MS. BULLOCK
M.A. degree from Syracuse University, Syracuse, N.Y., 1958. She has done further study in painting and graphics at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill.

Ms. Bullock has taught art for 19 years in the Raleigh Public Schools. In addition, she has taught part-time at K.C. Central University and summer sessions at Fayetteville State University.

A one-woman show of her summer work in painting was exhibited at UNC-Chapel Hill Student Union in 1970. She was exhibited in many group shows including the Thirty Fourth North Carolina Artists Annual at the State Art Museum in 1971-72; the student unions at Duke University, 1972; North Carolina Central University, 1972; University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill, 1973; and the North Carolina State Fair, 1973.

Acrylics, pen and ink and collage techniques have been her primary mediums with a varied subject matter ranging from abstract figurative to social commentary expressions to non-objective collages or contoured canvases dealing with pure form and color.

This lady has at first made some very compelling art studies. Her aim is to attempt to translate as faithfully as possible the spirit of our time, the thoughts of her contemporaries, their dreams, their hopes and their sufferings. It is created through acrylic paintings, collage techniques, pen and ink, and pencil. While dealing with a figurative theme, she arrives by combinations of lines and of curves, by contrasts of light and shadows to create a work very near the abstract.

Her most recent art show was: Durham Chautauque: The Black Man in Art, sponsored by the Durham County Library, Aug. 22-Sept. 21; organized by Prof. Norman E. Pendergraft, in cooperation with the staff of the Durham County Library. Formal opening: Aug. 29, 7-9 p.m.; exhibition hours: Monday-Saturday, 2:30-4:30 p.m.

APPRECIATION

the advertisement, paid for by Security Meat Market and Food Stamp Center, 129 E. Martin Street, where the motto is "The Best Meats For Less Cash."

Ms. Debbie Manning, 533 Grantland Drive in the Apollo Heights section of Raleigh, spotted her name in Pine Drug Company's advertisement. Pine Drug is located at 300 W. South Street, from 8:30 a.m. until 7 p.m., Monday through Friday, and from 8:30 until 6 p.m. on Saturday. The company specializes in a special variety of black greeting cards, and handles prescriptions with free delivery added.

It is important that persons feeling their names in the advertising slots, not go to the place of business, but COME FIRST TO THE CAROLINIAN TO HAVE YOUR NAME VERIFIED. OTHERWISE, YOU WILL NOT GET THE $10 CHECK. THIS IS VERY IMPORTANT.

JAILED IN

with a deadly weapon rap, after he allegedly shot Mr. Vinson in the right cheek with a .32 calibre pistol. The shooting is said to have occurred outside Vinson's house. Dew was free on bail the same day.

This story unfolds as Mr. Dew allegedly became chagrined at Mr. Vinson because he refused to march against John Gatling, white landlord, who is said to have unsafe dwellings in this block of S. Bloodworth.

12 gauge shotgun. He then told Bobby Dew that he had something that would shoot, also. It was not learned at which hospital Vinson was treated.

In a related case, marchers were out last weekend, protesting about L. W. Bowden, owner of a tin shop on S. Bloodworth, and according to Patrick Henry Bryant, leader of the Raleigh Tenants' Organization, Bowden refuses to fix up the two houses on that street, reportedly belonging to him.

Bryant and his followers picketed Bowden's shop, although a Raleigh police officer was on the scene. The cop told this newsman that he would not make any arrests. The Bryant-led picketing went on for some 2 hours, undisturbed.

Bobby Rayford Dew, the alleged shooter, will face a Wake County District Judge later this month to learn of his fate.

MOTHER SAYS
Stout told how, when he turned the ignition on, there was a blast, causing him these multiple injuries. With no one in sight, he said he had peace of mind to keep his mouth open and to yell as loudly as possible. He also said that he knew he had to extricate himself, and with only a small muscle, holding his right leg, he rolled out on the side. His wife was the first to reach him. Still conscious, he told her what to do. She complied and in a few minutes, police arrived on the scene and found him lying on the ground.

The victim told the attendant of the ambulance to get a knife and cut that thin muscle that was left on his right leg. The attendant was in on the interview and said that it was the first time he had been in the black community and could not find a knife. Stout replied "That was the only thing I forgot. I had one lost in the rubble, in front of the right front seat."

The interview included the parents of the victim. His mother said that even though her son had gone through a terrible ordeal and the family suffered much anticipation and anguish, she felt that God was in the whole thing and that it was His way of focusing attention on the bad affect the drug traffic had on people. She was more disturbed over the fact that anyone could hate so badly until they would perpetrate such an atrocious crime, on a human being.

Mrs. Stout also said, "We've got nobody to thank but the Master. It was God who sustained Albert Junior and he has sustained us."

"He was with Albert Junior yesterday. Luck had nothing to do with Albert Junior being alive. It's God who did it. We can truly say God has been good to us," Mrs. Stout said.

"We're not minimizing this, but our only interest right now is the welfare of Albert Junior."

"We are so appreciative of all the kindnesses people have done us. We learned early in life that if you want friends, you have to be friendly."

"It's Albert Junior who is sustaining us now," she said. The father said that he was consoled in the fact that top state officials, along with city and county officials, had shown so much interest in Albert, Jr. "It is an expression of the interest they have in mankind," he said. He praised Governor Holshouser for coming to see his son and was highly appreciative of the encouraging expressions that came from the state's chief executive.

Mr. Stout, Sr., was loud in his praise for SBI director, Charles Dunn, who took over, personally, in the investigation and has virtually lived in Salisbury since the unfortunate incident happened. He also said that local enforcement officers left no stone unturned in their attempt to bring the guilty persons to justice.

Speculation has it that the violent act was done by a person, or persons, who might have been motivated by the fact that the victim has been quite active in rounding up known violators of the law. Many of them were charged with being involved in illegal dope operations.

According to reports, released by local law enforcement officers, all of the persons, arrested and charged, ed, are said to be from Charlotte and have previous drug violation records, one woman, Mrs. Jeanette Grier and three men, James Saunders, Jule Hutton, Otis James Blackmon. All are being held under $400,000 bond. However, Blackman is being held on another $100,000 bond, due to the fact that he is said to have had heroin on him when arrested. A search is on for a fifth.

The Stout family is well-known in the Salisbury area. Mr. Stout, Sr., is prominent in both church and fraternal circles. He is quite active in the A.M.E. Zion Church, locally and nationally. The victim spent 3 years in the armed services, with much of it being with Intelligence.

COP BRUTALITY

happened to pass and asked what was happening. According to assistant police chief Perry, Baker was advised to "move on." When Baker refused to move on, more help was called.

Officers Whitley and Hicks responded. About the same time, the officers arrived, a group of 6 or 8 blacks arrived. Officer Whitley agreed that he had his back to Officer Hicks and Teddy Baker and did not see what went on. He also said that he was trying to be sure that none of the 6 or 8 blacks interfered with Officer Hicks in the process (We assume that being an officer, he held a gun on them).

While Officer Hicks could not be reached for an interview, Teddy Baker gave his version. He saw his brother's car stopped. He stopped to see what the trouble was. He had heralded no epithets, he said, of any kind at the time. He was then thrown against the police car and hit on top of the head and in the stomach with the night stick.

At one time, after he was first struck by the officer, he ran, but was ordered to halt. He came back, was arrested, carried to the Zebulon City Hall, perhaps for booking. He was first taken to the Wendell-Zebulon Branch of Wake Memorial and given a little help in the form of a small piece of bandage to catch the stream of blood pouring down his face and neck.

While taken to Wake Memorial Hospital in Raleigh, where his head was bound securely and all parties ended up at the Magistrate's office in the basement of Wake County Courthouse in Raleigh.

Teddy Baker reported that the case has been set for Wendell on Sept. 27.

MRS. MCLAURIN

Above is the picture of Mrs. W. McLaurin, one of the fountainheads at McLaurin Charcoal Flame Restaurant, S. Wilmington St. Smiling, efficient and unusually friendly, one look will convince you that she knows her job.

One Gladys Jones will be on display with her turkey and all the trimmings at the Elks Home Saturday, beginning at 11:30 a.m. You bet I'll be there!

I felt real bad for Lillian Barker recently. She wanted to get in the kitchen so badly that when I saw her last, she was washing dishes. I heard that Martha Rivers' work in the kitchen and the overall hospitality of the Fidelity Lodge and Capital City Temple, got them in "big trouble." They are going to host the mid-year conference.

Raleigh Post Office Starts New Program

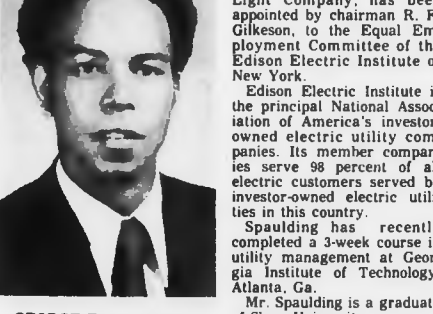

BY WILBERT M. SANDERS

The Raleigh Post Office has initiated a program to help students who are in need of financial aid.

Anyone who is interested in learning more about this program should contact W. W. Jones, Jr., superintendent of P.E.D.C. at the Raleigh main Post Office.

People who are hired under this new program, are classified as postal assistants. The jobs are usually on a part-time basis.

However, many students have been known to work full time and completed four years of college. Mr. Jones is

GEORGE F. SPAULDING

CP&L's Geo. Spaulding Named To Edison Electric Institute's E. E. Body

George F. Spaulding, community relations representative for Carolina Power and Light Company, has been appointed by chairman R. F. Gilkeson, to the Equal Employment Committee of the Edison Electric Institute of New York.

Edison Electric Institute is the principal National Association of America's investor-owned electric utility companies. Its member companies serve 98 percent of all electric customers served by investor-owned electric utilities in this country.

Spaulding has recently completed a 3-week course in utility management at Georgia Institute of Technology, Atlanta, Ga.

Mr. Spaulding is a graduate of Shaw University.

AAUW Shares Honors For Two Presidents

Two presidents, whose terms are separated by nearly 20 years shared honors Saturday, Sept. 14, when the American Association of University Women, held its opening meeting at 10 a.m. at the YWCA, 554 E. Hargett Street.

Miss Mae Grimmer, president of the organization in the 1950s, and Mrs. Carl Hughes, who is beginning her 4th year as president, were honored in a special ceremony. The two have had named gifts sent in their names to the national AAUW fellowship fund.

The brunch, which is open to the public, will have as its theme, "Let's Get Involved."

"We are going to show our members and guests what broad areas of involvement are available through AAUW," explained Mrs. H. H. Webb, program vice president who is in charge of the meeting.

These broad areas include Dynamic Learning or Releasing Human Potential; Global Independence, Budgeting for Earth; Media, Issues in Communications; and Woman Searching for Self.

NAACP GRASS ROOTS

BY MALCOLM (PETER) STANFORD

The North Carolina State Conference of Branches NAACP's first annual Hargett Bureau's Banquet, will be held Jan. 25, 1975 at the Royal Villa Convention Center, 6339 Glenwood Avenue, Raleigh.

The theme of the banquet is "Awareness" bringing together the representatives and their constituency of various voting districts throughout the state and the NAACP leadership. The entire program will have statewide and national coverage.

Banquet tickets (RSVP) are on sale. For further information, please contact the Raleigh Bureau director, Malcolm Stanford at 833-8892.

This is the first time any group has brought together (in a non-partisan way) state elected officials, state leadership and their voting constituency in an informal way for the purpose of sharing viewpoints, needs and aspirations.

Participants included Mrs. Leona B. Daniel, Mrs. Marita H. Kennihan, Mrs. Charles Benrud.
