Alleged Killers Caught

Two escaped prisoners, both accused of recent murders in Raleigh, were apprehended Monday afternoon at 568 New Bern Avenue, while the woman of the house, Mrs. Iredell Christine S. ton, 31, was charged in two warrants with harboring and aiding escaped prisoners. The escape took place late Sunday night.

Steven Holloman, 25, and Francisco Rones Rivers, 19, both of Raleigh, were the two men recaptured.

Robert J. Pleasants, sheriff of Wake County, said Tuesday, "The two murder suspects who escaped from the new County Jail, did so through an error in judgment on the part of the jail staff. Measures are being

President Carson Gets Group's Full Backing

At its regular December meeting, the Raleigh Citizens' Association, in an informal meeting, heard its president, Edward Carson, read portions of the student code adopted by the Raleigh School Board, November 30.

Mr. Carson remarked that there were things in the code not in keeping with the harmonies of the races and also that the code was detrimental to deprived students.

Rule 10 states, "No student shall steal or attempt to steal, damage or attempt to damage, any private property either on any school premises, or on any school bus, or during any school activity, function, or event off school property."

"What does attempt to steal or attempt to damage mean?" queried Mr. Carson.

Rule 8 reads, "No student shall knowingly possess, handle or transmit any knife, razor, ice pick, explosive, loaded cane, sword cane, machete, pistol, rifle, shotgun, or any object that can reasonably be considered a dangerous weapon or dangerous instrument." "The catch phrase here is 'knowingly possess' -- a statement of judgment," commented Mr. Carson.

Rule 2 -- Disruption of School -- "No student shall, by the use of passive resistance, noise, threat, fear, intimidation, coercion,

Shaw University Plans A Joint Venture With USC

Shaw University president, Dr. J. Archie Hargraves, has taken another step toward the fulfillment of the university's mission -- to build and strengthen institutions which meet the needs of the poor, the black and the disadvantaged.

Dr. Hargraves believes that public administration as a profession may be the greatest opportunity of the next decade for blacks, not only in terms of employment, but as a means of taking their proper place in a predominantly white society

Political Parties Ignored

CHICAGO, Ill. - Senator Edward M. Kennedy is the favorite presidential candidate of black voters, regardless of political parties, while President Richard M. Nixon runs 7th among all candidates, a poll by Sepia magazine shows.

The survey of black voter preferences in the 1972 presidential election also shows that the top Democratic front runner, Senator Edmund Muskie, still is affected by his statement about a black vice presidential nominee hurting the Democrats. He was 4th in the poll by Sepia, a leading black monthly magazine.

Senator Kennedy was first in the poll reported in the January issue of Sepia with 30% while the 1968 Democratic nominee, Senator Hubert Humphrey, followed with 22%. New York's Mayor John Lindsay follows with 17% and Muskie had 7%.

President Nixon trailed with 5% behind Senator George McGovern. Former Senator Eugene McCarthy also had 5% and a total of 8% were undecided.

Results of the poll are reported in a special "Politics: 1971" issue of Sepia, which predicts that up to 8,000 black voters will go to the polls in November, compared to 6,300,000 blacks who voted in 1968. Black strength in presidential elections has more than doubled in the past 20 years, Sepia states.

Republicans have not been able to get substantial support from Negro voters since the early 30's when the black vote first swung to the Democrats under President Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Highest percentage of black voters chalked up a GOP nominee for President since then was in 1956 when Dwight D. Eisenhower got 39%. In the 1968 election Nixon only got 12% of the black vote.

CAROLINIAN'S FOURTH "CHRISTMAS CHRISTIAN FAMILY OF THE YEAR" - Pictured here is the family of Dr. and Mrs. James Alexander Boyer 1504 Oakwood Avenue. The Boyer family is The CAROLINIAN'S fourth "Christmas Christian Family of the Year," for 1971. The other families were: 1968, Deacon Chester Debnam and family; 1969, Deacon and Mrs. Delmus R. Ingram and family; and, 1970, the Rev. and Mrs. Leatha Debnam and family. Pictured from left to right, are: Miss Esther Alethea Boyer, daughter, Mrs. Emma L. Perry Boyer and Dr. James A. Boyer. The James Alexander Boyer Family.. Christian Stalwarts In These Times

How do you color a man who voluntarily stepped down after ten years as president of the largest predominantly black Episcopalian-oriented institution of higher education (Saint Augustine's College) in the United States? How do you color a man, who succeeded his own father as dean of instruction at the college, a revered professor of English, and husband and father of the highest religious esteem, who walks humbly with his God each day and never seems to have any complaints? How do you color this man and his family? Color them GREAT.

The CAROLINIAN'S "Christmas Family of the Year" for 1971 is the James Alexander Boyer family, 1504 Oakwood Avenue. Dr. Boyer, who is a distinguished educator, is married to the former Emma Louise Perry. She is an alumna of Saint Augustine's College, Bishop Tuttle Training School for Religious Workers and Atlanta University School of Social Work. The Boyers have a daughter, Esther Alethea Boyer, who will be a member of the class of 1972 at Saint Augustine's College.

Dr. James A. Boyer, who holds an A.B., M.A., Ed.D., was the sixth child in a family of eight children, and the son of Dean and Mrs. Charles H. Boyer. Dr. Boyer was born June 15, 1909. His father was an accomplished educator in his own right. C. H. Boyer held both the B.A., and M.A., degrees from Yale University. He also served as teacher and dean of St. Augustine's College. The Boyer family attends the Church chapel on the campus during the school year, and St. Ambrose Episcopal Church.

Dr. J.A. Boyer's educational career embodies the ultimate achievements which any educator might strive for. He completed grade school, high school and junior college at St. Augustine's, and earned a B.S. at Morehouse College, graduating Cum Laude in 1931. He received the master's degree from Atlanta University in 1934 and began his teaching career at St. Augustine's in September, 1934. He was both an English instructor and football coach at the college, and later was to become head of the English Department.

What may certainly be referred to as a successful educational career was pre-empted from 1942 to 1946, as Dr. Boyer served with the Navy during that period. After fulfilling his military obligation,

Church To Serve Fellowship Meals

A Christmas Day Fellowship Dinner will be served to senior citizens and needy families at the First Baptist Church's Cafeteria on Wilmington and Morgan Street on Christmas Day. This fellowship dinner is being coordinated by the North Carolina chapter of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC). Several churches and organizations in the city of Raleigh are participating. The dinner will begin at 12 noon, but those attending should be at the church at 11 a.m.

SCLC is especially concerned with all families in Raleigh and Wake County who are in need of fellowship and companionship on this Christmas Day. We feel that this fellowship and food will be just one item on the menu.

Pastors, ministers and missionary workers of various churches are invited to participate. We are also inviting anyone with an automobile who will furnish their services to deliver dinners to the shut-ins. Buses have been secured to bring families who live at a distance where they cannot walk. Community workers are requested to make contact with needy families and senior citizens and contact the Southern Christian Leadership Conference for the purpose of setting up our roster and time schedule.

The following persons should be contacted: O. A. Dupree or Bobby Jones, 755-4828; Mrs. Rosa Cooley, 755-6797; Mrs. Laura G. Milliken, 755-6834; Mrs. Ruth Purcell, 755-6713; Mrs. Lovie Debnam, 834-2334; or Mrs. Clydia Mae Hill, 834-2107.

CRIME BEAT

From Raleigh's Official Police Files

GIRL SLASHES MAN

Robert Dan Holloway, 22, 424 S. Bloodworth Street, told Officers D. W. Martin and O. T. Wester at 7:10 p. m. Sunday that he was walking on S. Bloodworth Street, at its intersection with E. Cabarrus Street, when his 16-year-old girlfriend, Miss Gail Bobbitt, 736 Ellington Street, approached him and cut him with a broken Pepsi-Cola bottle. He declared that earlier in the day, Miss Bobbitt came to his house "and saw me with another girl." Holloway said he was walking back home after he had walked the "other" girl home, when the assault occurred. The officers talked with Mr. Holloway at Wake Memorial Hospital, where he was treated and released for a three inch cut on the left forearm. He was advised to sign an assault with a deadly weapon warrant against Miss Bobbitt and assured the cops that he would.

Political Divorce Is Urged In NC

GREENSBORO - Frank Ballance, a Warrenton attorney and temporary chairman of the newly formed Black Peoples' Union Party (BPUP), has called on Black people to make an "absolute divorce" from the dependent politics of the Democratic and Republican parties and chose instead a course of independent organization.

Atty. Ballance made the statement while addressing the monthly meeting of the Greensboro Citizens Association at St. James United Presbyterian Church here Tuesday night of this week. A packed room of Citizen's Association members and guests was on hand to hear his presentation.

Speaking in a relaxed and informal style, Atty. Ballance said he viewed the BPUP as "a continuing step forward in Black people's struggle to become their own masters and deal with their own problems."

For the first part of the presentation, the North Carolina Central University alumnus traced an extensive history of political dealings in the state, beginning in the 18th century.
