BY MRS. RUTH M. BETHEA
844 E. Lenoir St. PHONE 822-6389

Wonderful, calm, beautiful weather has greeted the circulation of goers who have great desires of travel.

Mrs. Mary Carter is spending a few days with her relatives and friends in South Carolina. She is greatly missed and we hope she will soon return.

Among the visitors who visited again our city the past weekend were many who enjoyed hearing and seeing the prospective new minister of the Davie Street United Presbyterian Church last Sunday. Rev. David L. Jones of Louisiana and his wife were pleasing visitors during the weekend. The congregation is expecting him to return for "keeps" very soon.

The many friends of Mrs. Mildred McAray of Oberlin are delighted to know that she is back home after a spell of illness which kept her in the hospital for a few weeks.

Rev. B. S. Foust and family were greeted in the city for the past weekend and everyone was glad to have him return while on a brief vacation.

SEE AND DRIVE THE 1971 JAVELIN BEFORE YOU BUY

It's longer, wider and lower to make it ride better. And to make it look better we sculptured the hood, paneled the roof with twin canopy and a rear spoiler. We curved the instrument panel. Every Javelin for '71 has a number of important modifications which are a direct result of the Trans-Am road races.

Rev. B. H. Whiting, pastor and choir were in charge of the morning services. The message of the morning was "Don't Worry About Results, Just Do Your Duty," brought to us by Rev. Owen John of Nottingham, Md. After the morning service dinner was served and at 2 p.m. our pastor and choir, rendered a program. Rev. Steed delivered a wonderful message.

Following the sermon the choir sang beautifully "One More River," "Going Up To Meet Him," "I've Got To Have Jesus For I Just Can't Make It By Myself," with Mrs. Rosa Highsmith, Mrs. Irene Thomas and Mr. Lawrence Miller and Mr. Vincent Taylor as soloists.

Refreshments were served after the service. Mr. Copeland, organist and Mrs. Gillour pianist played wonderfully. It was a wonderful trip and enjoyed by all.

Moles, Mules, Entertained

On July 5, the Moles and Mules of Raleigh were entertained in the spacious backyard of Mr. and Mrs. John Livingston, 724 Calloway Drive.

Mrs. Livingston dressed honoring the occasion. She wore a red, white and blue jumpsuit with white sandals and red, white and blue accessories.

Guests included Messers and Mesdames J. Abrams, Ball, Bethea, Bryant, Eaton, Davenport, C. Lightner, McDowell, Stroud, Toole, Walters, Webster, P. Williams, and Mesdames H. Jones, R. Lightner, F. Turner, A. Williams and W. Williams.

Children's Literature Class Participates In SA Program

Members of the Children's Literature class at Saint Augustine's College participated in the EPDA-BCP program at the college by meeting twice a week for twenty minutes with integrated children whose ages range from 8 to 13. During these sessions student members of the class present a story hour and puppetry show. Mrs. D. B. Ball is instructor.

The multi-age group of children are enrolled as volunteers in an experimental reading project now being conducted at Saint Augustine's College. The 64 teachers enrolled in the EPDA-BCP program come from all of the eastern section of North Carolina. They observe and get ideas from instructors to take back to their school. Selected experts in the teaching of developmental and remedial reading served as consultants and lecturers.

Dr. Frissell W. Jones is director of the project. Dr. Thelma Roundtree is the adjunct professor of reading, representing N. C. State University for six graduate credits in reading that the participants will receive upon completion of the program.

Mrs. Rita Roberts is reading instructor and coordinator of the practicum. Other instructors are Mr. Henry M. Funderburk, Mrs. Esther Embly, Mrs. Juanita W. McCleneham.
