Begin State Benefit To Aid All Charities

GREENSBORO - A tribute to the Honorable Robert J. Brown, special assistant to the President, will be held in Washington, D.C., January 30, to benefit the Sickle Cell Anemia Fund and three other Black related projects around the country, North Carolina Co-chairman Mrs. Ruth Miller Gore announced recently.

A North Carolinian from High Point, Brown has served President Nixon's administration and is known as an excellent orator.

Mrs. Gore, head of counseling and testing services at A & T State University, said "it would be wonderful to have a large representation attend the benefit from North Carolina since Brown is a native of the state."

The affair is being sponsored nationally to provide funds for the United Negro College Fund, the Howard University Mississippi Project and the Social Services Foster Home Children's Program in addition to the fight against the dreaded sickle cell disease.

The other state co-chairman, Ornel H. Leak, captain of the High Point Police Community Service and Youth Division, said "those who can't attend can make contributions to the funds which are tax deductible. Entertainment will be provided by "Mr. Entertainment", Sammy Davis, Jr. with music by Lionel Hampton.
