Mystery Clouds Killing Of Naked Young Black Man

Body Still Unclaimed At Morgue

BY STAFF WRITER
 Although 26-year-old Thomas Adams was shot to death at 10 p.m. last Friday, his body still lies cold in the morgue at Wake Memorial Hospital, waiting to be claimed by a funeral home or a relative. Mystery still shrouds the killing of this black man, who was allegedly in the bedroom of the man's teenage daughters when a scream was heard. Adams lived at 612 S. Saunders Street.

HOUSE IN WHICH MAN WAS SLAIN-Shown above is a house, located at 309 Maywood Avenue (Caraleigh section), in which a black man, Thomas Adams, 26, was found shot to death about 10 p.m. last Friday night. (STAFF PHOTO.)

Paul Edwin Phipps, 45-year-old white resident of 309 Maywood Avenue (Caraleigh section, south of Raleigh), admitted firing the one shot that killed Thomas Adams.

SCLC Plans Protests At Both National Political Conventions

ATLANTA, Ga. - The Board of Directors of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference has passed resolutions calling the Nixon Administration "anti-black, anti-poor, and committing the organization to carry the SCLC movement to the Republican and Democratic national conventions." A Poor People's Lobby to raise issues pertinent to the lives of poor people is planned for the conventions, and the SCLC Board did not rule out the possibility of a "Poor People's City" as a base of creative protest at the Democratic Convention in Miami Beach.

Passage of the resolutions was announced here recently by Dr. Ralph David Abernathy, President, and Dr. J. E. Lowery, Chairman of the Board, following the annual spring meeting of the Board.

Dr. Abernathy said that SCLC will not endorse a Presidential candidate, at least until after the conventions, but said "The record of the Nixon Administration is so poor that the SCLC Board has made it clear we certainly could not support the re-election of Richard Nixon. The Board resolved to commit SCLC to expose the policies and practices of the present Administration during the remaining months of the primary elections." In other resolutions, the Board:

'God Restored My Sight,' Mrs. Kelly Tells Scribe

BY CHARLES R. JONES
 Mrs. Emily May Morgan Kelly, minister of music at the First Baptist Church for fifty years, and a music teacher at both the old Washington High and J. W. Ligon High Schools, for about the same number of years, brought tears to the eyes of this writer as she told of "My story of God's miracle to me." The event of restored sight occurred on Sunday, April 9, as she sat at the piano in a chapel, playing the Songs of Zion for herself and the others in the chapel.

She told her story thusly: "Several months ago, I began to find that my sight was weakening, until it seemed that it was about half gone. I was not horrified, but I was partly terrified. I do not like the dark. Those who know me, know I keep light around me," the musician par excellence went on to say.

"My friends, who knew about my growing blindness, were in dedicated prayer for me, and I am a witness to say that a real MIRACLE was performed. This was done on Sunday, April 9, (SEE MRS. KELLY, P. 2)

INQUIRING REPORTER THEY SAY

What ways and means do you think law enforcement officers can use to decrease the spread of drugs?

Mr. Albert Sanford, Greensboro
 "I think if judges would pass some very stiff sentences on the pushers of dope are caught would decrease the spread of the drug case. The only way to try to decrease the flow is once the pushers are caught and convicted, they should be punished accordingly." Miss Rachel Knight, Durham
 "I think if the law enforcement officers would organize a continuous investigation on the drug abuse case this would help decrease the spread of (SEE THEY SAY, P. 2)

CRIME BEAT

From Raleigh's Official Police Files
 EDITOR'S NOTE: This column or feature is produced in the public interest with an aim towards eliminating its contents. Numerous individuals have requested that they be given the consideration of overlooking their listing on the police blotter. This we would like to do. However, it is not our position to be judge or jury. We merely publish the facts as we find them reported by the arresting officers. To keep out of the Crime Beat column, merely means not being registered by a police officer in reporting and findings while on duty. Be simply keep off the "Blotter" and you won't be in the Crime Beat.
 OWNER IS BEATEN
 Jarrett Clinton Broughton, owner of cafeteria, located at 605 Hillsborough Street, told Officer R. G. Maynard at 3 a.m. Saturday, that four or five Negro subjects were using vulgar language and he ordered them to leave. One subject attempted to strike Broughton, who picked up a knife and again ordered them to leave. They left and one returned and threw a sugar dish at Broughton, resulting in a two inch laceration on Broughton's left arm. Suspects were in the company of Raymond Earl Tucker, 208 Dorothea Drive.
