

N. C. - Virginia Classic Set For Broughton Next Wed.

Shaw Meets Va. State; St. Aug's Vs. Va. Union

Shaw and St. Augustine's will be the North Carolina teams competing and Virginia State and Virginia Union will represent Virginia in the first annual North Carolina-Virginia Classic next Wednesday night at Broughton's Holiday Gymnasium.

The Shaw Bears will meet Virginia State in the first game at 7 p.m. and the Falcons of St. Augustine's will come to grips against Virginia Union in the nightcap.

The NC-Virginia Classic is a part of the Capital City Doubleheader attractions this season which feature Shaw and St. Augustine's. This will be the first time the two local teams have played two teams from

W-S Tops Livingstone

WINSTON-SALEM — The Winston-Salem State Rams maintained their perfect CIAA record by defeating Livingstone College 103-56 in Whitaker Gym last Tuesday night.

The Rams are now 5-0 in the CIAA and 10-2 overall. Livingstone is winless in CIAA play.

The Rams played in spurts, looking very good at times and not too good at other times. But on the whole they did a good job. They ran well, scored from the inside and showed a much stronger outside scoring game.

Arthur Chavious, quarterback, led all scorers. He hit from outside and drove to score 20 points, hitting 10 of 14 shots from the floor.

Earl Williams, 6-7 Ram center, hit 7 of 19 shots from the floor, scoring 17 points, and led the rebounding for both teams with 20.

In addition to Williams and Chavious, Sandy Smith had 15 points, Roger Wells for 15 and Harold (Funny) Kitt got 14. Kitt delighted the fans with his antics.

Joseph Palmer scored 17 points for the Bears and Mitch Wiggins added 10.

The Rams really turned on the steam at the end of the game when they realized that they could score 100.

Gaines, still elevated over his 500th win as a Coach said of the game "It went just as I expected Livingstone was outmanned and everybody knew it. But Coach (Morris) Wiggins is getting all he can from his players. We have some tough games coming up."

The Classic will also afford local fans a chance to see some of the teams who will more than likely be participating in the 28th annual CIAA Tournament.

Va. State and Va. Union are expected to be two of the four Northern Division opponents while St. Augustine's and Shaw are battling for two of the four spots in the Southern Division.

Virginia State, skipped by Harold Deane, is off to one of the best starts in recent years for the Petersburg school. The Trojans won the Fort Eustis Christmas Tournament and also have some other big victories this season including a win over league leading Norfolk State.

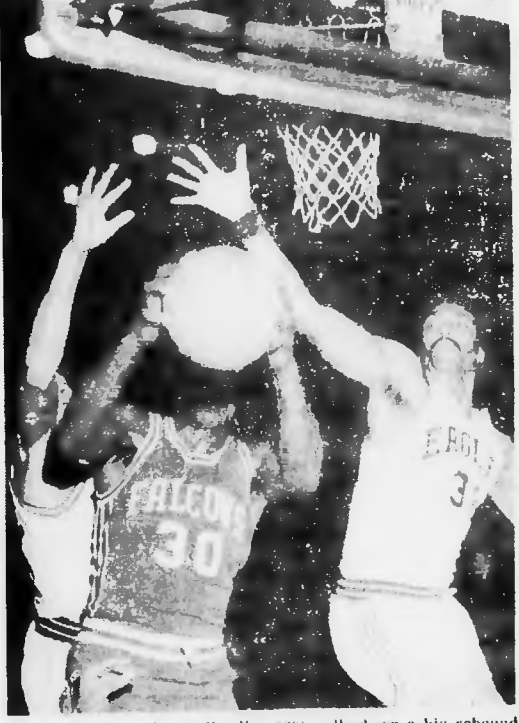

Lynn Greer is one of the top performers for the Trojans. Other top players for Virginia State are Linwood Johnson, Reginald Whiting, Milton Lundy and Larry Greer.

"Tricky" Tom Harris is still at the helm for the Virginia Union cagers and as long as Harris is the coach, you can expect his cagers to come up with anything. Harris, who is known for pulling all kinds of tricks when he was coaching the Virginia Union football team, is capable of pulling some tricks on the hardwood also.

Andrew Hazley, Thomas Leary, Charlie Scott, Samuel Lockhart and Perry Robinson are the top players for the Panthers who defeated Shaw last weekend by a slim four points, 83-79.

Expected to carry most of the offensive load for the Falcons will be Larry Gooding and Charles Montague. Collins Vincent, Calvin Rand and Ronald Richardson are expected to join Gooding and Montague in the starting line-up.

Lonnie Smith, Robert Smith, Daniel Agee, Lester Roseboro and John Partin will answer the starting whistle for the Bears. Also expected to see plenty of action for the James Farris coached Bears is Gene Dudley.

BIG REBOUND - Larry Gooding (30) pulls down a big rebound during the overtime period against North Carolina Central last Thursday in Durham. NCCU's David Caldwell (31) tries to wrestle the rebound away from Gooding. St. Augustine's won the game in an overtime, 56-55.

NEW CHAMP WALKS AWAY - Kingston, Jamaica - The referee stops the world heavyweight fight with his outstretched arms as challenger George Foreman walks across the ring from defeated Joe Frazier after the last knockdown. (UPI)

FORTY POINTS FOR COGDILL - All-CIAA candidate Alton Cogdell scored a season high of forty points against Elizabeth City recently. The Bronco forward is averaging over 20 points a game for Fayetteville State University who are 13-6 overall and 8-3 in the CIAA.

Sports Notes

The Aggies All-SEC defensive end, William Wideman, has recently been named to the second team of Universal Sports' Small College All-American Football team. Wideman, a Pittsburgh Courier All-American and second highest vote getter for Mid Eastern Athletic Conference (MEAC) defensive player of the year, has been rated one of the top defensive linemen in the South.

A&T basketball backcourt combination of William Harris and James Outlaw continue to win acclaim. Harris, a senior who made the NBA's honor roll last year, has been called by Golden State Warrior Coach Al Attles as "one of the finest players in the nation. He doesn't have to take a backseat to anyone," said the pro coach. With Outlaw averaging 21.2 points while Harris hits 15.5 and contributes 6.1 assists per game, A&T is ranked 10th in the NCAA College Division in scoring (.931). Both are great defensive players, as the opposition averages only 81.5 points.

Completing their best grid year since 1968, A&T finished the season ranked 13th in the NAIA and 5th among black colleges. They compiled an 8-2 record.

Power hitting first baseman Nate Colbert is reported to have signed a contract for the highest amount ever paid to a San Diego Padre.

RANDOM COMMENTS

THE AUGUSTINE'S HOMECOMING GAME NOW has been switched back to the regular schedule date, February 17. Administrative officials met previously and changed the game to Friday, February 16 to avoid some of the conflict with some of the activities scheduled for that Saturday night. But then after consulting with some of the students on their planned activities, it was learned that some projects had been planned by the students for the originally scheduled Saturday night game and these appointments had to be kept. Therefore, it was finally decided that the game would be played on Saturday night, February 17 at 8 o'clock.

CHANCES ARE VERY SLIM that the finals of the Holiday Tournament which was played in Raleigh will be shown in this area. The finals which matched Shaw against Elizabeth City was scheduled to be the first game in the series for Black Basketball Highlights which is produced by BASE, the same network which produced Grambling Football Highlights. This game was shown national as the kickoff game for the program but WRDU was unable to carry the first game. The second game in the series was the contest played in Baltimore, January 6, matching Howard and Morgan State. WRDU failed to receive the tape for this show. So maybe this Saturday, Black Basketball Highlights will be presented.

LEO MILES, WHO IS ONE OF THE FIVE black official in the professional football league, has worked a playoff game for the last two years. Miles, who just completed his fourth season as one of the men in stripes, worked the Miami-Cleveland playoff game. Two playoff games in four years represent a respectable record. After all, some officials have been in the league for better than ten years and still have not received one of the "big" games.

CIAA AND MEAC TOURNAMENT TICKETS are now on sale at member institutions. Bargain prices are offered to persons buying books of tickets for the entire tournament. Each tournament will offer four sessions this season.

BOTH THE CIAA AND THE MEAC are in search for commissioners. The CIAA is still promising to name a commissioner by July. No target date has been set by the MEAC.

THE MEAC JUST CONCLUDED ITS WINTER meeting in Durham last Sunday and Monday. Besides going over regular conference business and listening to reports for the activities for the first half of the 1972-73 season, the basketball tournament committee also held a meeting during the two-day session to make some final plans for the upcoming MEAC Tournament.

BY THE WAY, PLEASE circle these dates on your calendars. The MEAC Tournament will be held in Durham, March 8, 9 and 10. The CIAA Tournament will be held in Greensboro once again this season with the dates being February 22, 23 and 24.

WRDU TELEVISION STATION will carry Black Basketball Highlights this season. According to reports from the TV station, two attempts to get the program off the ground have failed. The first downfall was the tape for the first show failed to arrive. This was two weeks ago. Then last Sunday, the golf tournament lasted longer than expected and thus eliminated the showing of the one-hour program. But hopefully, the program will get started this week. The regular time for the highlight program which will show highlights from the top basketball games of the week for black institutions will be Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock. The program was switched from Saturday to Sunday last week because of the inauguration of the President last Saturday.

RECENTLY, NAMING OF NEW football coaches has been in the headlines on the sports pages. Even though the hiring and firing have been most at the predominately white colleges and universities, some appointments will soon be made at some black institutions.

NORTH CAROLINA CENTRAL HAS SET February 1 as the target for naming a successor to George Quiett, who had to give up the head coaching job at the end of this season for medical reasons.

SOUTH CAROLINA STATE is expected to name a new head grid mentor within the next two or three weeks. Oree Banks was released of his head coaching duties at S. C. State at the end of the season just completed. The new man at the Orangeburg school is expected to be named pretty soon.

BANKS IS NOT SITTING AROUND twirling his fingers. Banks has accepted a job at the University of South Carolina as line coach. Matter of fact, he is already on the job at USC. Evidently Banks has no hard feelings against some of the people at S.C. State. He makes visits over to the campus still. He was seen in attendance at one of the recent basketball games at S.C. State.

IF THE CIAA TOURNAMENT was to be played this weekend, Hampton Institute would be one of the teams representing the Northern Division. The Pirates stand a good chance to be one of the four teams from the Northern Division for the 28th annual CIAA Tournament.

OUR VOTE GOES TO JOHN LUCAS as the outstanding high school athlete in the Carolinas. Five athletes from the two Carolinas will be honored at a banquet in Charlotte, January 29. Lucas, who was a star tennis and basketball player at Durham Hillside last season is the only non-football player selected. The other four players chosen are football players. Our votes goes to Lucas, who is now a starter for the Maryland basketball team, because he was a star in two sports.

REPORTS TO THIS BUREAU reveal the chances for a re-run of the St. Augustine's and Shaw Saturday morning basketball shows this year are very good. The delay has been caused because of a change over in the administrative staffs at the local TV station. Hopefully, within the next few weeks, Harvey Heartley and James Farris will have their shows on the tube.

Here's a bit of history. Over the past 12 pro drafts, 10 first-rounders are from Black schools-here they are: 1963 - Buck Buchanan (Grambling - Kansas City); 1968 - Claude Humphrey (Tennessee State - Atlanta) and Eldridge Dickey (Tennessee State - Oakland); 1969 - Jim Marsalis (Tennessee State - Kansas City); 1970 - Raymond Chester (Morgan State - Oakland); 1970 - Ken Burrough (Texas Southern - New Orleans); 1971 - Frank Lewis (Grambling - Pittsburgh) and Richard Harris (Grambling - Philadelphia); 1971 - Isaiah Robertson (Southern - Los Angeles); 1972 - Jerome Barkum (Jackson State - New York Jets).

DRIVING TWO - Charles Montague (52) drives past two Barber Scotia players for a layup during St. Augustine's game against the visitors last week at Broughton's Gym. The Falcons lost the game, 113-76.
