Blacks Honor Governor

Raleigh's first black mayor, Clarence Everett Lightner, will not be reelected. He won't even be in the running since he placed third in a three-way race for the top municipal post won by two white men, one a current member of the Raleigh City Council and the other a former state legislator. They are J. Oliver Williams and Jyles J. Coggins.

The former lawmaker for the state, Coggins led in the large voter turnout of 23,387 voters, 33 percent of the total, with (See LIGHTNER IS, P. 2)

Claims Of EEOC Are Considered

CHARLOTTE — The Equal Employment Opportunities Commission, filed a suit in the U.S. District Court in Charlotte last week against the Westinghouse Electric Corp.'s nuclear turbine plants in Winston-Salem and Charlotte.

EEOC alleges racial and religious discrimination and is seeking back pay at least to 1973, for the several hundred people involved.

The suit charges that since July 2, 1965, Westinghouse has intentionally engaged in unlawful hiring practices. The suit states that the company has failed to hire blacks on equal terms with whites on the basis of their race, and with refusing to hire applicants on the basis of their religion.

In addition, the suit asks for such "further relief as the court deems necessary and (See EEOC CLAIMS, P. 2)

Among 3 Honored In Capitol

WASHINGTON, D.C. — Gov. James E. Holshouser, Jr., the first Republican to be elected governor in 75 years in North Carolina, was one of the honorees of National Honors Night, in Washington, Oct. 4, at the Washington Hilton Hotel.

Governor Holshouser is said to have done more in three years to bring dignity to blacks (See HOLSHOUSE, P. 2)

3 Blacks Elected In Durham

DURHAM — The black vote in Durham outdid itself Tuesday when it elected three people to the first elected board of education outright and put another within 40 votes of winning, giving them control of the city's educational system. The blacks also placed third at the top for the councilman-at-large seats.

Dr. C. E. Boulware, seeking a third term, led the field of 8 candidates, with 4,435 votes. Hawkins, a newcomer to seek office, placed second with 3,331 votes. Mrs. Josephine Turner, making a second try, garnered 3,258. This means that the 3 blacks qualified for the general election, Nov. 7.

The race for the school board was a surprise to the entire populace. The only two of the incumbent members, Mrs. Josephine Clement and Dr. T. R. Speigner, led the ticket. Dr. T. B. Bass, local dentist, came in third, assuring the fact that the majority of the 5-man board would be black. John Lennon, also a first-timer, (See IN DURHAM, P. 2)

Life Of Murderer Is Spared

NASSAU, Bahamas — Even though a Bahamian government official, Cyril Stevenson, said here Monday, when announcing that Michiah Shobek, a confessed slayer from Milwaukee, Wis., USA, had been snatched from a hangman's noose, when Darrell Rolfe, Bahamian Minister of Home Affairs, granted a delay in the execution, slated for 8:00 a.m., Tuesday, the condemned man would have been declared a lunatic and committed to an asylum.

"We are not like the United States," said Stevenson. "You would have said Shobek was a lunatic and put him in an asylum and let him out in 6 months to kill some other people.

"We don't do that here. We figure all criminals are sick. If you're in the Bahamas and you're loony, then you'd better be good and loony, you know what I mean?"

Shobek, 20, was charged with killing three fellow tourists in 1973 and '74. He is alleged to have testified that he was told by God to kill the trio because they were "the angels of Lucifer." It was not revealed why he had such an odd name for an American Negro. It was assumed that he adopted the name from the same motivation that caused him to say he was told, "by my father God" to kill the men.

His mother, Mrs. Juanita Spencer, said in her Wisconsin town that she had sought the help of President Ford and many other government officials, including Senator Edward Brooke. The stay is said to have been granted when representatives of the United (See GOD TOLD, P. 2)

Ex-Deputy Sheriff Charged With Striking Suspect In Shoplifting

BEAUMONT, Texas — A former Orange County, Texas, deputy sheriff was indicted by a federal grand jury last week on charges of striking a shoplifting suspect and attempting to prevent a witness from giving information to the Department of Justice.

Attorney General Edward H. Levi said a two-count indictment was returned in U.S. District Court in Beaumont, Texas, against James E. Robinson.

One count charged Robinson with striking Warren M. Shilo on July 15, 1974, violating his constitutional right not to be deprived of liberty without due process of law.

The incident occurred when Robinson arrested Shilo at a grocery store in Orange, Texas, where Robinson was employed as a guard in his off-duty hours.

The second count charged Robinson with stating to Hoxie Tager on Sept. 1, 1974, that "there had better not be anybody over there who would testify against me if it went to court," thus attempting to prevent the communication of information relating to a criminal law violation to Justice Department attorneys. The maximum penalties upon conviction are:

Deprivation of rights (18 U.S. Code 242), one year in prison and a $1,000 fine; and obstruction of criminal investigations (18 U.S. Code 1510), five years in prison and a $5,000 fine.

'Don't Bend With Wind:' Educator

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. — Even though no direct mention was made Monday, Dr. Walter J. Leonard told a group attending the meeting of the Association of Governing Boards of Universities and Colleges, meeting in the Radisson-South Hotel, of the controversy over the placing of the Veterinarian School in North Carolina, at N.C. State University, Raleigh, N.C., instead of at A&T University, located in Greensboro, in the same state.

Dr. Leonard, special assistant to the president of Harvard University, considered one of the foremost black educators in the nation, took many pot shots at the heart of quality education. He was highly critical of the treatment given blacks and women in the whole scheme now being used in the operation of quality education. He warned that blacks and even white women are still the victims of that traditional American way of life — the only free people in our society are white males and black women.

He alluded to the fact that even though HEW is supposed to see that federal funds are only given to those schools which conform to the guide- (See DON'T BEND, P. 2)

MITCHELL WAVES TO BE HEARD — United Nations: Clarence Mitchell, an NAACP official and member of the U.S. delegation, waves an identification sign in an attempt to get the attention of the president of the U.N. General Assembly in order to respond to an attack on U.S. Amb. Daniel P. Moynihan by the ambassador from Dahomey, Tiansous Adjibade. The African leader, Oct. 6, denounced Moynihan for calling Ugandan Pres. Idi Amin a "racist murderer." Mitchell said the Dahomey ambassador's remarks were out of order because Moynihan's remarks were made outside the United Nations and Mitchell himself declared Amin's speech was a "horrible attack" on a large part of the U.S. population—the Jews.
