

APPRECIATION

(Continued from page 1)
 was listed on the Appreciation Page, but the person involved, did not show up to properly identify himself for the money.
 Winners in last week's feature were Mrs. Evelyn Franklin, 809 Camparella Drive, whose name was found in the advertising space paid for by the Person Street Variety Store, located at 702 N. Person Street, which specializes in toys, gifts and decorations. The other winner was Mrs. Maggie Harmon, 601 Bragg Street. Her name appeared in the Briggs Hardware Store ad. Briggs, located at 220 Fayetteville Street, has been in business since 1865 and is noted for its gala array of hardware, toys and locks of all types.
 Watch for your name in this week's edition of THE CAROLINIAN. All names are listed on the back page of the first section of the newspaper. Yours just might be there.

Please remember that the deadline for claiming your money in the feature is noon on the Monday following the appearance of your name in the paper, this week on page 12.
 The CAROLINIAN WILL NOT PAY Appreciation Money to survivors of deceased persons, whose names happen to be chosen out of the City Directory as all of the names used.
 Remember, there are three names listed this week on page 12.

WELFARE

(Continued from page 1)
 1974.
 The biggest problem anticipated by HEW, is the expected 100,000 requests for hearings by persons displeased with their benefit levels. There is currently, no group of trained examiners available for that task.
 And in New York City, a different problem looms with a dispute between city officials and the city's banks over agreement to cash checks for the 200,000 recipients who will be getting payments in January.
 Human Resources Administrator Julie M. Sugarman, has asked the city's cleaning house to come to an agreement with the Social Security Administration to honor the Federal checks. He said it would be "catastrophic" if an agreement was not reached, since "we are virtually out of time."

The problem facing the city's banks, is the huge forgery in the city. Until a city indemnification agreement was reached several years ago, the banks had been incurring losses on forged welfare checks that ran as high as $250,000 for a single bank in a year.
 But now the banks are protected, since the city will repay them if they cash a check properly after a welfare client shows his photo identification card, which also carries his case number. The new Federal Supplemental Security program, has no such system.
 Unless the matter is resolved quickly, the 200,000 welfare recipients in the city will be unable to cash their checks in the city's banks.

LAND OWNER
 (Continued from page 1)
 companion pamphlet for dissemination to laymen who cannot get legal assistance.
 Washington, who was assisted in the preparation of the manual by P. Andrew Patterson, former law partner of Atlanta Mayor Maynard Jackson, said South Carolina's Hilton Head Island is one area which has seen the greatest proportionate land loss by black owners.
 At one time, Washington reported, Hilton Head was wholly owned by black families. Within the last 20 years, approximately 95 percent has been lost to the black owners.
 White developers bill the island as "The Western Hemisphere's Riviera," and land purchased for $1,000 per acre now sells for prices approaching $100 per square inch.
 "Developers were often aided in their efforts to obtain land through bogus condemnation proceedings and questionable land sales," Washington said.

MORTICIAN
 (Continued from page 1)
 Mystic Shrine, and served as its potentate at one time. He represented the temple at the national meeting, held in Los Angeles, Calif. He was also past president of the N.C. Funeral Directors Association and a member of the board.
 Shrine ceremonies are scheduled to be held at the Morris Funeral Home, 8 p.m., Wednesday. He will be buried with Masonic rites.
 Surviving, along with his wife, is one daughter, Miss Ella Morris, New York City and one son, C. H. Morris, Jr., who was associated with him in the business. There are two grandchildren, one sister and one brother.

LAND OWNER

(Continued from page 1)
 companion pamphlet for dissemination to laymen who cannot get legal assistance.
 Washington, who was assisted in the preparation of the manual by P. Andrew Patterson, former law partner of Atlanta Mayor Maynard Jackson, said South Carolina's Hilton Head Island is one area which has seen the greatest proportionate land loss by black owners.
 At one time, Washington reported, Hilton Head was wholly owned by black families. Within the last 20 years, approximately 95 percent has been lost to the black owners.
 White developers bill the island as "The Western Hemisphere's Riviera," and land purchased for $1,000 per acre now sells for prices approaching $100 per square inch.
 "Developers were often aided in their efforts to obtain land through bogus condemnation proceedings and questionable land sales," Washington said.

White developers bill the island as "The Western Hemisphere's Riviera," and land purchased for $1,000 per acre now sells for prices approaching $100 per square inch.
 "Developers were often aided in their efforts to obtain land through bogus condemnation proceedings and questionable land sales," Washington said.

Eyeglasses
CONTACT LENSES
HEARING AIDS
 Bring Your Prescription to Ridgeway's

OPTICIAN: IN.
 FIRST IN THE CAROLINAS
 RALEIGH—Professional Building
 RALEIGH—804 St. Marys St.
 Other Offices: GREENVILLE
 GREENSBORO-CHARLOTTE

CITY MAN

(Continued from page 1)
 suspect, the bullet entering the left side of his chest, near the heart.
 Mr. Smith had a previous record with the Raleigh Police Department's Records and Identification Bureau. No record or any photograph or any other crime against McKinney was discovered in the police files. However, this, according to officials of the department, does not mean that he has no record in the area.
 A preliminary hearing for Mr. McKinney has been set for Wake District Court on Friday, Dec. 28, at 9 a.m.
 It could not be ascertained at CAROLINIAN press time, just who had the body of Mr. Smith or when funeral services would be held, although a check of the city's four major funeral homes proved futile as to which mortuary might have his remains.

TONY BROWN

(Continued from page 1)
 his department teach and that they all serve as student counselors. All but one of the 55 faculty members was complying with the rule, but that one would not counsel his students.
 Administration sources said the university leadership also was unhappy with the amount of time Brown was able to devote to his deanship. Howard President, James Cheek, said Brown had agreed when he took the job, to devote four-fifths of his time to the School of Communications and one-fifth to "Black Journal."

BAHA' BODY

(Continued from page 1)
 be made.
 A report from the Grievance Committee, revealed that quite a few Durham citizens are much concerned over the controversial money voted in November bond issue. The paving of streets, sidewalks, and recreation, in black communities, were topics of discussion.
 Thomas E. Royster and J. A. Tucker, members of the committee, were instructed to pursue the matter with vigor.

EVERYTHING FOR...

BUILDING
REMODELING
REPAIRING
LUMBER
MILLWORK
ATHEY'S PAINTS
BUILDING MATERIALS
RUSSWIN HARDWARE
 At Our New Location On
RALEIGH BELTLINE

Carolina Builders Corp.

Between U.S. 1 and 64
 Ph. 828-7471-Raleigh, N.C.

BRAGGING?

Yes, but with good reason and cold and personal research proves one can make $364 in 8 days on $2000 investment decision with certainty the decision will be right 96.7 percent of the time. For details write: P. O. Box 19121, Raleigh, N. C. 27609.

If you're looking for low monthly payments, you should look at KINGWOOD

CALL 828-0538

A. BARNES

(Continued from page 1)
 presiding elder and top administrator, styles it as the symbolic project of real Christian service, in the community.
 There is also a matter of vast importance, which involves some land, owned by the Central N.C. Conference, located in Harnett and Moore Counties. It is near Ft. Bragg and is adjacent to one of the most promising recreational projects, between Washington and Florida. It is alleged that its development plans call for a "Surf City."

White developers bill the island as "The Western Hemisphere's Riviera," and land purchased for $1,000 per acre now sells for prices approaching $100 per square inch.
 "Developers were often aided in their efforts to obtain land through bogus condemnation proceedings and questionable land sales," Washington said.

11.99 APR. SAVE $$$

PRICES SLASHED YEAR END CLOSEOUT
 This Month Only

NOW is The Time TO BUY AND SAVE

See One Of Our Sales Trio: Jerry Potter, Bob Poston, Charlie Whiteiss

MOBILE HOME CENTER

1439 South Wilmington, Street Phone: 834-1621 Raleigh, N. C.

EASE RACIAL

(Continued from page 1)
 and were given full support in seeing that the black communities, which were in dire need, would not be hoodwinked.
 The matter of the brutal beating of two Durham youths, by Raleigh policemen and the alleged railroading of the case, claimed much attention. An investigation was ordered.

FIVE KIDS

(Continued from page 1)
 According to reliable sources, it all started when Miss Lubertha Jones, well-known 40-year-old mother and grandmother, is said to have told Alexander McLaughlin, 29, from the nearby Laurinburg community, that she did not want him anymore.
 Information, said to have been given by her, revealed that Miss Jones had seen him sometime before the fire was discovered, at 3:45 a.m., Sunday, when she told him, in no uncertain terms, that his love was no longer desired. This is believed to have been more than he could take.
 Picking incidents together, investigating officers, came up with the theory that McLaughlin sharpened his remorse with a beverage, having alcoholic content and went to the family combine and set it afire. Miss Jones is alleged to have been away at that hour in the morning, but was able to see the fire coming from the house, that contained 11 of her offspring and two other families.
 She is alleged to have made a hasty departure from a combination grocery-motel made her way home. Knowing that the children were in the house and chance of them being alive, due to the intense heat, she fainted. The fire took the lives of two of her children and three of her grandchildren, ranging in age from 2 to 6. The six older children, 6 to 17, managed to escape through a rear door.
 Persons who knew the 29-year-old lumber company laborer, told of what was described as a dying love for Miss Jones. He is said to have either walked or hitched hiked nightly from his community to the home of his beloved Lubertha. It was reported that

to avoid "Balkanization" of our city, Mr. Wilkins said, "public housing will have to be presented in such a way that people will know that housing developments are being used to upgrade neighborhoods instead of condemning them to a rotting death. In these unfortunate confrontations in which intergroup conflicts have played a part, perhaps Mayor-elect Beame ought to call in the private agencies, who have experience in the field. Perhaps we could avoid intergroup flare-ups before they start. There is no substitute for honest and open consultation around a table."
 The hotly debated issue of "quotas," is regarded in the black community, he said, as "a measure of good intentions" to open up new job and educational opportunities and not as a mandatory tool to restrict opportunities of non-black people.

to avoid "Balkanization" of our city, Mr. Wilkins said, "public housing will have to be presented in such a way that people will know that housing developments are being used to upgrade neighborhoods instead of condemning them to a rotting death. In these unfortunate confrontations in which intergroup conflicts have played a part, perhaps Mayor-elect Beame ought to call in the private agencies, who have experience in the field. Perhaps we could avoid intergroup flare-ups before they start. There is no substitute for honest and open consultation around a table."
 The hotly debated issue of "quotas," is regarded in the black community, he said, as "a measure of good intentions" to open up new job and educational opportunities and not as a mandatory tool to restrict opportunities of non-black people.

to avoid "Balkanization" of our city, Mr. Wilkins said, "public housing will have to be presented in such a way that people will know that housing developments are being used to upgrade neighborhoods instead of condemning them to a rotting death. In these unfortunate confrontations in which intergroup conflicts have played a part, perhaps Mayor-elect Beame ought to call in the private agencies, who have experience in the field. Perhaps we could avoid intergroup flare-ups before they start. There is no substitute for honest and open consultation around a table."
 The hotly debated issue of "quotas," is regarded in the black community, he said, as "a measure of good intentions" to open up new job and educational opportunities and not as a mandatory tool to restrict opportunities of non-black people.

to avoid "Balkanization" of our city, Mr. Wilkins said, "public housing will have to be presented in such a way that people will know that housing developments are being used to upgrade neighborhoods instead of condemning them to a rotting death. In these unfortunate confrontations in which intergroup conflicts have played a part, perhaps Mayor-elect Beame ought to call in the private agencies, who have experience in the field. Perhaps we could avoid intergroup flare-ups before they start. There is no substitute for honest and open consultation around a table."
 The hotly debated issue of "quotas," is regarded in the black community, he said, as "a measure of good intentions" to open up new job and educational opportunities and not as a mandatory tool to restrict opportunities of non-black people.

to avoid "Balkanization" of our city, Mr. Wilkins said, "public housing will have to be presented in such a way that people will know that housing developments are being used to upgrade neighborhoods instead of condemning them to a rotting death. In these unfortunate confrontations in which intergroup conflicts have played a part, perhaps Mayor-elect Beame ought to call in the private agencies, who have experience in the field. Perhaps we could avoid intergroup flare-ups before they start. There is no substitute for honest and open consultation around a table."
 The hotly debated issue of "quotas," is regarded in the black community, he said, as "a measure of good intentions" to open up new job and educational opportunities and not as a mandatory tool to restrict opportunities of non-black people.

to avoid "Balkanization" of our city, Mr. Wilkins said, "public housing will have to be presented in such a way that people will know that housing developments are being used to upgrade neighborhoods instead of condemning them to a rotting death. In these unfortunate confrontations in which intergroup conflicts have played a part, perhaps Mayor-elect Beame ought to call in the private agencies, who have experience in the field. Perhaps we could avoid intergroup flare-ups before they start. There is no substitute for honest and open consultation around a table."
 The hotly debated issue of "quotas," is regarded in the black community, he said, as "a measure of good intentions" to open up new job and educational opportunities and not as a mandatory tool to restrict opportunities of non-black people.

to avoid "Balkanization" of our city, Mr. Wilkins said, "public housing will have to be presented in such a way that people will know that housing developments are being used to upgrade neighborhoods instead of condemning them to a rotting death. In these unfortunate confrontations in which intergroup conflicts have played a part, perhaps Mayor-elect Beame ought to call in the private agencies, who have experience in the field. Perhaps we could avoid intergroup flare-ups before they start. There is no substitute for honest and open consultation around a table."
 The hotly debated issue of "quotas," is regarded in the black community, he said, as "a measure of good intentions" to open up new job and educational opportunities and not as a mandatory tool to restrict opportunities of non-black people.

to avoid "Balkanization" of our city, Mr. Wilkins said, "public housing will have to be presented in such a way that people will know that housing developments are being used to upgrade neighborhoods instead of condemning them to a rotting death. In these unfortunate confrontations in which intergroup conflicts have played a part, perhaps Mayor-elect Beame ought to call in the private agencies, who have experience in the field. Perhaps we could avoid intergroup flare-ups before they start. There is no substitute for honest and open consultation around a table."
 The hotly debated issue of "quotas," is regarded in the black community, he said, as "a measure of good intentions" to open up new job and educational opportunities and not as a mandatory tool to restrict opportunities of non-black people.

to avoid "Balkanization" of our city, Mr. Wilkins said, "public housing will have to be presented in such a way that people will know that housing developments are being used to upgrade neighborhoods instead of condemning them to a rotting death. In these unfortunate confrontations in which intergroup conflicts have played a part, perhaps Mayor-elect Beame ought to call in the private agencies, who have experience in the field. Perhaps we could avoid intergroup flare-ups before they start. There is no substitute for honest and open consultation around a table."
 The hotly debated issue of "quotas," is regarded in the black community, he said, as "a measure of good intentions" to open up new job and educational opportunities and not as a mandatory tool to restrict opportunities of non-black people.

to avoid "Balkanization" of our city, Mr. Wilkins said, "public housing will have to be presented in such a way that people will know that housing developments are being used to upgrade neighborhoods instead of condemning them to a rotting death. In these unfortunate confrontations in which intergroup conflicts have played a part, perhaps Mayor-elect Beame ought to call in the private agencies, who have experience in the field. Perhaps we could avoid intergroup flare-ups before they start. There is no substitute for honest and open consultation around a table."
 The hotly debated issue of "quotas," is regarded in the black community, he said, as "a measure of good intentions" to open up new job and educational opportunities and not as a mandatory tool to restrict opportunities of non-black people.

to avoid "Balkanization" of our city, Mr. Wilkins said, "public housing will have to be presented in such a way that people will know that housing developments are being used to upgrade neighborhoods instead of condemning them to a rotting death. In these unfortunate confrontations in which intergroup conflicts have played a part, perhaps Mayor-elect Beame ought to call in the private agencies, who have experience in the field. Perhaps we could avoid intergroup flare-ups before they start. There is no substitute for honest and open consultation around a table."
 The hotly debated issue of "quotas," is regarded in the black community, he said, as "a measure of good intentions" to open up new job and educational opportunities and not as a mandatory tool to restrict opportunities of non-black people.

to avoid "Balkanization" of our city, Mr. Wilkins said, "public housing will have to be presented in such a way that people will know that housing developments are being used to upgrade neighborhoods instead of condemning them to a rotting death. In these unfortunate confrontations in which intergroup conflicts have played a part, perhaps Mayor-elect Beame ought to call in the private agencies, who have experience in the field. Perhaps we could avoid intergroup flare-ups before they start. There is no substitute for honest and open consultation around a table."
 The hotly debated issue of "quotas," is regarded in the black community, he said, as "a measure of good intentions" to open up new job and educational opportunities and not as a mandatory tool to restrict opportunities of non-black people.

to avoid "Balkanization" of our city, Mr. Wilkins said, "public housing will have to be presented in such a way that people will know that housing developments are being used to upgrade neighborhoods instead of condemning them to a rotting death. In these unfortunate confrontations in which intergroup conflicts have played a part, perhaps Mayor-elect Beame ought to call in the private agencies, who have experience in the field. Perhaps we could avoid intergroup flare-ups before they start. There is no substitute for honest and open consultation around a table."
 The hotly debated issue of "quotas," is regarded in the black community, he said, as "a measure of good intentions" to open up new job and educational opportunities and not as a mandatory tool to restrict opportunities of non-black people.

to avoid "Balkanization" of our city, Mr. Wilkins said, "public housing will have to be presented in such a way that people will know that housing developments are being used to upgrade neighborhoods instead of condemning them to a rotting death. In these unfortunate confrontations in which intergroup conflicts have played a part, perhaps Mayor-elect Beame ought to call in the private agencies, who have experience in the field. Perhaps we could avoid intergroup flare-ups before they start. There is no substitute for honest and open consultation around a table."
 The hotly debated issue of "quotas," is regarded in the black community, he said, as "a measure of good intentions" to open up new job and educational opportunities and not as a mandatory tool to restrict opportunities of non-black people.

to avoid "Balkanization" of our city, Mr. Wilkins said, "public housing will have to be presented in such a way that people will know that housing developments are being used to upgrade neighborhoods instead of condemning them to a rotting death. In these unfortunate confrontations in which intergroup conflicts have played a part, perhaps Mayor-elect Beame ought to call in the private agencies, who have experience in the field. Perhaps we could avoid intergroup flare-ups before they start. There is no substitute for honest and open consultation around a table."
 The hotly debated issue of "quotas," is regarded in the black community, he said, as "a measure of good intentions" to open up new job and educational opportunities and not as a mandatory tool to restrict opportunities of non-black people.

to avoid "Balkanization" of our city, Mr. Wilkins said, "public housing will have to be presented in such a way that people will know that housing developments are being used to upgrade neighborhoods instead of condemning them to a rotting death. In these unfortunate confrontations in which intergroup conflicts have played a part, perhaps Mayor-elect Beame ought to call in the private agencies, who have experience in the field. Perhaps we could avoid intergroup flare-ups before they start. There is no substitute for honest and open consultation around a table."
 The hotly debated issue of "quotas," is regarded in the black community, he said, as "a measure of good intentions" to open up new job and educational opportunities and not as a mandatory tool to restrict opportunities of non-black people.

to avoid "Balkanization" of our city, Mr. Wilkins said, "public housing will have to be presented in such a way that people will know that housing developments are being used to upgrade neighborhoods instead of condemning them to a rotting death. In these unfortunate confrontations in which intergroup conflicts have played a part, perhaps Mayor-elect Beame ought to call in the private agencies, who have experience in the field. Perhaps we could avoid intergroup flare-ups before they start. There is no substitute for honest and open consultation around a table."
 The hotly debated issue of "quotas," is regarded in the black community, he said, as "a measure of good intentions" to open up new job and educational opportunities and not as a mandatory tool to restrict opportunities of non-black people.

to avoid "Balkanization" of our city, Mr. Wilkins said, "public housing will have to be presented in such a way that people will know that housing developments are being used to upgrade neighborhoods instead of condemning them to a rotting death. In these unfortunate confrontations in which intergroup conflicts have played a part, perhaps Mayor-elect Beame ought to call in the private agencies, who have experience in the field. Perhaps we could avoid intergroup flare-ups before they start. There is no substitute for honest and open consultation around a table."
 The hotly debated issue of "quotas," is regarded in the black community, he said, as "a measure of good intentions" to open up new job and educational opportunities and not as a mandatory tool to restrict opportunities of non-black people.

to avoid "Balkanization" of our city, Mr. Wilkins said, "public housing will have to be presented in such a way that people will know that housing developments are being used to upgrade neighborhoods instead of condemning them to a rotting death. In these unfortunate confrontations in which intergroup conflicts have played a part, perhaps Mayor-elect Beame ought to call in the private agencies, who have experience in the field. Perhaps we could avoid intergroup flare-ups before they start. There is no substitute for honest and open consultation around a table."
 The hotly debated issue of "quotas," is regarded in the black community, he said, as "a measure of good intentions" to open up new job and educational opportunities and not as a mandatory tool to restrict opportunities of non-black people.

to avoid "Balkanization" of our city, Mr. Wilkins said, "public housing will have to be presented in such a way that people will know that housing developments are being used to upgrade neighborhoods instead of condemning them to a rotting death. In these unfortunate confrontations in which intergroup conflicts have played a part, perhaps Mayor-elect Beame ought to call in the private agencies, who have experience in the field. Perhaps we could avoid intergroup flare-ups before they start. There is no substitute for honest and open consultation around a table."
 The hotly debated issue of "quotas," is regarded in the black community, he said, as "a measure of good intentions" to open up new job and educational opportunities and not as a mandatory tool to restrict opportunities of non-black people.

to avoid "Balkanization" of our city, Mr. Wilkins said, "public housing will have to be presented in such a way that people will know that housing developments are being used to upgrade neighborhoods instead of condemning them to a rotting death. In these unfortunate confrontations in which intergroup conflicts have played a part, perhaps Mayor-elect Beame ought to call in the private agencies, who have experience in the field. Perhaps we could avoid intergroup flare-ups before they start. There is no substitute for honest and open consultation around a table."
 The hotly debated issue of "quotas," is regarded in the black community, he said, as "a measure of good intentions" to open up new job and educational opportunities and not as a mandatory tool to restrict opportunities of non-black people.

to avoid "Balkanization" of our city, Mr. Wilkins said, "public housing will have to be presented in such a way that people will know that housing developments are being used to upgrade neighborhoods instead of condemning them to a rotting death. In these unfortunate confrontations in which intergroup conflicts have played a part, perhaps Mayor-elect Beame ought to call in the private agencies, who have experience in the field. Perhaps we could avoid intergroup flare-ups before they start. There is no substitute for honest and open consultation around a table."
 The hotly debated issue of "quotas," is regarded in the black community, he said, as "a measure of good intentions" to open up new job and educational opportunities and not as a mandatory tool to restrict opportunities of non-black people.

to avoid "Balkanization" of our city, Mr. Wilkins said, "public housing will have to be presented in such a way that people will know that housing developments are being used to upgrade neighborhoods instead of condemning them to a rotting death. In these unfortunate confrontations in which intergroup conflicts have played a part, perhaps Mayor-elect Beame ought to call in the private agencies, who have experience in the field. Perhaps we could avoid intergroup flare-ups before they start. There is no substitute for honest and open consultation around a table."
 The hotly debated issue of "quotas," is regarded in the black community, he said, as "a measure of good intentions" to open up new job and educational opportunities and not as a mandatory tool to restrict opportunities of non-black people.

to avoid "Balkanization" of our city, Mr. Wilkins said, "public housing will have to be presented in such a way that people will know that housing developments are being used to upgrade neighborhoods instead of condemning them to a rotting death. In these unfortunate confrontations in which intergroup conflicts have played a part, perhaps Mayor-elect Beame ought to call in the private agencies, who have experience in the field. Perhaps we could avoid intergroup flare-ups before they start. There is no substitute for honest and open consultation around a table."
 The hotly debated issue of "quotas," is regarded in the black community, he said, as "a measure of good intentions" to open up new job and educational opportunities and not as a mandatory tool to restrict opportunities of non-black people.

Dunn

BY MRS. M. B. HARGROVE
 DUNN - On Sunday, Dec. 16, Pastoral Day was observed at Dunn Chapel F.W.B. Church with Bishop M. McLean, pastor, bringing the message. It was entitled, No Room In The Inn.
 At 11 a.m., the gospel chorus No. 1 rendered music, under the direction of Mrs. Annie M. Raye, president. Accompanying the pastor were Eldress Betty Clark and Rev. Sis. Mary Johnson of Evening Star Holy Church. Collection realized was almost $200 and the public collectors were Deacons Sidney Massey, Alonzo Russell and trustee W. D. Dafford.
 The pastor entertained his members and their friends Sunday evening in the Fellowship Hall with an appropriate yuletide program and delicious repast. The welcome was given by Mrs. C. C. Raye, Sr.; reading by Mrs. F. S. Dafford and Mrs. E. M. Minter; talks by Elders Hattie Elliott and E. Clement; solo by Mrs. Valencia Crossland; hospitality Mrs. Elizabeth McNeill, hostesses, Mothers Rosa L. McKoy and

We Have Moved

ACME REALTY CO.
 131 E. Hargett St.

REAL ESTATE RENTALS-BUILDING AND REPAIRS-PROPERTY MANAGEMENT

INSURANCE FIRE-HOME-AUTOMOBILE AND WINDSTORM

Call Us For Information

ACME REALTY CO.

131 E. Hargett St. Phone 832-0956 Raleigh, N.C.

Governor's Club

If you like a blend ...this is it!

FIFTH 390

1/2 GAL. 935 PINT 250

permeates every aspect of our arrangements, from the first sympathetic response to your call, to the final tribute for the departed. We draw upon our faith for the consolation of those we serve.

HAYWOOD FUNERAL HOME, INC

Over a half century of service to Raleigh and community

Raleigh Mutual Burial Association
 Low cost funeral insurance available
 322 E. CABARRUS ST.—PHONE 832-2825

By the way...

by Joe Black

I've had a few comments to make about this subject before. But it seems to me it's time to discuss it again. Because, as always, it's time to do something about it.

I'm talking about the Haves and the Have-nots. The Blacks who have it made. And the Blacks who haven't. Yet. And that's an important word. Yet. Simply because, someday, we'll see more of us who have, than have-not.

We've all been patient for a long time, waiting for that better day. Let's all stop for a moment and think.

For many of us, that better day has dawned. It's here. Now. And I'm not just talking about all of our Superstars.

I'm talking, this time, about Mr. and Mrs. Average Black Citizen.

But I wonder, just how many of us are really handling the added responsibilities of being there? Not the least of which, of course, is holding out our hands to help our less fortunate brothers and sisters.

For many Blacks today, it's time to put some money where our mouths are.

After all, to have gotten to where we are, today's Haves haven't had a lot of time to waste.

Now that we're there, there's no time to waste on indifference to the rest of our brothers and sisters.

Joe Black
 Vice President
 The Greyhound Corporation

Smile. You're on long distance.

A long distance call is the warmest way to keep in touch. And remember—you'll save up to 50% of the low evening rate if you dial direct without an operator's assistance. Share a smile. Tonight.

EVERYTHING FOR...

BUILDING
REMODELING
REPAIRING
LUMBER
MILLWORK
ATHEY'S PAINTS
BUILDING MATERIALS
RUSSWIN HARDWARE
 At Our New Location On
RALEIGH BELTLINE

Carolina Builders Corp.

Between U.S. 1 and 64
 Ph. 828-7471-Raleigh, N.C.

BRAGGING?

Yes, but with good reason and cold and personal research proves one can make $364 in 8 days on $2000 investment decision with certainty the decision will be right 96.7 percent of the time. For details write: P. O. Box 19121, Raleigh, N. C. 27609.

If you're looking for low monthly payments, you should look at KINGWOOD

CALL 828-0538

A. BARNES

(Continued from page 1)
 presiding elder and top administrator, styles it as the symbolic project of real Christian service, in the community.
 There is also a matter of vast importance, which involves some land, owned by the Central N.C. Conference, located in Harnett and Moore Counties. It is near Ft. Bragg and is adjacent to one of the most promising recreational projects, between Washington and Florida. It is alleged that its development plans call for a "Surf City."

White developers bill the island as "The Western Hemisphere's Riviera," and land purchased for $1,000 per acre now sells for prices approaching $100 per square inch.
 "Developers were often aided in their efforts to obtain land through bogus condemnation proceedings and questionable land sales," Washington said.

White developers bill the island as "The Western Hemisphere's Riviera," and land purchased for $1,000 per acre now sells for prices approaching $100 per square inch.
 "Developers were often aided in their efforts to obtain land through bogus condemnation proceedings and questionable land sales," Washington said.

White developers bill the island as "The Western Hemisphere's Riviera," and land purchased for $1,000 per acre now sells for prices approaching $100 per square inch.
 "Developers were often aided in their efforts to obtain land through bogus condemnation proceedings and questionable land sales," Washington said.

White developers bill the island as "The Western Hemisphere's Riviera," and land purchased for $1,000 per acre now sells for prices approaching $100 per square inch.
 "Developers were often aided in their efforts to obtain land through bogus condemnation proceedings and questionable land sales," Washington said.