite on you again, tell him you're sorry, but it's impossible. . . that the $70 he's already into you for has put too big a dent in your budget.

DEAR SALLY: I have been going with a wonderful young man for almost a year and had been planning to give him a blazer for his birthday. My parents, however, say this would not be in good taste, that unless a girl is married to a man she must not give him any items of clothing. What do you say on this subject?

DEAR KANSAS: It's my idea that your daughter would not be pitching for your compliments if she were not starved for reassurance. I'm sure that if you try complimenting her before being asked, it would stop her fishing. . . and she would be much happier, too, because unsolicited praise means ever so much more.

DEAR SALLY: I'm a widow of 41 and have been dating regularly with a very attractive bachelor of 42 for the past two years. He keeps claiming that he loves me, dates no other women, but has never even hinted at the subject of matrimony -- which is nerve-wracking to say the least. Do you think I have the right to ask him frankly where, if anywhere, we're headed? IN THE DARK

DEAR IN THE DARK: Indeed you do. Maybe such a question will prove all he needs to spur him into positive action. If on

DEAR SIS: Times have changed, and today it's entirely acceptable for a girl who has been going with a man as long as you have to gift him sartorially.

The Veterans Corner

EDITOR'S NOTE: Below are authoritative answers by the Veterans Administration to some of the many current questions from former servicemen and their families. Further information on veterans benefits may be obtained at any VA office or your local service organization representative.

Q--I purchased a home under the GI bill, and have now been notified that the property is going to be condemned to make way for a Federal highway. Can I have my loan eligibility restored to purchase another home?

A--Yes. The VA may restore the amount of a veteran's entitlement previously used for any loan on a home which has been taken by condemnation or otherwise by the United States, any state, or any local government agency for public use. However, before there can be any restoration of entitlement, the GI loan on the property must have been paid in full, or the VA must otherwise have been relieved of liability under the guaranty.

Q--I have a rather large unwithdrawn accumulation on deposit with the VA insurance service. May I withdraw it?

A--Yes. You may withdraw all, or any part of the accumulated dividends.

Q--Several years ago, my "old law" pension was terminated because my annual income exceeded $1,600. I understand that the income limitation for a single veteran has been increased to $1,900. Can I be reinstated under the "old law" since my income is now within this limit?

A--Yes. A change in the law which became effective on Jan. 1, 1971, increased the income limit to $1,900. Any veteran whose pension was terminated after July 1, 1960, because of excessive income may now requalify under the new income limit, provided he has not elected to receive "new law" pension.

Asking the question is much easier than finding the right answer.

NCSA Has Engaged 2 For Seminars

WINSTON-SALEM - Janos Starker, cellist, and Josef Gingold, violinist, will present monthly repertory seminars at the North Carolina School of the Arts next year, according to an announcement made last week by Robert Ward, President of the School. Both Starker and Gingold hold the title of Distinguished Professor of Music at Indiana University, Bloomington, Indiana.

In making the announcement, Ward said, "Nicholas Harnsanyi, the newly appointed Dean of the School of Music has of course made recommendations in the area of repertory seminars for the coming school year. When he advised us that Messrs. Starker and Gingold, his colleagues of long standing, might be interested in an affiliation with our school, I of course encouraged the invitation since they are two of the world's most outstanding teacher-performers. Their presence as they present their repertory seminars to our students will be a stimulation of immense value."

"LOMEPA OF THE WEEK" - Mrs. Delores H. Clements, left, president of the Lomepa Club, Pledge Club of Iota Phi Lambda Sorority, Inc., which is a national organization for Business and Professional Women was selected Lomepa of the Week by her fellow club members. The members of the Lomepa Club will become charter members of the Raleigh Graduate Chapter of Iota Phi Lambda Sorority, Inc. in the near future. Mrs. Clements is secretary to the Associate Dean of Students for Men's Affairs at Shaw University. Pictured with Mrs. Clements is Miss Maggie Mooring, student, Shaw University, right.

Your Weekly Horoscope

May 6 through May 12, 1971

ARIES (March 21-April 19): Spontaneity is key word for week ahead, Ari. And very often, the true test of honesty is spontaneity. You will experience an overflow of emotion before fifth day. Rejoice, and allow impulse to lead you. Last two days of week may find you worn to a nub.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): Desire to confess old sins will be strong on first day of week, Taurus. Just be careful to whom you do your confessing. Tensions and stress will rob you of your strength if you're not careful. Hit the sack early every night this week, baby. And pass up that extra goody. Whatever it may be. Your energies will be needed next week.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Though your sign is that of The Twins, Gem, still there are more than two sides to your nature. In fact, you have many facets. And in the week ahead, you should shine and sparkle like the jewel you really are. All in all, a rather ritzy week.

CANCER (May 21-June 20): New person appears on the scene. Friendship will be offered. Smile a lot but don't gush. Message clears as week progresses.

LEO (July 23-August 22): Active social week for Leo. As usual. And if you are an average Leo, you are anything but average. You are almost always physically and emotionally superior to those about you. Good week to put original ideas into action. So get off of that fancy fanny of yours and get into gear.

VIRGO (August 23-September 22): First read what Olga has to say to Taurus. A good deal of the advice goes for you too, Virg. In addition, you should strive not to appear prissy to new individual or scene. This attitude could put cold water on possible friendship which may flower. On last day of week, go play in the clover.

LIBRA (September 23-October 22): Gentle, intuitive Libra is scheduled for a yummy week. Long awaited message should come through. Money matters improve and energy should zoom. Pisces individual may enter picture, and end up playing key role.

SCORPIO (October 23-November 21): Fearless Scorp, you will forge ahead in coming week and attain longed-for goal. With a little help from your friends. Especially one who is a Taurus-on-the-cusp of Gem. You, Scorp, are usually intensely interested in the occult. That is, when you are not thinking about sex. Which is most of the time. Week ends on note of "C" for confidence.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22-December 21): That which is most unorthodox will appeal to you in week ahead. You won't give a fig for convention. Conservative member of family may try to tame you. An impossible task. When you settle down, it will be on your own terms.

CAPRICORN (December 22-January 19): Listen in days ahead, Cap. Keep your ear tuned to the way close associate turns a phrase. Absorb rhythms. Try to be brave enough to stick to your convictions. You have untapped oil. Others know your worth. Do you?

AQUARIUS (January 20-February 18): In spite of the spring weather, week ahead will be more-or-less blah for Aquari. Sorry about that, love, but old Olga must call the shots as she sees them. However, by last day of week, romance may peek around the corner. One sentence in message to Cap applies to Aquari, also. Hunt for it. Can you guess which one?

PISCES (February 19-March 20): Tra-la, tra-la. Days ahead are full of unexpected nice things for Olga's little fishes. You've had your bad days lately, Pisces my pet, but now you can look forward to a week of fun and games.
