"Don't assume that persons living in ghettoes, and on welfare, don't have certain dynamics going for them that are real," said Heslip "Happy" Lee, program officer, Southern Regional Council, Atlanta, Georgia, told policemen attending the seminar at St. Augustine's College Monday, Jan. 28. "In many, finany instances," he said, "these people had something going that does not happen in a wider society." Lee said that society in the South had programmed white Anglo-Saxon protestants to exclude Catholics, Jews, Yankies, Foreigners, Feds, Japs. Wops, half breeds, Republicans and blacks. This brainwashing, he termed, was a Greek Tragedy - American style. "We built this into our political, economic, religious and whole culture. It's a wonder that we don't have a whole element being upitialt, worse than they are.
"You have come in a era of social change However, there are certain number of people, by their nature, do not have the sources to make changes, and who will not accept change." He said. "I hope that you have realized that you cannot change the social revolution." Lee said that suddenly through radio and TV, we are thrown in a world of Catholics, Jews, Japs and etc., and we are now one world.

Speaking on law and order, he said that administrators, who make the rules for law and order, do not uphold them, such as the zoners and realtors. He (See DYNAMICS IN. P. 2)

Michaux Promises To Help

DURHAM - Attorney Eric C. Michaux, 32, recently appointed to the N. C. Board of Law Examiners, in a recent statement to the public, pledged to give a hard look at the work of the examiners and to do what he could to improve the image. His appointment was announced last week by the North Carolina State Bar Association.

He becomes the first black on the controversial board. It has been the object of much black criticism because of what many described as being unfair to black law graduates, seeking the right to practice law in N.C.

There have been many who could not understand how so many blacks flunked state examinations, whether they finished N.C. Central of UNC law schools. The fact that white candidates, who finished along with failing blacks, were admitted, has also been claimed. There has been conjecture that the board had a quota.

Mr. Michaux was careful not to make it annear that his

Mr. Michaux was careful not to make it appear that his presence would insure any change in examinations procedure. He made it appear, however, that he would take a close look at what has been going on.

Efforts Are Blasted By Attorney

WASHINGTON - The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, strongly opposed proposed Congressional legislation that would cut the number of jurors required for certain cases to six and eliminate three-judge Federal courts in other actions. Speaking against the bills before a House Judiciary Subcommittee on Jan. 23, NAACP General Counsel Nathaniel E. Jones, stated that the two proposed changes in the judicial process would be most harmful to black people. Clarence Mitchell, NAACP Washington Bureau director, told the Subcommittee on Courts, Civil Liberties and the Administration of Justice, that his organization is opposed to seemingly innocuous "judicial reform" proposals that threren the rights of Negroes. One of the bills, H.R. 2825, would amend the Federal statutes to provide for half the (See NAACP AGAINST, P. 2)

NC Rep. Joy J. Johnson Has Sterilization Bill

Rep Joy J Johnson (D-Robeson), introduced a bill into the North Carolina House of Representatives on Tuesday, Jan. 29, which would make it unlawful for the sterilization of mainly retarded and mentally defective, young men and women in the state, without their consent.

A black lawmaker, Rep Johnson's bill is House Bill No. 1466, in which involuntary sterilization would be prohibited. The bill would require the state and the Eugenics Commission to cease from ordering without the consent of the patient in writing, parental consent, plus the recommendation of a family physician or any two other doctors, in case the patient 'ns no family physician.

Rep. Johnson pointed out that from 1966-88, out of 290 persons sterilized, 96 were Caucasians, 6 Indians, and 188 blacks in the State of North Carolina. He also pointed up the fact that from 1964 to 1973, 1,237 persons were sterilized. Out of this number, 1,229 were lemales and 3 were males.

At this present time, there are two suits, each asking $1 million from North Carolina, women now living in New York, both of whom were sterilized at very young ages.
Miss Elaine Trent of Edenton was 14 years old when she was reportedly subjected to the operation in 1968, and Miss Ruth Cox, also a native of this state, underwent sterilization in 1965.
The suits were tiled by the

Mr. Knight will give the details of his position on underemployment of minorities in the city of Raleigh According to a recent press release, of 38 top level administrative positions in city government, only two are black; while in fact, there are no black administrators except the Mayor and Councilman Knight. The Raleigh Police Department has one black lieutenant and of 51 captains in the Raleigh Fire Department, only one is black.

Miss Beverly Mitchell, associate executive director of the Raleigh Community Relations Commission, and president of the North Carolina Association of Human Relations Officials, has approached the problem of minority hiring from another angle - an angle which seemed to stress "women" as being bypassed in city employment practices, more pointedly.

Soul City Religious BodyNamed

SOUL CITY A new, interdenominational organization will be established to plan, develop, and operate a program for the religious life of the developing new town of Soul City, North Carolina. The group, which it was agreed to create at the end of a three-day conference held in Soul City and in nearby Henderson last week, will be made up of three equal components: representatives of church officials of the participating denominations, representatives of area residents. The new group, as a whole, will meet at Soul City staff and residents, and representatives of area residents. The new group, as a whole, will meet at Soul City shortly to begin its consideration of specific ways to enhance the religious life and human services for the residents of the new town and the surrounding area (Warren and Vance Counties).

The conference, held Jan. 22-24, was designed to increase the awareness of the numistry (See SOUL CITY, P. 2)

Sees Greater Interest In History Week

History Week

WASHINGTON, D. C.

"Greater interest is being expressed in the annual observance of African-American History Week, this year than ever before in the 48 years of the celebration." Dr. J. Rupert Picott, executive direction for the Study of Afro-American Life and History, announced this week from the Association's headquarters in the nation's capital. In his statement outlining the purposes and plans of the celebration, being held Feb. 10-16, Dr. Picott pointed out that the week's theme. "The Black Experience, 1974: Helping America Understand," has been highly priased by state governors and city mayors in proclamations being issued by these c h i e f executives throughout the United States.

The 1974 History Week Kit, which is available from the Association's headquarters, 1407 14th Street, NW, Washington, D.C. 20005, includes a wide variety of materials which support the celebration's overall theme and sub-themes, which follow:
