NAACP Resists Take-Over By N. E. G. R. O.

Attempt To Invade In NY Fails

NEW YORK - A report of the recent attempt by a group known as the National Economic Growth and Reconstruction Organization (NEGRO) to seize the national office of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP) in New York City at 1790 Broadway, has shocked thousands of people nation-wide, who have considered this act by some fifty (50) members of this ultra-radical group almost unbelievable.

The NAACP states that the group NEGRO was in strong disagreement with the sanctioning by NAACP of what is termed "scattered-site housing for slum residents" which builds or leases housing for blacks in many areas among whites in an effort to diffuse the population. This group burst into NAACP headquarters, reportedly, Jan. 12 and manhandled the office secretaries and other staffers about 10 a.m. and remained some nine hours. The demonstrators allegedly pulled out telephone lines and damaged and ransacked the office while the few remaining employees crouched in mortal fear from the ever eminent danger of physical abuse. No arrests were made or ordered by NAACP officials as they tried to not further aggravate an already bad situation. The intruders only departed after NAACP attorney Nat Jones secured "a temporary restraining order" (See NAACP RESISTS, P. 2)

SUSPECT JAILED IN COP SHOOTINGS - San Francisco: Junious L. Poole, 21, suspect in the shooting of two policemen walking their beat here Jan. 24, is escorted to a police car after he was apprehended near the scene. Greensboro Blacks Supporting Africans In Rhodesia Deaths

GREENSBORO - Black people here took to the streets this week in announcing their unity with the embattled people of the African country of Zimbabwe, also known as Rhodesia. A group of 50 demonstrators assembled at noon Monday in front of the local federal building to dramatize their support for native Zimbabweans who have been involved in large scale protest of plans by white minority rulers and the former British colonial masters to perpetuate minority rule in that country. Late last year, British and white Rhodesian representatives met in the capital of Salisbury and agreed on plans to resume diplomatic relations which had been severed when the Rhodesians, fearing upcoming majority rule, issued a Unilateral Declaration of Independence. The country has a population of five million Africans who are ruled by the nation's 250,000 whites.

Two weeks ago, a British commission arrived in Rhodesia to see whether or not the Black people approved of the agreement. They were met with a resounding, "No," emphasized with major revolts in four cities. Rhodesian authorities responded violently, killing at least 14 Africans and wounding hundreds of others. Local Black people here tied these incidents of outward repression there into a recent upsurge in police brutality in Greensboro. "Today we all recognize," they said in a written statement, "that racism, exploitation and police brutality are becoming more intense and brutal. We have seen such occurrences in Greensboro, Memphis and Baton Rouge and we are well aware that this is happening to Black people throughout this country." Calling on Black people throughout the world to show their support for the struggling people of Zimbabwe, they said that the purpose of the demonstration, which was carried out in the form of a silent vigil, was to dramatize the urgency of the issue. Police photographers were on hand and photographed the march and participants. The demonstrators came from many places in the community, a good number of them (See SUPPORT, P. 2)

Teachers Shunned, They Say

BY STAFF WRITER
MIDDLESEX - Three black Raleigh school teachers, who work at the Middlesex Elementary School here, charged, late Tuesday afternoon, that they had been discriminated against when the owner of Woods' Restaurant, Charles Woods, believed to be a young Vietnam War veteran, refused to serve them lunch.

DR. N. H. HARRIS

According to Mrs. Valerie Fields Shaw, one of those who was refused service at the restaurant, "We stood there from between twenty to thirty minutes, waiting to be served. The owner, Mr. Woods, ignored us. At the same time, four white teachers at the school, two from Middlesex and two from Wilson, were eating their meals, but he never even asked us if he could serve us. "We only had a short time for lunch, so we finally left."

When contacted early Wednesday at his eastern Nash (See 3 TEACHERS, P. 2)

Slaps Face, Then Cut By Razor

BY STAFF WRITER
The old saying, "Hell hath no fury like that of a woman scorned," could be changed, in one instance, to read, "Hell hath no fury like that of two women doing battle over the affections of the same man." One woman was brutally slashed here Friday with a razor blade, and another has been accused of the razor-blade knifing. Miss Mable Louise Williams, 31, 547 E. Hargett St., reported to Officer Freddie L. Rountree at 3:05 p.m. Sunday, that she and Miss Odell Holloway, 21, 548 E. Hargett St., were arguing about an unnamed man whom they both were attracted to. CRIME BEAT

From Raleigh's Official Police Files
EDITOR'S NOTE: This column or feature is produced in the public interest with an aim towards eliminating its contents. Numerous individuals have requested that they be given the consideration of overlooking their listing on the police blotter. This we would like to do. However, it is not our position to be judge or jury. We merely publish the facts as we find them reported by the arresting officers. To keep out of the Crime Beat Columns, merely means not being registered by a police officer in reporting his findings while on duty. So simply keep off the "Blotter" and you won't be in the Crime Beat. WOMAN BEATEN

Miss Mary Virginia Justice, 28, 1012 Cannister Street (Southside), told Officers J. K. Harrison and J. R. Tate at 11:35 p.m. Saturday, that she was coming out of Mitchell's Grocery Store, at the corner of Battle and Cannister Streets, when she was attacked and beaten by two Negro men at approximately 10 p.m. that day. The woman, who suffered bruises about the body and face, was advised to sign an assault warrant against her attackers, whose names and addresses were not listed on the offense report. INQUIRING REPORTER THEY SAY

BY STAFF WRITER
Do you think reporters and newsmen should be allowed to interview prisoners in the North Carolina Correctional system?

Mrs. Irene Croslan, Greensboro
"If we expect to run a democratic form of government, I think it is a must we hear both sides of any story. And permitting the news media to visit and interview the prisoners is one way of hearing what the prisoners have to say about the system and their particular circumstance." Mr. Will Green, Durham
"I really didn't know they had stopped reporters from going into our prison systems until the discussion came up recently. Reporters cover every other type of event and the prison system should be no exception." (See THEY SAY, P. 2)
