

Hampton Fund Steering Committee Gives President Check For 6Gs

HAMPTON, Virginia - The Hampton Fund Steering Committee began this year's program Wednesday with the presentation of a check to Dr. Roy D. Hudson, president of Hampton Institute, amounting to $6,347 by Hampton's Mayor David Montague.

Composed of a group of community and campus leaders, the Hampton Fund Steering Committee was formed for the purpose of raising money for H. I. in addition to creating a closer bond between the College and the people of the community.

The money presented to Hampton Institute at Wednesday's meeting was received from the efforts of a concert by Aretha Franklin in Feb. of 1971. As a result, Miss Franklin presented a check for $1,000 after the concert.

Speaking in appreciation to the committee members, Dr. Hudson stated, "A Committee of this type is necessary because it maintains to protect the image of the institution to the people of the community as well as recognizing the financial needs of colleges throughout the nation where money is scarce."

Byron N. Puryear, chairman of the committee and local contractor, hoped that the committee would continue as in the past to raise money for the College.

Those present at the meeting included: Byron N. Puryear; Mayor David Montague; J. Dewey Wilson, Director of Building and Grounds for the Virginia School at Hampton; Frederick J. Powell, Director, Big Brothers of Hampton; Lindsay Tucker, Director of Multi-print; Alphonso King, president of Bryant and King Contractors; and Mrs. Earl David Bryant of Englehard.

Some thought that wasn't quite enough for the money. They hinted the western businessman had been out-slickered and sold the British version of the Brooklyn Bridge.

The venerable archway, it was pointed out, had already been slated for demolition because it could not handle mounting traffic.

But the city of London's white elephant was the goose that laid golden eggs for McCulloch.

Two months after the purchase, the bridge had already paid for itself by stimulating increased property sales at Lake Havasu City, Arizona, a master-planned town that is to be its new home.

Robert P. McCulloch, Sr., president of McCulloch Corporation, one of the world's largest manufacturers of chain saws, stands in front of the London Bridge, which is being reconstructed at the Arizona resort town of Lake Havasu City. He holds a Mini-Max 6, the lightest chain saw made in the company's saws were used in the reconstruction of the bridge, the largest antique an American tourist has ever brought back from Europe.
