Members of the First Baptist Church mourn the passing of Dr. John L. Tilley, a former pastor of this church, for two separate terms. He was a great and compassionate leader as he labored with us. Aside from being a great leader whom we highly respected, he 'touched' the lives of many by encouraging the start of a new edifice in which we are now worshipping. He paid the first $50 in the building fund. He has many relatives who are members here and friends. We will ever cherish his memory and extend to the family our sincere sympathy.

Mrs. Ethel Gibson had as her house guest last week, Mrs. Johnnie Mae Warren from Philadelphia, Pa. Mrs. Warren also visited her brothers, Mr. David Beckwith of Apex and Mr. Otha Beckwith of Fuquay-Varrecently awarded a $98,818 HEW grant under the Emergency School Assistance 'Program. The program provides financial assistance for Local Educational Agencies (LEA) and to public and private nonprofit organizations other than LEA's to achieve and maintain a desegregated school system. Eligibility criteria limit projects to where the LEA is beginning, or has begun within the last two years, the terminal phase of an approved desegregation plan.

Kittrell College Awarded $98,818 Grant From HEW

The projects must support the implementation of the desegregation plan and funds are to be used to meet special needs of students, teachers, school administrators, and the commu-nity-at-large during the process of school desegregation.

The Kittrell College program which involves the five counties of Vance, Franklin, Wilson, Warren and Martin, is designed to demonstrate that creative and effective communication can assist in solving some of the problems resulting from school desegregation. The main thrust of the project will be the group process or organization Development method used in the form of team building and the teaching of human relation skills as the basic tool, Ethnic understanding will be enhanced by the institution of Black Studies within the communities. Efforts to reduce the number of academic dropouts through tutorial service will be used. Community organizations will be assisted in developing strategies to eliminate school discrimination still existing within the school. Program activities will begin in each of the five counties. The expected goals include:

1. greater understanding on the part of students, parents and school officials on various school desegregation problems and a willingness to communicate in an open and rational manner; a reduction of fear, distrust and suspicion on the

and pride through identity. 3. special planned social and recreational programs in areas where such activities have been denied because of school desegregation, to illustrate to the school officials that socials are creative activities for all students. 4.
