From Raleigh's Official Police Files

EDITOR'S NOTE: This column or feature is produced in the public interest with an aim towards eliminating its contents. Numerous individuals have requested that they be given the consideration of overlooking their listing on the police blotter. This we would like to do. However, it is not our position to be judge or jury. We merely publish the facts as we find them reported by the arresting officers. To keep out of the Crime Beat columns, merely means not being registered by a police officer in reporting his findings while on duty. So simply keep off the "Blotter" and you won't be in the Crime Beat.

Assistant At Carnage Attacked

An angry black parent struck a white assistant principal in the face here Tuesday morning for apparently no good reason. The assistant, Eugene O. Holhauser, at Fred Jonathan Carnage Junior High School, Carnage Drive, was treated at Wake Memorial Hospital for abrasions above and below the right eye.

Mr. Holhauser told Officers that he had attempted to talk to the youth, who reportedly had been expelled from the institution. The boy's name is Gary Knight and he lives at 22-21 Old Garner Road.

The assistant principal said he had also tried to talk with the boy's mother, but had been unable to do so.

He said that Mrs. Knight left his office only to return later with Joe Knight, her husband, also of the Garner Road address.

After inviting Mr. Knight into his private office, the school official declared that the man struck him with his fist.

Officers at the hospital said Holhauser told them he would sign an assault and battery warrant against Knight.

WOMAN, 113, POSES WITH GREAT GRANDSON-Newton, Ga.: "My mamma and daddy got married by jumping over a broom and they stayed together all their lives." The words came from Aunt Vic, who claimed she was 113-years-old, but doesn't have a birth certificate to prove it. "Now, I ain't got no birth certificate," Vistoria Brankley said. "I don't think they was giving 'em out then." With her 4-year-old great-grandson, Charles Hawkins, hanging on her every word, Aunt Vic proclaimed that she owes her long life to whiskey. "Praise the Lord, and pass the gin." (See US MASON, P. 2)

Governor's Race Won By Waller

Charles Evers, seeking to become the first Black Governor in the United States was handily defeated by Mississippi Democrat William Waller for the office while Richard G. Hatcher easily won re-election as mayor of Gary, Indiana.

In Cleveland, Arnold R. Pinkne, the Black president of the city school board backed by outgoing Mayor Carl B. Stokes finished in second place for the mayor seat. Republican Ralph Perk had a slight lead over Perk with 450 of the 632 precincts reporting.

Perk had 58,619 votes while Pinkne had 53,577 and democratic James M. Carney 44,456. Pinkne was running as an independent but had the backing of Stokes who sought to wield the first big-city Black poll. (See EVERS, P. 2)

How do you think the defeat of Charles Evers in Mississippi will affect other Black candidates who might run for the office of Governor?

Mr. Ralph Stone, Raleigh

"Someone had to be first and Evers was. I think his willingness to get into the race will encourage more Blacks to try for the office of Governor in other states. I hope it will encourage them rather than reject them."

Rev. Ben Chavis Tells National CRJ Group Of Wilmington's Disturbances

NEW YORK, N.Y. - At a meeting of the Commission for Racial Justice of the United Church of Christ late in October in New York City, the Reverend Ben Chavis, Community Organizer for the Commission's North Carolina-Virginia Field Office, made a graphic presentation of racial conflict in Wilmington, N.C.

The Reverend Mr. Chavis, who is also the minister of the First African Congregation of the Black Messiah, Wilmington, a youth-oriented church, has been working in the community for over a year since trouble developed out of resistance to school desegregation in that city. He continually points to his faith, in the love and teachings of Jesus as the force that has kept the Black community together in a time of crisis. The exchange of gunfire and numerous incidents of sniper fire poses a constant threat to the Wilmington Black community. So far 6 people have been killed and there has been over 40 wounded. These figures are expected to increase because of the crisis. Recently, the white community has organized the "Rights of White People" lead by a former marine, Leroy Gibson. Gibson's group has repeatedly stated that they will, "Kill every nigger in Wilmington to insure law and order for white people."

$1 Million In Grants To College

GREENSBORO-The president of A&T State University Wednesday announced that the University has received approval for two federal grants totaling $1,112,000.

Dr. Lewis C. Dowdy said both grants were awarded through the U.S. Department of Agriculture, one for extension work in rural communities, and the other for research in the field of agriculture and urban problems.

The funds were awarded through the Hatch Act and Smith-Lever Act, passed in 1890.

At its annual meeting, the A&T Board of Trustees approved a resolution recommending adequate minority representation on any coordinating or governing board adopted by the State Legislature in its proposed restructuring of higher education. The board's resolution stated:

"We recommend the retention of local boards of trustees and that these boards be provided with sufficient authority to control the local operations of the institutions. This should include electing the head of the institution, employing faculty and staff, and formulating policies to govern academic affairs, student affairs, fiscal affairs, and planning and development functions."

The resolution also asked that there be adequate minority representation on the administrative staff of any coordinating or governing board.

In his annual report to the board, Dr. Dowdy asked and received approval from the board to appoint architects and (See $1 MILLION, P. 2) ized the "Rights of White People" lead by a former marine, Leroy Gibson. Gibson's group has repeatedly stated that they will, "Kill every nigger in Wilmington to insure law and order for white people."

ROWP has proudly displayed their arsenal in an attempt to demonstrate that whites are prepared to do whatever is necessary to maintain the status quo. A recent raid by state police uncovered a self-made Gatling gun manufactured by members of ROWP and designed, according to a ROWP spokesman, "to commit mass death."

Spearheaded by the organizational work of Rev. Chavis and staff of the Commission for Racial Justice, the Black community has refused to bow down to the threats and in- (See BEN CHAVIS, P. 2)

Profs. Told Of Jobs In Labor Dept.

WASHINGTON - Seventeen professors from 16 colleges and universities with predominantly black enrollment have completed a 2-day conference in Washington to learn what employment opportunities exist in the Department of Labor for their students.

The session was the first of its kind; for the past 5 years, the program has been carried out through visits to BLS by professors who came singly or in pairs.

BLS spokesmen said the program is one of the Bureau's main avenues of recruitment at minority colleges for economists, statisticians and social science research analysts.

The conference was chiefly in a workshop format although the visitors heard speeches by Commissioner of Labor Statistics Geoffrey H. Moore Deputy Commissioner Ben Burdetsky and Associate Commissioner Donald J. Keuch, Jr., and Frank A. Yeager, executive assistant (See BRIEFED ON, P. 2)
