With all of our fine churches, and crime is on the increase. Then, I wonder and raise the question, "What are the churches doing? Have they stopped saving souls and gone looking for loaves and fishes?"

In 1957, a man by the name of Fife began working with university students and I quote here what he says, "University students today live in a spiritual vacuum."

That is nothing in them, Mr. Fife further says, "In ten years, these same students will be running our churches, our schools and universities and television programs above all our country."

May I speak about the needs of our children, their neglect, their important and their potential. They are people, who, in many cases, have become completely disillusioned with almost everything they have touched.

I agree with Mr. Fife when he says, that "Our children live in a vacuum. Their need that can be met only by Jesus Christ. They need Jesus Christ. God wants them. Jesus Christ died for them. They are part of our commission to make disciples of all the nations."

God created man for Himself, and our hearts are restless until they find rest in Him.
