

BLACKS DEFY COURT ORDER - ARRESTED- Columbus, Ga. - A group of singing and chanting Blacks estimated at about 100, staged a short march late July 31 afternoon in defiance of a court order, and were arrested by Columbus police. The arrests were made peacefully and orderly, and there were no reports of violence by either police or those arrested. (UPI).

PETE'S PICKINS

BY W. A. "PETE" WILDER

Sunday is the day, 7 p.m. is the time when St. Matthew A.M.E. Church holds Family Night. This is an annual affair on the calendar of the church and is usually well attended. The feature for this year hinges on a tribute to Mrs. Essie Dunmore. Mrs. Dunmore has been an ardent worker in the church for more than 40 years. She leaves the city following her night of honor to make her home with her son, Mr. Arthur Dunmore and family in Baltimore, Md.

Last Sunday morning it was my privilege to lead the discussion for the Men's Bible Class of Manly Street United Church of Christ. Mr. Edward Carson, dynamic teacher of the class is on vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Powell, formerly of this city, but now of Columbus, Ohio, were guests of relatives and friends here recently. Lewis was especially happy to be at home again.

Mrs. Dorothy Nixon Allen, efficient head of Wake Opportunities, Inc. still remains at Wake Memorial Hospital. Her home "Dot" as the scenery is nice on Sanderford Rd; even your son, Harold, will say "Amen" to that!

The Susie Hall Circle of Manly Street United Church of Christ had planned a Lawn Party last Friday, but rain... Anyway, they moved inside at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Upperman, 1305 S. East St. Bingo was played, the All-Star Football game was viewed, everybody ate and enjoyed themselves to the fullest. Members and friends alike left the Upperman home looking forward to a return visit!

Mr. Joseph Kearney, 521 S. Haywood St. remains on the sick and shut-in list. His many friends wish for him a steady recovery.

Mrs. Esther Michael, S. Haywood St., continues to improve at her home. Her friends are highly elated.

Mrs. Florence Sanders, Delany Drive, is still smiling at her home in spite of illness. Her family, friends, and church have had a big hand in her cheerfulness.

Mr. Thomas Adcock, E. Edenton St., journeyed to Greensboro last weekend to attend a wedding shower.

Mrs. Marjorie Kelly Hazelwood, formerly of this city, but now of Newark, N. J., was the guest of her mother, Mrs. "Kitty" Arrington Gurley, E. Edenton St., recently.

The Elks Extraordinaire was just that Sunday evening at the Elks Home, 619 E. Davie St., from 5:30 p.m. to 10 p.m. It was just a lawn party, but it had the friendliest touches. Really, I didn't see a mad person on the grounds when I finally arrived.

The persons in charge of the promotion had done a spectacular job the traffic managers had more than done their share; the music of "Dr. Massenburg from the west side of town was of the sweetest nature. Women attired in their finery, lovely dresses, slacks suits and what-have-you. Men with slacks, and other summer attire; tables here and there; punch in varying colors and arranged in typical Elk finery, all had their place in along to be remembered Extraordinaire.

The menu for the evening included sausage balls, cake squares, potato salad, deviled eggs, combination of beets, cheese and bologna, cucumbers and onions, stuffed celery with cheese, and ham biscuits.

Certainly, I wouldn't try to make you hungry, but it was enough.

Among those whom I saw were Mrs. Rosa Massey, Mrs. Arcola Norris, Mrs. Almata Latta, Mrs. Florence Everette, Miss Freddie Mae Williams, Mr. and Mrs. Billy Bridgeford, Mr. Sam Horton, Mr. Charlie Rivers, Mr. Leroy Brewer, Mr. Alphonzo Vance, Mr. Alex Watkins, Rev. A. J. Turner, Mrs. Juanita McKnight, Mrs. Julius Haywood, Mrs. Gwendolyn Burnette, Miss Curly Yancey, Miss Susie Smith, Mrs. Josephine Newberry, Mr. Robert McCoy, Mr. Dennis Wragg, Mr. John Williams, Mr. "Fats" McClain, Mr. T. D. Wilder and Mrs. Brooksie Farrar.

I missed the scores, who came and left before 9 p.m. I'm only hoping the Elks will do it again real soon.

Mr. Willie R. York, New York City, formerly of this city, is visiting her mother and stepfather, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew "Buster" Hinton, 832 Campanella Drive.

Mr. John Henry Wallace, formerly of this city, but now of Paterson, N. Y., is visiting his mother and sisters. His mother, Mrs. Eliza Wallace, resides on Hadley Rd.

Mrs. Burdette York Newcome, is the house guest of her mother and stepfather, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Hinton, Campanella Drive.

The United Progressive Club is off to Atlanta, Ga., for a fine weekend. While I am happy that all my friends in the club are going, I'm especially happy for my good friend, Mr. Lonnie Holder.

Well folks, Shade Jones is back in town for a brief vacation. Jones was, for a long time, an employee of the Capital Coca-Cola Co. Way back in the days following the depression Jones, along with most of us, had to effect loans frequently to support a family. Jones would almost always promise to pay on Friday, which was his payday. If he failed to comply on that day, he would always say "That's all right, old dear, there is a Friday in every week. Welcome home, Shade and all the members of your family who accompanied you. Your friends and relatives are assured of a most pleasant stay.

Mrs. Dorothy Allen is still "in" at Wake Memorial. "Dot," your many friends wish for you a rapid recovery.

Rev. D. A. Peace, the new pastor at Manly Street United Church of Christ, kicked off his new administration officially Sunday morning in a most impressive manner. These are his words: "I have come this morning to welcome you to our hearts." He asked for unity, love and fellowship. He pointed out that he had come "to lead and not drive." Tall, young, handsome and debonair are mild adjectives to describe him. Let me say further he seems serious about his work. The choirs also did themselves proud. The services were of high order.

Mrs. Mary L. West, Mrs. Louise Penn, Mrs. Phyllis Carson, all out of towners, but relatives of Mrs. Joybelle Morris, 582 E. Davie St., were her weekend guests. What a time they had!!

JONES ADVOCATES WORKING TO TAKE POWER-Providence, R. I.: LeRoi Jones, the militant post now known as Imamu Amari Baraka talks informally during appearance at National Welfare Rights Convention at Brown University. He advocated working within the political system to take power last Friday. (UPI).
