

'I Was Raped' Near Women's Prison

Address Of ★★★★★ CR Commission Believes Race Harmony Can Be

Assault Is

NC Prison
A 20-year-old Raleigh woman, Miss Marie Mona Ingram, 1814 Fountain Drive, Southgate Apartments, told a Raleigh Police Department officer at 12:57 p.m. on Monday of this week, that she was raped by Sylvester (Shorty) Jones, 25, Liberty Place, also in Southgate. The physical assault was listed as having taken place at 4034 Bragg Street, the address of the N.C. Correctional Center for Women.

Miss Ingram reported to Officer R. D. Moore that she had left the Rocky Mount Road with Jones, at about 11 p.m.

She declared Jones then asked her to go to Darryl's restaurant and Tavern, located at 1906 Hillborough Street, and drink some beer with him. The woman continued by saying that when they arrived at Darryl's, he told her that he wanted something in return for the beer.

Miss Ingram stated that after some more beer, they left, but she did not know what time it was. She stated Jones asked her if she had been to Park Park lately. She answered in the negative, and at that point the general manager report at the Raleigh Police Department fails to mention the story.

However, it is made clear on the other side of the report that she was sexually assaulted.

It was suggested by one of the officers, "I WAS RAPED," P. 2.

US Lunch Program

Is Boosted

National Black News Service
WASHINGTON - The nation's school lunch program will receive a boost of 25 percent in federal aid if the House and Senate go along with a compromise measure approved in conference last week.

The measure then would face probable veto from President Nixon since the measure exceeds his budget request by about $275 million.

The bill, which raises from 8 cents to 10 cents the federal contribution for each pupil in the school lunch program from 45 to 45 cents the amount for a needy child getting a free lunch. (See U.S. LUNCH, P. 2)

Multi-Skills Program Is

Now Underway

The N.C. Business and Economic Improvement Corporation, a private, non-profit community service organization, has set November 1, 1973, as the official opening date of its Community Multi-Skills Center (CMC) in Raleigh.

CMC is not an educational institution but a job training center. (See MULTI-SKILLS, P. 2)

'Slow And Tortuous'

THE CAROLINIAN

North Carolina's Leading Weekly

VOL. 32, NO. 49 RALEIGH, N.C. WEEK ENDING SATURDAY, OCTOBER 13, 1973 SINGLE COPY 15c

Two Young Durham Males Claim

'RALEIGH COPS BEAT US'

★★★★★ Shaw University Site

Homebuyers Group Meets

Flashlight Was Used: 2 Brothers

Comes now into the court of public opinion two members of the Raleigh Police Department, one black and one white, to explain why two brothers, Harvey and David Prince, 1617 W. South Street, Durham, related a story of how they were manhandled, beaten with flashlights and threatened with death, in an episode that is alleged to have taken place outside of the Dark Side of the Moon, 502 Downtown Blvd., 1:15 a.m. Saturday, Oct. 6.

Harvey, 24, with one side of his face swollen to the extent an eye was closed and with the other side showing it had come in contact with a mauling object, related to The CAROLINIAN an unbelievable story as to how he was treated by Michael Hunter, the black officer, and M. S. Williamson. He began by saying that his younger brother, David, Jr., 18, and himself were preparing to leave the night spot, when one officer pointed to David and said, "That's the one." He alleged that David was seated in the car and that one of the officers pulled him out and proceeded to unbraid him.

According to Harvey, both officers began beating David. Harvey alleged that he became terribly concerned and went to the aid of the youth and when they continued, he proceeded to try to stop the irate officers. He admitted that he pushed one of them and perhaps might have struck one of them. He said any part he might have taken in the melee was provoked by the fact that the officers were beating his brother unmercifully. He also related how they handcuffed him and continued to beat him. They placed Harvey under arrest, along with his brother. (See TWO YOUNG, P. 2)

CROWNED 'MISS FAYETTEVILLE STATE UNIVERSITY' - In Coronation ceremonies last week was lovely Jacksonville, North Carolina senior, Miss Angela Calloway. She will reign during the 1973-74 academic year at FSU as the campus queen. Angela is an elementary education major and a member of the Delta Sigma Theta Sorority.

Launa Hargett Greene Appeals Life Sentence

GREENSBORO - Mrs. Launa Hargett Greene, local funeral director, and member of a prominent state family, sentenced to life imprisonment in the state penitentiary, in Guilford County Superior Court, April 5, for the part she is alleged to have played in a murder, gave notice of appeal to the N.C. Court of Appeals, immediately after being sentenced by Judge J. William Copeland.

Mrs. Greene, who operates the Hargett Funeral Home, one of the oldest in the city, was charged with Douglas Donnell in connection with the death of Mrs. Marie Nellie Cobb, on June 11.

The evidence presented in one of the most bizarre cases tried here in recent years, wove a web which entangled the two into murder and conspiracy that convinced the jury that the slain woman met her death at the hands of a hired killer for an alleged debt of $1,000.

The evidence showed that the plot unfolded in a determined manner, beginning April 9, when the two accused persons abducted Denny Cobb, son of the slain woman, and took him to a country road where they threatened him with pistols and shotguns. Cobb is said to have convinced the two that they should take him to his mother's home.

The evidence further revealed that the accused persons were driven from the house by the slain woman with a hired killer. (See MRS. GREENE, P. 2)

Appreciation Money SPOTLIGHT THIS WEEK WAYSIDE NURSERIES For Complete Landscaping Needs

Two-Day Session In City

The second annual conference of the North Carolina Turnkey III Homebuyers Association, Inc., will be held October 20-21 in the student Union Building at Shaw University.

Some highlights of the two day conference include the keynote address by Miss Dorothy Irene Hught, National President of the National Council of Negro Women. The address by James Kell, executive director of the Durham Housing Authority. Informative workshops and presentations. Participants include Robert L. Elston, (See HOMEBUYERS, P. 2)

Statement Issued By CR Body

WASHINGTON, D.C. - Unless concerted action is taken, progress toward racial harmony can be slow and tortuous in a community where the scars of past violence and polarization have not fully healed.

That is the central message of "Cairo - Racism at Floodtide," a major publication focusing on conditions in Alexander County, Illinois, which was issued last Friday by the U.S. Commission on Civil Rights.

Written by Paul Good, a journalist and author who specializes in human rights subjects, the book is based on hearings held by the Commission last year in Cairo and on subsequent interviews designed to update the information. Cairo, located at the southern tip of Illinois, was the scene of repeated clashes between (See SLOW AND, P. 2)

CLARENCE E. LIGHTNER

MRS. CLIFFORNIA WIMBERLEY

WILLIAM R. KNIGHT

Five Blacks In Runoff For Mayor, Council, School Bd.

Even though Clarence E. Lightner fell behind G. Wesley Williams in Tuesday's primary race, his supporters were highly encouraged and began Wednesday morning to set up the machinery that would make him the first black mayor of the City of Raleigh. He polled 6,979 votes of the 16,333 cast for the top city post. Due to the record he has made as a city councilman and the showing he made in the white precincts, it was evident that he would have to concentrate on those precincts.

Much interest was expressed in landing the 2,486 votes which the third candidate, Michael Boyd, received. Political prognosticators predicted that proper concentration on getting out the vote for the general election would mean victory for the mayor-protem. It is to be remembered that Lightner led all candidates in the 1971 election.

Other blacks who survived the primary were Ed Carson, who ran 8th in the last councilman race, and will face William R. Knight to gain the right to represent District C on the city council. His name was mentioned to replace the late James Reid. However, Reid's widow was named, but she did not seek the post again.

Mrs. Clifflonia Wimberley, in her first political effort to be on the Raleigh School Board, placed fourth in a field of 8 incumbents, Vernon Malone, was second. This means that two people of color will be fighting for one of the four vacancies on the board.

Bobby Wilder, white, who made a definite bid for the black vote, in his quest for at large city council, came in fourth.

Rev. G. E. Cheek, 81, Given Warren Rites

Funeral services for the Rev. Gillis Emmanuel Cheek, 81, a long-time resident of Raleigh, who died last Wednesday in Warren County, were conducted at 2 p.m. Saturday, Oct. 6, at the Union Grove Baptist Church in Warren County, with the Rev. P. G. Davis, pastor, officiating. Burial followed in the Hecks Grove Cemetery.

Rev. Cheek, son of the late Nathaniel and Annie Barnes Cheek, was born June 27, 1892 in Franklin County, but grew up in Warren County. At an early age, he professed faith in Christ and became a member of the Hecks Grove Baptist Church.

Tributes were paid to him at the funeral by the Rev. C. C. Hawley, from the church; Charles G. Irving, Sr., from a friend; Arthur Williams, from the community; and from the Rev. Dr. Otha L. Sherrill, from the State Baptist Circle. He attended Henderson Institute. Later, he studied at Knoxville College, Knoxville, Tennessee, and Shaw University, Raleigh, where he received the A.B. and Bachelor of Theology degrees. He also attended Hampton Institute and Columbia University.

On May 28th, 1921, he was married to the former Enma Jane Bond. To this union was born two daughters and two

BOBBY G. WILDER

Three Top Laymen To Be Feted

FAYETTEVILLE - Mrs. S. T. Henly, president, J. W. Watson Club, Evans Metropolitan AME Zion Church, announced Tuesday that the club would complete its anniversary program at 3 p.m. Sunday, Oct. 14, when Mrs. Ethel Simmons, Miss Lina Culbreth and Alexander Barnes will be cited for their contributions to the Central North Carolina Conference.

Mrs. Simmons has been the secretary of the Laymen's Council for a number of years (See TOP LAYMEN, P. 2)

Black Poet At Bennett October 13

GREENSBORO - Miss Gwendolyn Brooks, one of the most exciting speakers of today, will be special guest at Bennett College's Centennial Founders' Convocation on Saturday, October 13. It will be held in the Annie Merner Pfeiffer Chapel at 4 p.m.

Miss Brooks, who serves as Poet-Laureate of Illinois, was born in Topeka, Kansas, but spent most of her life in Chicago. She is the author of the following books: A Street in Bronzeville, Annie Allen, Maud Martha, Bronzeville Boys and Girls (children's verse), The Bean Eaters, Selected Poems, In The Mecca Family Pictures, Aloneness, and Riot.

She has won many awards for her writing, such as the Pulitzer Prize (1950), United Stages Award, and two Guggenheim Fellowships. She has received 12 honorary (See BLACK POET, P. 2) sons. In June, 1954 he was united in marriage to the former Mrs. Bessie Brewington Thomas.

REV. GILLIS E. CHEEK

He was organizer and principal of the Warren County Training School, serving from 1921-1943 (now Northside High School). From 1925-1937 he pastored Kittrell Baptist Church. From 1930-1962 he served as pastor of Antioch Baptist Church. He also served as pastor of Long Baptist Church, 1936-1964. In 1945, he was appointed public relations director of Shaw University, where he served until 1951. He was selected National Alumni Secretary in 1951 and retired (See REV. CHEEK, P. 2)

CRIME BEAT From Raleigh's Offbeat Police Files

EDITOR'S NOTE: This column or feature is produced in the public interest with an aim towards eliminating its contents. Numerous individuals have requested that they be given the consideration of overlooking their listing on the police blotter. This we would like to do. However, it is not our position to judge or jury. We merely publish the facts as we find them reported by the arresting officers. To keep out of the Crime Beat columns, merely means not being registered by a police officer in reporting his findings while on duty. So simply keep off the "Blotter" and you won't be in The Crime Beat.

SON BEATS MOTHER

Mrs. Mable McDougal, 55, 505 Florence Street, told Officer E. G. Barbour at 5:10 p.m. Sunday, that she was sitting on her couch when she asked her son to leave the house. The son, 38-year-old Charles Edward Sullivan, began arguing with her, she stated, then began to beat her with his hands and fists and finally a metal pipe. Mrs. McDougal said she then went next door to call the police, but "when they got there the son had split the scene." Mrs. McDougal, according to "the law," had been drinking, but she was advised to sign an assault with a deadly weapon against her son. She suffered busted lips and bruises of the head. (See CRIME BEAT, P. 3)

SEARCH FOR BODIES - Inkster, Mich. - Wayne County corner and FAA officials search the charred wreckage of a twin-engine Beacher for the remains of passengers after the craft crashed in dense fog in the western Detroit suburb of Inkster (Mich.) late Oct. 9. Eight bodies have been removed so far, but they are continuing to search. The plane was registered to a West Virginia family. (UPI)

NIGERIAN GENERAL VISITS UNITED NATIONS - United Nations Secretary General Waldheim (R) escorts Nigeria's General Yakubu Gowon and his wife, Victoria, through lobby of U.N. building where Gowon later addressed Oct. 5 General Assembly. (UPI)