Port City Is Gripped By Strife

WILMINGTON - Azaleas, ships, pretty girls and beaches used to be the words describing one of the southeast's oldest port cities until racial problems that have been mounting exploded into a series of incidents.

Sniper fire, murders, and numerous sorts of civil disobedience have been occurring for the last two months in the coastal town.

Over 40 people have been injured by gunshot wounds. Several murders have gone unsolved including the recent murder of two white guards at Williston Junior High School, formerly a Black senior high school.

During this period a student organization, Black Youth Building in the Black Community (BYBBC), has started its people in America. He apparently does not think that Black people should complain about racism, oppression and injustice, Abernathy said.

"The Black leadership of this nation has tried very hard to make this a decent and just society, at a time when Blacks are fed up with the present cruel system of exploitation led by a repressive and reactionary Administration," he continued. "Black people generally have been teaching the entire nation what human dignity and freedom are all about."

"It is regrettable that Mr. Agnew does not have the capacity to understand this."

"Spiro T. Agnew is in reality the biggest complainer in America. He complains about a free press, constitutional dissent, civil rights and basic freedoms."

"Mr. Agnew says that Black people should take constructive action. I believe the most constructive action Black people can take is to help remove

"PROTECT RALEIGH'S POLICE" ENTERTAINER - "Zalona says"....protect your police. They protect us. Too many have been killed already. One of them could be your son." So says the sign of Zalona, a night club entertainer appearing in Raleigh, who decided to "capitolize" on a little publicity with a stroll in front of the Capitol (dome in the background) down Fayetteville Street of the Capitol City. Zalona's theme apparently appealed to the Raleigh policeman who strolled with her maintaining order. (UPI)

Abernathy Agrees With Sims Statements

Two weeks ago Vice President Spiro T. Agnew stated while visiting independent African nations that Black American leaders should be more conservative and take notes from the African leaders he was meeting.

Rev. Ralph David Abernathy, president of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC), and Harold R. Sims, former acting executive director of the National Urban League, both issued statements in response this week.

"Spiro T. Agnew, a major stumbling block to Black progress, has insulted the entire Black leadership and all Black

Two Solons' Views On Assembly

North Carolina's two Black members of the General Assembly talked vigorously about this session of the General Assembly.

Rep. Jay Johnson, D-Robeson County talked enthusiastically about his first session of the Assembly. Johnson said, "The highlight of the session had to be the passage of the bill to establish equal opportunity employment for people of any race, creed, color, or sex. Johnson was the author of the bill."

It provides for equal employment practices in North Carolina. This is the first bill of this nature passed in the south.

The bill was passed without debate in the senate and was later unanimously passed by the House.

"Another bill that has received little publicity," Johnson

HIJACKER FATAALLY SHOT - Jamaica, N. Y.: The body of Richard Obergfell, who hijacked a TWA jetliner July 23, is carried into Jamaica Hospital after an FBI agent urined with a high powered rifle shot and killed him as he stood at the end of a runway at Kennedy Airport. A TWA stewardess, Idle Maria Concepcion formerly of Los Angeles, was being held hostage by the hijacker, but was not injured. Obergfell was the first hijacker to be fatally shot in the U. S. (UPI)

KIDNAP VICTIM SHEDS TEARS OF JOY - JACKSON, Mich. - Miss Marilyn Epps, 14-year-old resident of Detroit, is shown above, shedding tears of joy, following a two and one-half hour ordeal at the hands of an alleged murderer. A wooded area, some four to five miles from the Southern Michigan Prison, was the scene of an intense manhunt Monday of this week before convicted murderer, William Garling, Jr., 28, formerly of Detroit, was captured Monday afternoon. Marilyn, surrounded by state troopers, emerges from the woods unharmed, but shoeless, after the ordeal. (UPI)

INQUIRING REPORTER THEY SAY

BY C. WARREN MASSENBURG

QUESTION: With integration of all Raleigh and Wake County Schools going into effect this year for the first time, do you expect any measurable degree of trouble?

Mr. Oscar Allen, 604 Cumberland Street. I tell you the truth, if we don't get Christ in our lives, something bad is going to happen to all of us. We need to get in Sunday School and church. If we do this there will be no problem getting along with one another. You know both Black and white have got the devil in them. This is what's going to cause the trouble when we have it.

Jennie Williams, South Haywood Street.

I really don't expect much trouble. I'm sure that, with time, most of our problems will go away. I believe everyone should be as one. If we put our trust in God, we will not have any trouble. He (God) does no

Are Prisons In US Now Political?

NEW YORK, N. Y. - Increasingly, American prisons are becoming schools for political revolutionary consciousness, according to George Lester Jackson, when interviewed recently in San Quentin prison by a reporter for The New York Times. Jackson is one of the "Soledad Brothers" and got fame for his best-seller book, "Soledad Bro-

CRIME BEAT

From Raleigh's Official Police Files

ROBBED OF VALUABLES - Matthew Mac Sanders 1109 S. Bloodworth Street told Officer B.W. Hamilton that at 12:03 Wednesday two colored males came to his house, and stated they wanted to use the telephone, according to official Police reports. The reports show that Mr. Sanders stated he led the two subjects into the other room, and one of the subjects grabbed him by the throat and got his billfold from his back pocket. The reports indicate that at this time Mr. Sanders called for help. The other subject "pulled out" a gun and told the subjects sitting in the living room to keep their seats, according to Police reports. The two subjects then ran out of the front door with $65.00 "in valuables" as shown by the reports.

Man, 25, Blasted In Chest

A Raleigh man remains in "fair" condition at Wake Memorial Hospital this week after being shot near the heart by a woman believed to be his wife, at about 12:15 a.m. Monday of this week.

Douglas Carroll Goodson, 25, 127 S. State Street, Apt. 10, was found "lying on the porch" at the apartment of Miss Irene Beatrice Green, who, in turn, called "the law."

According to reports by Officer Ralph Clayborne, Goodson had been shot in the left chest

Survey To Determine More Cabs

Raleigh's Mayor Pro Tem Clarence E. Lightner presided at a Monday afternoon session of the City Council's Law and Finance Committee, when it was decided to make a survey of the city's taxicabs before granting an application to Norwood Peacock Peacock, Seabrook Rd. (Kingwood Forest), who runs two cabs now on the Cardinal Cab line, to obtain an owners' permit (franchise).

Officer H. K. Martin, Inspector of Raleigh's taxis, explained the rules and regulations for obtaining owners' permits. He said that there are nineteen cab companies in the city with a total of 143 taxis. However, he said, thirty three of them are now parked "because there is no

Others Also Assigned To New School Posts

Johnnie E. Burke was named the new principal of the John W. Ligon Junior High School here Tuesday afternoon as the Raleigh School Board held its July meeting at the offices on Devereux Street.

Many Raleigh black citizens have been interested in knowing just who would succeed Herbert E. Brown, veteran principal of Ligon when it was a Junior-Senior high and after it became a senior high school. Burke has served as assistant principal to Brown since 1964. Brown is now associated with St. Augustine's College.

A native of Hertford in Perquimans County, Mr. Burke attended Hertford High School, where Mr. Brown was his principal. The new principal received his Bachelor of Science degree, with a major in mathematics at Shaw University, the Master of Science degree, majoring in science, at A & T State University, Greensboro, has done further study at Ohio State University in the fields of math, science and educational administration, at A & T and North Carolina Central University, Durham, and is currently enrolled in the doctoral program in the education ad-

See Need For Black Lawyers

DURHAM-The need of more black lawyers was stressed at the July meeting of the NAACP. Attorneys M. E. Johnson, W. G. Pearson, C. C. Malone and LeMarquis DeJarnon were participants of a panel, which had as a theme, "The application of the law."

The fact that the NAACP had traditionally fought for the right and just application of the law, was pointed out that all of the rights, so long denied the black man, came through the proper interpretation of the law and the mandate to see that it is properly administered.
