BURN WAY THROUGH ROOF — New York — A band of professional safecrackers, bypassing an intricate alarm system, burned their way through the roof of a thick steel vault (top center) in a city office, commandeered three Wells Fargo trucks and escaped with three tons of coins worth an estimated $127,000. Police said the burglars removed 65 bags of coins and 105 padlocked canisters whose contents would have been counted Feb. 10, by the 50-man staff of the city's Finance Administration's Parking Meter Division. The emptied canisters, their snipped locks on the desk at center, are shown in bottom photo. (UPI)

Black Forsyth Legislator Backs Rehabilitation Of All Prisoners

The CAROLINIAN made the rounds of the General Assembly Monday and Tuesday. Most of the small rooms that house the solons in the Legislative Building were empty. The consensus was that most of them leave early Friday afternoon and return late Monday afternoon. This is believed due to the fact that the Monday session is held at night and the Friday session, if held, is in the morning.

The CAROLINIAN representative returned Tuesday afternoon, following the scheduled opening of the Tuesday session and found that it had adjourned and committees were meeting. It was learned that the White resolution passed the third reading Monday night, thereby being ratified.

Representative Richard C. Erwin, Forsyth, made his position clear on the proposed correction laws. The Winston-Salem lawyer felt that our present laws dealt more with punishment than rehabilitation. He said the committee handling the proposed legislation should study the circumstances surrounding crime and then make, or propose, laws that would attempt to rehabilitate the convicted law-breaker as soon as possible.

He felt that even though there is the hue and cry about penal institutions being overcrowded, that additional build-out would attempt to rehabilitate the convicted law-breaker as soon as possible.

2 Muslims Charged In Death Of Inmate

PHILADELPHIA, Pa. — Philadelphia law enforcement officials have charged two men convicted of murder in the 1973 slaying of 7 Hanafi (Orthodox) Muslims with the Dec. 31 murder of a fellow suspect, who had turned government witness.

Theodore Moody, a Black Muslim and one of those convicted, was charged with murder and conspiracy to commit murder in the hanging death of James H. Price inside the Holmesburg Prison. Moody is serving a life term.

The other man is John Griffin, also a Black Muslim, who has been charged in a warrant with the Price murder.

A third man, Theodore Brown, has been named in the warrant. He has been described as "a member of the same gang" who already was in prison when the Hanafi murders occurred. Price and Moody were cellmates at Holmesburg and were confined to a "security" cell.

Gave False Information At Attica

NATIONAL BLACK NEWS SERVICE BUFFALO — Charles "Flip" Crowley, a key prosecution witness against five Attica Brothers accused of murder and kidnaping, testified here last week that he had lied and given false testimony to the Grand Jury investigating the September 1971 Attica Prison revolt, because he had been threatened, beaten and tortured by New York State police and prison guards.

Crowley, who is black and a former Attica inmate, told a hushed courtroom at a pretrial hearing that the torture was so severe "I was ready to testify against my mama." He is now on parole.

He described the experience as "the most intense terror I have ever known...I knew the things that I was saying were untrue. I knew that I was lying," he said.

At Attica, Crowley served as an elected representative of the prisoners of the E-block during the uprising and made a

Banquet Orator In 'Bull City'

DURHAM — Vernon Jordan, Jr., who heads the National Urban League, told about 1,000 persons from all walks of the Durham community, including several whites, who assembled at White Rock Baptist Church, at 5 p.m. Sunday, to honor Nathan T. Garrett for services rendered, that even though he was not satisfied with some of the things President Ford had done and was utterly disgusted at a Democratic Congress, that much can be done in the black community, by blacks, to improve their conditions.

He began by rapping Ford for his inept handling of the Boston situation and his failure to use the kind influences of his high office to hit inflation and recession directly in the face. He was not too interested in oil imports or energy squabbles. He showed quite a concern for directed energy toward the black community. He threw a broadside at Congress for dilly-dallying with proposals that tended to feed the hungry, cure the sick and clothe the naked.

He took a crack at black leaders who put themselves beyond the real issues, making them "showers" instead of achievement. He called upon black elected officials to not become so enshrined in being on this or that committee that they forget to remember the promises made to the electorate.

Jordan was quite concerned about activity by blacks in community development. He told the audience that communities make up the county, counties make up the state and the states make up the nation. He was sure that if action is started in the community and properly nourished, it would be
