

Isaac Harris Retires From Meat Cutting

BY C. WARREN MASSENBURG

ISAAC HARRIS

WAKE FOREST - Isaac Harris has retired from the meat department of Hollowell's Food Store after 38 years of service.

Mr. Harris, accompanied by members of his family was honored by his employer, John Lyon at a dinner last Tuesday night. Lyon presented Mr. Harris with an engraved gold watch "in appreciation of his years of faithful service."

Among the many gifts Mr. Harris received was a fishing rod and a plaque bearing the following inscription: Presented to Isaac Harris for thirty-eight years of faithful service - Jesse W. Hollowell (1933-1963); John D. Lyon (1963-1971) Hollowell's Food Store.

Mr. Harris told this reporter about the early employment during the thirties. He said, "when I first began to work we had all of the merchandise displayed on the sidewalk in front of the store." Also we kept live chickens in coups in the basement of the store. When someone ordered a fryer I would go down stairs, select a chicken and kill it. "As the years went by," Harris continued, "we had to deal with the depression and the rationing of meat. Often we would buy cattle from the local farmers and it was my job to slaughter them."

Mr. Harris was born June 26, 1906 in rural Wake County. Harris was the third child in a family of six. Harris is married to Lucy Ray and they are very proud of their ten children, three of whom have served in the U. S. Air Force and one in the Army.

Their children are Martha Ann Dunston, Della Mae Harris Watkins, and Freddie Lee, Richard Davis and Samuel Lester. All are residents of Wake Forest. They have 21 grandchildren and two great grandchildren.

Harris is an active member of Olive Branch Baptist Church. At the church he is a member of the choir and has held the position of church treasurer for 14 years and the position of Sunday School superintendent for 14 years.

He is a member of the leader lodge No. 285 and a former member of the Wake Forest Advisory Council and the Wake Forest Fire Department.

When asked about his future plans he said, "I'm just going to set in the shade and fish when I feel like it."

Wake Forest

Mr. and Mrs. Early Rodwell, Sr., have announced the engagement of their daughter Wendy to Frederick Mitchell. Both the groom and the bride-elect are residents of Wake Forest.

The nuptial ceremony will take place at Olive Branch Baptist Church at 3:30 p.m. on July 24. The Rev. W. W. Moore will be officiating.

A reception will follow at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Massenburg, Jr.

Everyone is asked to attend. Mrs. Mary Jane Massenburg, president of the Wake Forest Community chorus has announced that membership to the award winning chorus is currently open. Anyone wishing to join should see Mrs. Massenburg as soon as possible. The chorus is made up of people from different churches.

The Wake County Baptist Sunday School Convention will be held on July 30 at Friends Baptist Church. Delegates from all over Wake County are expected to attend. Dinner will be served in the church's dining room on Friday and Saturday evening. Everyone is asked to attend and be on time.

Rural Loans Up

Attractive, modern homes make life more enjoyable for 212 Wake County families and their construction has given a shot in the arm to the local building industry. Clinton L. Woodlief, county supervisor of Farmers Home Administration said recently.

Mr. Woodlief reported that $2,943,230 was channeled into the county through rural housing loans during the fiscal year ended June 30, 1971. Loans the previous year totaled 96 for $1,221,340. The record for fiscal 1971 means that our housing service increased 141 per cent over the last fiscal year.

In addition, Farmers Home Administration, the rural credit arm of the U. S. Department of Agriculture has also helped the local economy with loans to farmers to buy land or finance operations.

The agency's wide range of services added a record $3,878,440 to resources available for housing, farming and community facilities in this county last year.

Farmers Home Administration loan services are carried on in Wake County through the agency's office at Room 702, Wake County Courthouse in Raleigh. Housing loans may be made for homes in the rural countryside, and in all towns of the county except Raleigh and its urbanized surrounding areas. Community facility projects may include service to rural towns of not more than 5,500 population.

The FBI is a money-making activity for Uncle Sam. During the past fiscal year, the FBI collected $345.8 million in fines, savings and recoveries from their investigations. This represents $1.57 for every dollar appropriated to the FBI for the year, says Representative H. R. Gross of Iowa.

By dividing the total expenditures for food by the total population, we find that last year American consumers spent an average of $51 per person for all food, states "Floodlight," a publication of Iowa Public Service Company.

RALEIGHITES CELEBRATE - Several Young people from the Raleigh area could be seen in the mass crowd which swarmed onto the field of Duke's Wallace Wade Stadium at the closing of the Pan-African, USA meet in Durham Saturday. These spectators were enthusiastic about the meet's results and they joined in singing "Power To The People," a song sung by Black militants. (Staff Photo by Cureton Johnson).

Bishop Asks For End To Viet War

PHILADELPHIA - Inspired by Bishop Smallwood E. Williams' passionate plea "to end the war and bring the boys home," the 14th General Convocation of the Bible Way Churches WorldWide adopted a resolution here this week, urging the United States and the North Vietnamese "to exert every effort to reach agreement on war negotiations."

Bishop Williams, presiding Bishop of the Bible Way Churches, delivered the annual sermon at the Convocation. The message included the 7-point Humanitarian Peace Proposal which he has urged the North Vietnam delegation in Paris to consider.

Bishop Williams stopped in Paris several weeks ago on his return trip from Africa, where he dedicated a Bible Way Church Mission School. He was unsuccessful in talking to the North Vietnamese delegation but left a copy of his proposal there for their consideration.

The Bible Way Church founder also has asked the United States government to give "serious consideration" to the proposal.

The 7-point proposal was adopted by the Convocation with the understanding that the Bible Way Churches will work toward making it a basis for peace in the world. The convocation also adopted Bishop Williams' "Twilight Prayer Band," a program which calls for daily prayer "to end the war."

The 7 point Humanitarian Peace Plan calls for an immediate cease-fire agreement; the departure of all American troops from Vietnam by December 31, 1971; use of an American Peace Corps to repair the damages done by Americans during the long war, both in North and South Vietnam with a billion-dollar reclamation fund available for the Corps' work.

The proposal also asked for all American prisoners of war to be released by Jan. 1, 1972, or preferably before that date, the Jan. 1 date being within hours after American troops are withdrawn.

Other points of the proposal included a guarantee of personal safety for all national of both North and South Vietnam and Peace Corps workers in Vietnam; and International guarantee of the proposals by neighboring powers, and a peaceful settlement of political questions by free elections supervised by the Red Cross or the United Nations.

Delegates to the Convocation came from as far as London, Jamaica and Liberia, Africa.

KEEPING AHEAD OF THE GAME

If your feet hurt, medical specialists say, don't just stand there!

Take the case of athlete's foot, which afflicts 16 million Americans every year. This skin fungus infection affects 75 percent of the U.S. population at some time during their lives - most commonly during the athletic years. Also, it's most likely to strike during the active summer months.

Why? Podiatrists agree that while everybody is susceptible, the very name "athlete's foot" reflects the fact that the infection is a particular hazard to athletes and sportsmen.

One reason is that such persons frequently use public or club locker rooms and showers - common breeding places of infection. Another is that foot perspiration, conducive to athlete's foot, is a by-product of physical exertion.

Danger signals include between-the-toes cracking, peeling or itching. Luckily, simple self-medication usually controls athlete's foot when it is treated properly and in time.

Among the most effective treatments are the application of a fungicidal cream for immediate topical treatment of fungus infection and the regular use of a medicated powder to help reduce the risk of re-infection. Physicians have often prescribed Tinactin cream and powder, which account for 90 percent of the prescription market. Tinactin only recently became available without prescription at drug stores nationwide.

But as with all bodily ailments, an ounce of prevention

GOOD Psychology

"THE FIRM, BUT NOT CRUSHING, HANDSHAKE WITH JUST A LITTLE SQUEEZE IN IT SAYS, 'I'VE A FIRM GRASP ON THINGS.' IT DENOTES SELF-CONFIDENCE."

is worth a pound of cure. Here is some professional advice:

- Avoid going barefoot around locker rooms or public showers.
- Wash feet frequently and dry carefully, especially between the toes.
- Wear clean, perspiration-absorbing cotton or wool socks when engaging in athletic activities.

Whatever you do, support your feet with proper care - and they'll support you through a long and active life.

POET'S CORNER

STAR OF MY LONELY HEART

BY ELVAULTIA (EVE) MIAL

Lonely stars up in the sky.
Can you hear what I think;
Do you hear my whitered heart cry.
And answer me with a blink.
Lonely star can you see me,
When I sat and gaze up at you;
Sometime I wonder if you can be,
A little bit lonely up there, too.
Do you hear the midnight trains,
When they whistle through the night;
Are your dark nights always the same?
When you can't shed your beautiful robe,
Star of my lonely heart, I know you're there,
And somehow you and I do converse;
You look down from your heights above
Sending me your token of love.
Many nights I gazed up at you,
Wishing I could read your mind
There's one thing I would ask you to do;
That's to tell me how not to weep all the time,
If we could talk in universal language,
Just you, my star, and I,
I'd be so very, very happy
Knowing I had a friend up in the sky.
